Lawyer Held For Hiring Wife-Killer

Police Claim He Hoped To Collect Insurance Fortune

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—An investigation into the slaying of a St. Paul housewife whose life was insured for more than a million dollars took a sensational turn Friday when police arrested her husband, a St. Paul criminal lawyer.

T. Eugene Thompson, 35, was arrested at a summer home near St. Paul about 2 a.m., after a Minneapolis man, already under indictment in the slaying, gave police a statement. The warrant charged premeditated murder.

"It was murder for profit," said Police Chief Lester McAuliff. He added that the Minneapolis man, Dick W. C. Anderson, 35, a salesman, "admitted he committed the murder—and admits his entire part" in the killing.

Thompson appeared in Municipal Court and demanded preliminary hearing, which was set for next Friday. Judge J. Clifford Janes fixed bail at $100,000. Thompson was returned to the county jail when bail was not immediately furnished.

The case is expected to be presented to a grand jury Tuesday.

Mrs. Thompson, 34, a mother of four, was beaten and stabbed in the couple's fashionable home March 6. Her children had gone to school and Thompson had left for his law office.

Bloodstains indicated that Mrs. Thompson had put up a struggle for her life. So savage was the beating with the butt of a pistol that the plastic grip on one side of the weapon dislodged. A piece from the cartridge magazine lock also was broken off.

The pieces, found in the home, led eventually to the arrests.

Mrs. Thompson also was stabbed in the throat. Surgeons trying to save her life found a paring knife blade in the wound. The handle of the knife, from the Thompson kitchen, was found in the home.

Thompson made no formal statement at police headquarters, but told police he would have come in voluntarily if he had known they wanted him.

In mid-May Thompson said he had filed "proof of loss" with six insurance firms carrying policies on Mrs. Thompson totaling $1,060,000. He had issued a statement earlier explaining that his income and an inheritance permitted him and his wife to carry considerable insurance.

New Italian Cabinet Named By Premier

ROME (UPI)—Premier Giovanni Leone formed a one-party "administrative" government of Christian Democrats Friday night in an effort to lift Italy from the depths of a 36-day crisis.

The cabinet will be sworn in Saturday and will meet President Kennedy when he visits Italy June 30, although it is unlikely it would have won a parliamentary confidence vote by then — if it ever does.

If the parliament votes the new cabinet down, the chances are President Antonio Segni will dissolve the chamber and senate, elected less than two months ago, and call Italians to the polls again in a dangerous test of strength against the expanding Communists.

Leone, acting with record speed handed the list of his cabinet ministers to Segni 52 hours after the chief of state designated him as premier Wednesday. He had formally accepted the premiership Thursday night.

Segni then officially accepted the resignation tendered May 16 by Premier Amintore Fanfani and signed decrees appointing the new premier and ministers.

The new government, composed only of Christian Democrats, lacks a majority in parliament and can survive confidence tests in the chamber and senate only with the help of other groups. Such help appeared doubtful.

Cuba Commando Thrust Termed Minor Affair

U.S., Exile Group Belittle Operation Of Revolutionaries

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Both the State Department and a rival exile group Friday belittled the Cuban Revolutionary Council's commando thrust inside Cuba as a minor and harmful operation.

The State Department said the council may have put a few men ashore and it criticized "inaccurate" statements that "deceive and frustrate the hopes of anti-Castro elements" inside Cuba.

And the Revolutionary Unity Movement—UR—a large anti-Castro group which pulled out of the council last April, called the operation a publicity stunt.

The UR said its checks with the Cuban underground showed that the council operation was nothing but "a minor activity by a handful of men."

"The UR decries uncoordinated, haphazard raids made for obvious publicity purposes," the statement said. "These activities hamper major coordinated operations of the organized underground forces carrying the true load of the Cuban struggle.

"They also jeopardize the collection of intelligence leading to accurate denouncements of free world sea trade with Communist Cuba and of Soviet military personnel and equipment entrenched on the island."

The council backed down Friday after saying that a broadcast from inside Cuba came from its own commandos.

Unions Pledge End To Racial Discrimination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eighteen AFL-CIO building trade unions Friday adopted a four-point program designed to halt discrimination in apprentice training and job referrals in the construction industry.

Presidents of the 18 unions pledged in "good faith" to work toward elmination of any racial restrictions in local unions.

Their four-point policy statement contained no penalties for violations. A spokesman said it would be left up to each union to decide how to attack any discrimination on building jobs. Revocation of a local union charter might be one possible enforcement measure, the spokesman said.

The program, adopted unanimously by the craft union leaders, made the following points:

—Local unions were urged to accept as members any applicant who meets qualifications, without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

—Local unions with contracts providing for exclusive hiring halls were instructed to place workers on the hiring list without discrimination. Workers would fill job openings as they came up if they met qualifications set by employers.

—Local unions were advised to refer workers for jobs without discrimination even if the unions do not control hiring.

—Local unions "shall accept" applicants for apprentice training on the basis of their qualifications without regard to race, although the unions were told to "adhere strictly" to apprenticeship standards.

Strikes Close Two Honolulu Newspapers

HONOLULU (UPI) — Seven unions struck and shut down Honolulu's two English-language daily newspapers Friday for the first time in history.

Picket lines were thrown up by the 850 members of seven craft and labor unions at 6:30 a.m. (12:30 p.m. EDT) after all-night negotiations collapsed. Another 150 employes were also affected by the strike.

A spokesman for the morning Honolulu Advertiser and the afternoon Honolulu Star - Bulletin said no attempt would be made to publish the newspapers.

The unions involved are the Hawaii Newspaper Guild, the Hawaii Photo Engravers, the International Typographical Union, the Printing Pressmen's and Assistants Union, the International Association of Machinists, the Amalgamated Lithographers of America and the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union.

Steelworkers Pledge Support To Civil Rights

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The United Steelworkers Union of America pledged its full support Friday to President Kennedy's proposed civil rights bill.

"The bold and forthright program for civil rights legislation which you have presented to Congress is an inspiring proposal for social and interracial justice," the union said in a telegram to the President.

"The United Steelworkers of America is proud to pledge you its full support in pressing for the early enactment of the entire program.

"We sincerely hope that all Americans will rally to the call which you have so clearly made for unity in the right to erase the virulent disease of discrimination which has so long affected our society."

Little Change In Situation At Cambridge

Move To Amend Town Charter Is Being Considered

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—Four Negro leaders met for the second time with Justice Department officials in Washington, D.C., Friday to discuss the tense racial situation in this Maryland Eastern Shore community.

Neither Negro leaders nor Justice Department spokesmen would say what transpired at the meeting.

The Negro leaders immediately returned to Cambridge and went into a closed executive session. At the same time, the town council met in closed session.

Although no one would comment officially, informed sources gave this run-down of the day's events:

1. The town council still could not muster a majority in favor of a local public accommodations law, but compromised and agreed to pass a resolution amending the town charter. The amendment would adopt the statewide public accommodations law in Cambridge, even though Dorchester County, of which Cambridge is the seat, was one of 11 Maryland counties that voted to exempt itself from the bill, passed by the 1963 General Assembly.

Referendum Possible

The proposed amendment would have to be advertised in local newspapers and would take effect 50 days after the resolution adopting it is passed. Should opposition develop, a special election would have to be held. Of the 3,200 registered voters in Cambridge, about 500 are Negroes.

2. Edmund C. Mester, executive assistant to Gov. J. Millard Tawes, informed the Justice Department early Friday of the council's decision.

3. The Justice Department then called Negro leaders to Washington, where Burke Marshall, assistant U.S. attorney general in charge of civil rights, attempted to persuade the Negroes this was the best they could get. Meeting with Marshall were Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee; Philip Savage, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Reginald Robinson, official of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Mrs. Betty Jews, another Cambridge Negro leader.

School Situation

Meanwhile, Mrs. Richardson has said the state already has assured her that Cambridge schools would be completely integrated by next fall. Dorchester County has been integrating schools at the rate of one grade a year and only the lower four grades remain segregated.

Melvin Roy, supervisor of minority group services for the Department of Employment Security, also was in Cambridge Friday and met with local department officials as well as Negro leaders. The topic of discussion presumably was alleged discrimination against Negro workers in hiring practices.

National Guard troops have been stationed here for a week. Gov. Tawes ordered them into the town last Friday after racial demonstrations erupted in violence of four consecutive nights.

Church Head Takes Name Of Paul VI

Will Give First World Message Sometime Today

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, 65, liberal-minded Archbishop of Milan who was a close friend of Pope John XXIII, was elected new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church Friday. He took the name of Paul VI after the apostle who transformed Christianity into a world religion.

Montini, a popular favorite in the voting by the conclave of 80 cardinals, has been described as having "the intellectual clarity of Pope Pius XII, and the openheartedness of John XXIII."

The Vatican announced the new Pope will give his first message to the world following an "adoration" ceremony Saturday morning. He will be crowned as Paul VI in St. Peter's Basilica on June 30, the day President Kennedy is scheduled to arrive in Rome. The coronation date coincides with the feast day of the commemoration of Saint Paul.

The Italian news agency ANSA said Pope Paul is expected to meet with Kennedy on July 2. There was no immediate confirmation but administration officials in Washington said they were certain the U.S. President would see the Pope during his visit to Rome.

Council To Continue

There was little doubt the new pontiff would continue the historic Ecumenical Council begun by his predecessor, Pope John. Pope Paul has had nothing but praise for the council and made it clear publicly after Pope John's death that he believed it should be continued.

One of Pope Paul's first official acts was to confirm Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani in his post as papal secretary of state. Cardinal Cicognani had held the key Vatican post under the reign of Pope John.

Cardinal Montini, accepted the mandate as the 262nd spiritual leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics "in the name of the Lord," but with protestations of his unworthiness.

The election of Montini, a northern Italian of icy intellect, was first signalled by a plume of white smoke swirling up from the chimney of the Sistine Chapel at 11:20 a.m. (6:20 a.m. EDT).

But the actual identify of the new pontiff was not disclosed until some 50 minutes later when loudspeakers began booming out the traditional Latin announcement to a throng of at least 70,000 faithful gathered in sun-drenched St. Peter's Square. The announcement got no further than "Joannem Bapt . . ." when the crowd knew who he was. Shouts went up from the throng: "Giovanni Battista—it's Montini!"

The crowd roared "Viva il Papa," (Long Live the Pope) and the big bronze bells of St. Peter's tolled out the news.

First Papal Blessing

The faithful turned silent and dropped to their knees on the cobblestones of the enormous place as the new Pope, his spotless white gown draped with a richly embroidered stole, appeared on the balcony and gave his first papal bendiction.

The new Pope was elected on the second day of voting by the conclave attended by 80 of the 82 cardinals of the sacred college in the Michelangelo-decorated Sistine Chapel.

It was believed his election came on the fifth ballot, but the actual details, under church law, will never be known.

The princes of the church from 28 countries and of all races of mankind, were believed to have voted twice Thursday morning,

GOP Senators Balk At Bipartisan Plan On Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to sign up a bipartisan Senate majority in support of President Kennedy's civil rights package bogged down Friday in Republican wariness toward his plan to bar segregation in private businesses.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, a GOP leader in the drive for cosponsors, predicted a majority would come around. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he too is confident the goal will be reached by the Monday afternoon target.

The last announced count was 43 of the 100 senators as cosponsors, but they included only nine Republicans of 33 in the Senate There are 67 Democrats in the Senate.

Javits told a news conference he is convinced a majority of the 33 Republicans would support Kennedy's plan "substantially as it stands" if the Senate can block any filibuster by Southern opponents. He said some members are reluctant to sponsor bills even though they vote for them.

The stiffest opposition among Republicans to Kennedy's proposal for desegregating privately owned stores, hotels, motels and other businesses serving the public has come from Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Javits said he regards as "an important development" statements by Goldwater, who is considered a front-runner for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, that he would back some of Kennedy's proposals.

This is significant for the Republican party, Javits said, because it indicates that Goldwater "has apparently abandoned his often-stated position against new civil rights legislation."

House Group Approves Big Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $47,092,209,000 defense budget to give the United States military superiority over any other power was approved Friday by the House Appropriations Committee.

That was the amount of money the committee asked the House to vote next week to finance the military establishment for the 12 months starting July 1.

It is $1,922,038,000 less than President Kennedy requested and $1,257,873,500 less than the department was given for the current year. But the committee said that more than half of the cut is in the bookkeeping area and that none of the money denied is needed for essential activities.

The money would be used to maintain and equip 2,695,000 active duty military personnel, operate a manned bomber force of about 700 B52 and B58 planes and several hundred older B47s, build up a missile force of more than 1,000 ICBM's and 41 Polaris submarines toting 656 missiles, and service an active fleet of 872 ships and 30,800 aircraft.

The committee was unanimous in approving the bill after hearings that lasted more than three months.

By services, the bill would give the Army $12,105,763,000, the Navy $14,369,838,000, the Air Force $18,365,935,000 and other defense agencies $2,250,673,000.

Judicial Probe Is Ordered In Profumo Case

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan ordered a judicial inquiry into the Profumo security scandal amid opposition Laborite charges of a possible cover-up.

Macmillan told the House of Commons on Friday an investigation is necessary because he has heard "terrible things said of all sorts of people which if allowed to go on will destroy not only one side of the House of Commons but the other side as well."

"The other side," the Labor party opposition, objected to the method, insisting that a select committee of the House itself should do the job of finding out if national security is full of holes.

"This procedure is totally inadequate," Harold Wilson, the opposition leader, told Macmillan. "You are running away from the idea of setting up anything which will establish the truth."

Macmillan stilled some of the outcry by his choice of Lord Denning, 64, senior jurist who is known to favor open rather than secret testimony. He also is an avowed believer in the press, declaring in a speech last month: "The press are the watchdogs of justice."

Workers Strike Mack Truck Plant

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — Employes of the Mack Truck Company plant here walked off their jobs Friday in what a company official said was an illegal walkout over vacation arrangements.

The spokesman said about 90 per cent of the first shift of production workers walked off their jobs at noon. He said the walkout was spreading to other divisions of the plant.

The company spokesman said the dispute apparently was over a vacation plan offered employes by the firm.

Airlines Dissolve Merger Agreement

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American Airlines Friday dissolved its merger agreement with Eastern Air Lines and asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to dismiss further proceedings.

The action followed the CAB's rejection Thursday of the two airlines' plan to combine their domestic systems.

Farmer Sentenced For Tax Evasion

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Mount Airy farmer was sentenced to 181 days in federal prison Friday after being convicted of evading $6,300 in income taxes.

R. Ray Farver, 50, pleaded guilty to charges of understating his income in 1955 and 1956.

Judge Edward S. Northrop of U.S. District Court gave Farver until November before starting to serve his sentence, so he could harvest his crops.

Marine Survives 15,000-Foot Fall Into Ocean From Disabled Jet Plane

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—A young Marine pilot who survived a 15,000 foot fall from his disabled jet fighter when his parachute failed to open, recounted Friday how he tried desperately to open the chute before he landed—feet first—in the ocean.

"This business of your whole life flashing before you is baloney—at least in my case," said 1st Lt. Cliff J. Judkins III, 26, of Atlanta, Ga. "I was too busy for that."

Judkins suffered a compressed fracture of his back, a hairline fracture of his pelvis and two broken ankles in the accident Wednesday. At first listed as critical, his condition Friday aboard the hospital ship Haven was listed as much improved.

It was one of the few instances on record in which a man has fallen from such an altitude and landed in the ocean—and survived, according to Navy and medical records.

In an interview (with the Independent, Press - Telegram), Judkins disclosed he almost never got out of his F8 Crusader jet fighter. He said after discovering trouble, his ejection apparatus would not work.

In his interview with the Independent, Press-Telegram, he said he was at first afraid to go over the side for fear of hitting the tail.

"I was thinking of myself what a hell of a way to die, watching it come up at you, when Bill (1st. Lt. Bill Waters, wingman in the formation), hollered to get out any way I could."

He said he just missed the tail, but fell free—only to find his main chute would not open.

"The rest of the way down I was shaking hell out of the chute trying to get it open."

He said he saw an oil slick where his plane hit. Judkins dropped into the water—feet first—100 feet away.

"I didn't hurt then, although I figured my back was broken. I could tell my ankles were broken from the way my feet flapped around."

He spent 2½ hours in the water before being rescued.

Pushinka, Charlie Have Four Puppies At White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House made it official Friday — Charlie, Caroline Kennedy's Welsh terrier, is the father of Pushinka's puppies.

Putting an end to backstairs speculation, the White House released a picture of the four brownish - black puppie now nearly a week old.

The caption noted that the puppies, whose mother is the daughter of the Russian space dog given the White House by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, were fathered by Charlie.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary Pamela Turnure, said that as yet no decision has been made as to whether the puppies—two males and two females—will join Charlie, Pushinka, and the First Lady's police dog, Clipper, as part of the regular White House canine corps.

Plans New Factory

ST. LOUIS, Mich. (UPI) — Detroiter Mobile Homes, Inc., said Friday it has bought 29 acres near Pottsville, Pa., to build a new factory. The site was purchased from the Greater Pottsville Industrial Development Corp. The new factory will employ 200.

Police Use Electric Cattle Probes Against Negroes In Gadsden, Alabama

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI) — More than 50 Negroes, screaming as they were jabbed with electric cattle prod poles, were dragged Friday from downtown streets where they staged anti-segregation demonstrations.

The Negroes were arrested under an injunction prohibiting mass demonstrations in the city.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who was due in Gadsden to address a mass rally (about 10 p.m. EDT), told newsmen in Birmingham he was "shocked and appalled at this treatment of Americans."

King said he would urge Gadsden Negros to "remain calm and non-violent even in the face of this unconstitutional and unchristian treatment — treatment like cattle."

Savannah and Albany, Ga., two other of the South's current racial hotspots, were quiet during the day, but Negroes were reported planning new moves and no let up to the demonstrations was in sight.

At Philadelphia, Pa., where attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy spoke Friday, five members of the Negro "Muslim Improvement Association" stormed into a radio station and assaulted the Negro moderator of a controversial discussion program. Charges ranging from aggravated assault to conspiracy were lodged against the five.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy, in an Independence Hall speech, said racial discrimination "is not worthy of us," and called for all Americans to work for its abolition.

In Columbia, S.C., a federal court hearing was in progress on a suit filed by a 17-year-old Negro girl—Henri Monteith—who is attempting to become the first member of her race to be admitted to the University of South Carolina.

In Tampa, Fla., 40 white and Negro pickets walked for the second day in front of two Tampa theaters singing "freedom songs" and carrying anti - segregation posters.

At Charleston, S.C., one of 40 Negroes who staged an anti-segregation march was arrested for allegedly spitting on a white man

"The United Steelworkers of America is proud to pledge you its full support in pressing for the early enactment of the entire program.

"We sincerely hope that all Americans will rally to the call which you have so clearly made for unity in the right to erase the virulent disease of discrimination which has so long affected our society."

Marine Survives 15,000-Foot Fall Into Ocean From Disabled Jet Plane

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—A young Marine pilot who survived a 15,000 foot fall from his disabled jet fighter when his parachute failed to open, recounted Friday how he tried desperately to open the chute before he landed—feet first—in the ocean.

"This business of your whole life flashing before you is baloney—at least in my case," said 1st Lt. Cliff J. Judkins III, 26, of Atlanta, Ga. "I was too busy for that."

Judkins suffered a compressed fracture of his back, a hairline fracture of his pelvis and two broken ankles in the accident Wednesday. At first listed as critical, his condition Friday aboard the hospital ship Haven was listed as much improved.

It was one of the few instances on record in which a man has fallen from such an altitude and landed in the ocean—and survived, according to Navy and medical records.

In an interview (with the Independent, Press - Telegram), Judkins disclosed he almost never got out of his F8 Crusader jet fighter. He said after discovering trouble, his ejection apparatus would not work.

In his interview with the Independent, Press-Telegram, he said he was at first afraid to go over the side for fear of hitting the tail.

"I was thinking of myself what a hell of a way to die, watching it come up at you, when Bill (1st. Lt. Bill Waters, wingman in the formation), hollered to get out any way I could."

He said he just missed the tail, but fell free—only to find his main chute would not open.

"The rest of the way down I was shaking hell out of the chute trying to get it open."

He said he saw an oil slick where his plane hit. Judkins dropped into the water—feet first—100 feet away.

"I didn't hurt then, although I figured my back was broken. I could tell my ankles were broken from the way my feet flapped around."

He spent 2½ hours in the water before being rescued.

Little Change In Situation At Cambridge

Move To Amend Town Charter Is Being Considered

CAMBRIDGE (AP)—Four Negro leaders met for the second time with Justice Department officials in Washington, D.C., Friday to discuss the tense racial situation in this Maryland Eastern Shore community.

Neither Negro leaders nor Justice Department spokesmen would say what transpired at the meeting.

The Negro leaders immediately returned to Cambridge and went into a closed executive session. At the same time, the town council met in closed session.

Although no one would comment officially, informed sources gave this run-down of the day's events:

1. The town council still could not muster a majority in favor of a local public accommodations law, but compromised and agreed to pass a resolution amending the town charter. The amendment would adopt the statewide public accommodations law in Cambridge, even though Dorchester County, of which Cambridge is the seat, was one of 11 Maryland counties that voted to exempt itself from the bill, passed by the 1963 General Assembly.

Referendum Possible

The proposed amendment would have to be advertised in local newspapers and would take effect 50 days after the resolution adopting it is passed. Should opposition develop, a special election would have to be held. Of the 3,200 registered voters in Cambridge, about 500 are Negroes.

2. Edmund C. Mester, executive assistant to Gov. J. Millard Tawes, informed the Justice Department early Friday of the council's decision.

3. The Justice Department then called Negro leaders to Washington, where Burke Marshall, assistant U.S. attorney general in charge of civil rights, attempted to persuade the Negroes this was the best they could get. Meeting with Marshall were Mrs. Gloria Richardson, chairman of the Cambridge Nonviolent Action Committee; Philip Savage, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Reginald Robinson, official of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, and Mrs. Betty Jews, another Cambridge Negro leader.

School Situation

Meanwhile, Mrs. Richardson has said the state already has assured her that Cambridge schools would be completely integrated by next fall. Dorchester County has been integrating schools at the rate of one grade a year and only the lower four grades remain segregated.

Melvin Roy, supervisor of minority group services for the Department of Employment Security, also was in Cambridge Friday and met with local department officials as well as Negro leaders. The topic of discussion presumably was alleged discrimination against Negro workers in hiring practices.

National Guard troops have been stationed here for a week. Gov. Tawes ordered them into the town last Friday after racial demonstrations erupted in violence of four consecutive nights.

Pushinka, Charlie Have Four Puppies At White House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House made it official Friday — Charlie, Caroline Kennedy's Welsh terrier, is the father of Pushinka's puppies.

Putting an end to backstairs speculation, the White House released a picture of the four brownish - black puppie now nearly a week old.

The caption noted that the puppies, whose mother is the daughter of the Russian space dog given the White House by Premier Nikita Khrushchev, were fathered by Charlie.

Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary Pamela Turnure, said that as yet no decision has been made as to whether the puppies—two males and two females—will join Charlie, Pushinka, and the First Lady's police dog, Clipper, as part of the regular White House canine corps.

Plans New Factory

ST. LOUIS, Mich. (UPI) — Detroiter Mobile Homes, Inc., said Friday it has bought 29 acres near Pottsville, Pa., to build a new factory. The site was purchased from the Greater Pottsville Industrial Development Corp. The new factory will employ 200.

GOP Senators Balk At Bipartisan Plan On Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to sign up a bipartisan Senate majority in support of President Kennedy's civil rights package bogged down Friday in Republican wariness toward his plan to bar segregation in private businesses.

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, a GOP leader in the drive for cosponsors, predicted a majority would come around. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said he too is confident the goal will be reached by the Monday afternoon target.

The last announced count was 43 of the 100 senators as cosponsors, but they included only nine Republicans of 33 in the Senate. There are 67 Democrats in the Senate.

Javits told a news conference he is convinced a majority of the 33 Republicans would support Kennedy's plan "substantially as it stands" if the Senate can block any filibuster by Southern opponents. He said some members are reluctant to sponsor bills even though they vote for them.

The stiffest opposition among Republicans to Kennedy's proposal for desegregating privately owned stores, hotels, motels and other businesses serving the public has come from Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Javits said he regards as "an important development" statements by Goldwater, who is considered a front-runner for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination, that he would back some of Kennedy's proposals.

This is significant for the Republican party, Javits said, because it indicates that Goldwater "has apparently abandoned his often-stated position against new civil rights legislation."

House Group Approves Big Defense Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $47,092,209,000 defense budget to give the United States military superiority over any other power was approved Friday by the House Appropriations Committee.

That was the amount of money the committee asked the House to vote next week to finance the military establishment for the 12 months starting July 1.

It is $1,922,038,000 less than President Kennedy requested and $1,257,873,500 less than the department was given for the current year. But the committee said that more than half of the cut is in the bookkeeping area and that none of the money denied is needed for essential activities.

The money would be used to maintain and equip 2,695,000 active duty military personnel, operate a manned bomber force of about 700 B52 and B58 planes and several hundred older B47s, build up a missile force of more than 1,000 ICBM's and 41 Polaris submarines toting 656 missiles, and service an active fleet of 872 ships and 30,800 aircraft.

The committee was unanimous in approving the bill after hearings that lasted more than three months.

By services, the bill would give the Army $12,105,763,000, the Navy $14,369,838,000, the Air Force $18,365,935,000 and other defense agencies $2,250,673,000.

Church Head Takes Name Of Paul VI

Will Give First World Message Sometime Today

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Giovanni Battista Cardinal Montini, 65, liberal-minded Archbishop of Milan who was a close friend of Pope John XXIII, was elected new pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church Friday. He took the name of Paul VI after the apostle who transformed Christianity into a world religion.

Montini, a popular favorite in the voting by the conclave of 80 cardinals, has been described as having "the intellectual clarity of Pope Pius XII, and the openheartedness of John XXIII."

The Vatican announced the new Pope will give his first message to the world following an "adoration" ceremony Saturday morning. He will be crowned as Paul VI in St. Peter's Basilica on June 30, the day President Kennedy is scheduled to arrive in Rome. The coronation date coincides with the feast day of the commemoration of Saint Paul.

The Italian news agency ANSA said Pope Paul is expected to meet with Kennedy on July 2. There was no immediate confirmation but administration officials in Washington said they were certain the U.S. President would see the Pope during his visit to Rome.

Council To Continue

There was little doubt the new pontiff would continue the historic Ecumenical Council begun by his predecessor, Pope John. Pope Paul has had nothing but praise for the council and made it clear publicly after Pope John's death that he believed it should be continued.

One of Pope Paul's first official acts was to confirm Amleto Giovanni Cardinal Cicognani in his post as papal secretary of state. Cardinal Cicognani had held the key Vatican post under the reign of Pope John.

Cardinal Montini, accepted the mandate as the 262nd spiritual leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics "in the name of the Lord," but with protestations of his unworthiness.

The election of Montini, a northern Italian of icy intellect, was first signalled by a plume of white smoke swirling up from the chimney of the Sistine Chapel at 11:20 a.m. (6:20 a.m. EDT).

But the actual identify of the new pontiff was not disclosed until some 50 minutes later when loudspeakers began booming out the traditional Latin announcement to a throng of at least 70,000 faithful gathered in sun-drenched St. Peter's Square. The announcement got no further than "Joannem Bapt . . ." when the crowd knew who he was. Shouts went up from the throng: "Giovanni Battista—it's Montini!"

The crowd roared "Viva il Papa," (Long Live the Pope) and the big bronze bells of St. Peter's tolled out the news.

First Papal Blessing

The faithful turned silent and dropped to their knees on the cobblestones of the enormous place as the new Pope, his spotless white gown draped with a richly embroidered stole, appeared on the balcony and gave his first papal bendiction.

The new Pope was elected on the second day of voting by the conclave attended by 80 of the 82 cardinals of the sacred college in the Michelangelo-decorated Sistine Chapel.

It was believed his election came on the fifth ballot, but the actual details, under church law, will never be known.

The princes of the church from 28 countries and of all races of mankind, were believed to have voted twice Thursday morning,

Police Use Electric Cattle Probes Against Negroes In Gadsden, Alabama

GADSDEN, Ala. (UPI) — More than 50 Negroes, screaming as they were jabbed with electric cattle prod poles, were dragged Friday from downtown streets where they staged anti - segregation demonstrations.

The Negroes were arrested under an injunction prohibiting mass demonstrations in the city.

Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who was due in Gadsden to address a mass rally (about 10 p.m. EDT), told newsmen in Birmingham he was "shocked and appalled at this treatment of Americans."

King said he would urge Gadsden Negros to "remain calm and non-violent even in the face of this unconstitutional and unchristian treatment — treatment like cattle."

Savannah and Albany, Ga., two other of the South's current racial hotspots, were quiet during the day, but Negroes were reported planning new moves and no let up to the demonstrations was in sight.

At Philadelphia, Pa., where attorney Gen. Robert F. Kennedy spoke Friday, five members of the Negro "Muslim Improvement Association" stormed into a radio station and assaulted the Negro moderator of a controversial discussion program. Charges ranging from aggravated assault to conspiracy were lodged against the five.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy, in an Independence Hall speech, said racial discrimination "is not worthy of us," and called for all Americans to work for its abolition.

In Columbia, S.C., a federal court hearing was in progress on a suit filed by a 17-year-old Negro girl—Henri Monteith—who is attempting to become the first member of her race to be admitted to the University of South Carolina.

In Tampa, Fla., 40 white and Negro pickets walked for the second day in front of two Tampa theaters singing "freedom songs" and carrying anti - segregation posters.

At Charleston, S.C., one of 40 Negroes who staged an anti-segregation march was arrested for allegedly spitting on a white man

Zantzinger Testifies In Own Defense

Doesn't Recall Striking Barmaid At Charity Ball

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — William D. Zantzinger testified at his homicide trial Friday he remembered playfully tapping other guests with a cane at a charity ball but did not recall hitting Negro barmaid Hattie Carroll.

The 24-year-old Southern Maryland farmer took the stand to defend himself against murder, manslaughter and assault charges in the death of Mrs. Carroll.

A 51-year-old hotel employe, she collapsed at the Feb. 8 Spinsters' Ball at the Emerson Hotel and died about nine hours later in a hospital. Zantzinger was accused of causing her death by inducing a brain hemorrhage in the hypertensive woman during an encounter at the ballroom bar.

A three-judge court, hearing the case without a jury, had heard prosecution witnesses testify that Zantzinger, drunk and impatient for a drink, cursed Mrs. Carroll and hit her on the right shoulder with a light, wooden cane.

Zantzinger, from Mount Victoria, Md., testified he had been drinking from late afternoon until shortly before his arrival at the ball and did not remember hitting anyone with intent to harm.

"This isn't a convenient memory, is it:" asked Baltimore State's Attorney William J. O'Donnell in cross-examining the defendant.

"No, sir," Zantzinger said. "I told Mr. Hanley (defense co-counsel Claude A. Hanley that the next day."

The Washington County Circuit Courtroom, to where the trial was transferred from Baltimore at the request of the defendant, had a standing-room-only audience of about 125 persons as Zantzinger, leaning forward with his hands folded in his lap, testified in a high-pitched voice.

The rapidity of his speech and Dixie-like accent made his testimony sometimes difficult to follow.

He said he remembered such incidents as tapping other guests with the cane, which he had acquired at a farm show, and being struck in the eye by another guest during a dance-floor altercation.

But he said he was unable to recall hitting Mrs. Carroll, striking a second barmaid with the cane in a separate incident, or whacking a bellboy earlier at the hotel entrance. Prosecution witnesses said that they had observed such behavior by Zantzinger.

Zantzinger said he had approached the evening in an exuberant mood after a siege of hard work on the six or seven farms he operates in Charles County, Md.

"I was in a good mood," he said under direct examination by defense attorney Frederick J. Green Jr. "You know, because we hadn't been anywhere for a long time," he explained, "I was ready to cut up and have a good time."

His 24-year-old brown-haired wife and mother of two, Jane Duvall Zantzinger, testified earlier she did not remember much about the evening either. Previous witnesses had testified her drinking before the ball included five or six double-scotches at a restaurant where the Zantzingers and another couple had dinner.

At the outset of the third day of Zantzinger's trial, Judge D. K. McLaughlin announced the court had granted a defense motion for acquittal on the first-degree murder charge in the blanket indictment against the defendant. Similar motions covering second-degree murder, manslaughter and assault counts were denied.

twice again in the afternoon and at least once Friday morning before Montini emerged with the 54 vote majority required for election.

The cardinals, locked in the 260-room conclave area since Wednesday night, emerged from the Vatican palace late Friday afternoon.

Doors Opened

The conclave officially ended at 4:52 p.m. (11:52 a.m.) when the doors facing on the St. Damascus courtyard that had been nailed shut were opened. The first cardinal to leave the Vatican palace was Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, senior cardinal-deacon and head of the holy office.

Montini, a slim, almost ascetic churchman with deep and burning eyes, comes from a well-to-do family from near Brescia in the north of Italy.

A well-traveled linguist who visited the United States in 1960, Montini was an intimate collaborator of Pope Pius XII, the austere pontiff whose 19-year reign ended in death in 1958.

But the new Pope also worked in close collaboration with John XXIII, the peasant's son who projected a warm and progressive image in the four and a half years in which he ruled the church.

Pope John's death last June 3, after four days of agony, brought on the conclave that elected the new Pope Friday.

Bishop Shehan Asks Prayers For New Pope

BALTIMORE (AP) — Catholic Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan asked Friday "all the good people who live" in his Baltimore jurisdiction to pray that Pope Paul VI will have a "long, happy and successful reign."

He said the election of former Cardinal Montini "is profoundly gratifying to the clergy and faithful. His election seems to insure the advancement of the policies of his two immediate predecessors," Pope John XXIII and Pope Pius XII.

Archbishop Shehan recalled that the new Pope visited the new cathedral on Charles Street June 10, 1960.

"As a memorial of his visit, he presented to the Cathedral a relic of Charles Borromeo, his sainted predecessor, a treasured gift which now takes on a special significance," Archbishop Shehan said.

St. Borromeo was Archbishop of Milan, the post held by the new Pope at the time of his election, in the 16th century.

Cardinal Montini blessed the statue of Saint Borromeo in the cathedral and said in French "This is a great monument, modern, in fine taste, which is everything American."

Baltimore Port Plans Extensive Modernization

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Port Authority announced Friday it will spend nearly $13 million to build three additional ship berths and modernize another newly acquired terminal.

The improvement plans are especially significant coming only a month since the port of Baltimore lost in the Supreme Court its long railroad freight rate advantage over New York and New England, said John L. Kronau, authority chairman.

Baltimore had enjoyed freight rates 3 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower than the northern coast points since 1877. A Massachusetts federal court ruled them out and the Supreme Court by a 4-4 vote May 20 failed to reverse it.

"This controversy will stimulate a vigorous drive for new cargo and improved facilities in the port of Baltimore," Kronau said.

He announced the authority had signed a 40-year lease with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on its Locust Point Marine terminal which has 23 berths. The authority will spend $6,987,000 within five years starting next January to reconstruct and modernize several of the piers.

At the same time, the authority announced it will increase the number of berths at its Dundalk terminal from six to nine and dredge a new channel at a cost of $6 million.

The B & O railroad will continue to operate the grain elevators and have exclusive rail rights at Locust Point. The authority will pay $1 annually for leasing the terminal on which it will have an option to purchase.

Chamber Supports Hospital Expansion

The board of directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce went on record Thursday as favoring the modernization of Memorial Hospital.

Action on the Memorial Hospital support was unanimous, according to Robert C. Petersen, manager.

The board also sent a letter of appreciation to Miss Mary G. Walsh, Allegany County librarian who is retiring June 30, for her outstanding work.

Sherwin Williams Paint Company was accepted as a Chamber member.

The U. S. Mint in Philadelphia has been in continuous operation since its establishment back in 1792.

Catering Firm Sues Sponsors Of Demos $100-Plate Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP)—A catering firm filed suit Friday to collect for a Democratic campaign dinner.

The firm said in its Superior Court suit the Democrats failed to pay $12,712.50 for the food served at the April 22 dinner in the Civic Center. Tickets for the affair during the city's election campaign were priced at $100.

The list of 14 defendants included Philip Goodman, loser for the mayoralty, his two running mates for council president and comptroller, and the city's three Democratic congressmen. The caterer asked for $15,000 in damages.

Police Probe Strangling At Finksburg, Md.

Relatives Find Aged Widow Dead; Clues Destroyed

WESTMINTER, Md. (AP) — Relatives and neighbors may have inadvertently cleaned up some important clues in the strangling of Mrs. Alice Mona Long of nearby Finksburg, State Police said Friday.

The friends tidied up the house, believing the 83-year-old widow had died of natural causes. Authorities were not notified until three hours after she was found dead by a neighbor.

An autopsy is being performed in Baltimore to determine the exact cause of death. Dr. John E. Adams, assistant state medical examiner, said there were scrapes and bruises on the neck and a small bone was broken.

Harry Wisner, 67, who lives next door, found Mrs. Long's body in her bed Thursday morning. He notified relatives.

They picked up combs, earrings and other things scattered on the floor as well as broken glass from the window in the front door.

They called a funeral director. Upon his arrival, he instructed them to notify the Carroll County medical examiner to investigate.

The medical authorities estimated that Mrs. Long was killed around midnight Wednesday.

She had moved to Finksburg from Pikesville about three years ago.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday at the Haight Funeral Home, Gamber, Md. She will be buried in the Providence Cemetery.

Insanity Plea Entered In New Murder Trial

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Willard Lee Allen, 29-year-old burly ironworker from Stevens, Pa., was convicted of first degree murder Friday night at his second trial for the slaying of a Baltimore barmaid.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women deliberated for nearly two hours before bringing in the verdict.

Allen had pleaded insanity in the second trial, which started Friday morning.

Allen was convicted and sentenced to life at a one-day trial last Jan. 16. He was granted a new trail by Judge John E. Raine Jr., who heard the original.

Allen wrote Raine he was inadequately represented by court-appointed counsel and his suggestion to plead insanity was ignored.

Judge Raine and a jury sat at the second trial of Allen for the slaying of Ethel E. Johnson, 31. Her body was found in the trunk of an automobile parked on Market Street in Philadelphia July 3.

Allen walked into a Baltimore police station that morning and told them where to find the car. A medical examiner's report indicated the woman, who worked in a bar in a section known as Baltimore's Block, died of a combination of chloroform, carbon monoxide and gasoline.

But he said he was unable to recall hitting Mrs. Carroll, striking a second barmaid with the cane in a separate incident, or whacking a bellboy earlier at the hotel entrance. Prosecution witnesses said that they had observed such behavior by Zantzinger.

Zantzinger said he had approached the evening in an exuberant mood after a siege of hard work on the six or seven farms he operates in Charles County, Md.

"I was in a good mood," he said under direct examination by defense attorney Frederick J. Green Jr. "You know, because we hadn't been anywhere for a long time," he explained. "I was ready to cut up and have a good time."

His 24-year-old brown-haired wife and mother of two, Jane Duvall Zantzinger, testified earlier she did not remember much about the evening either. Previous witnesses had testified her drinking before the ball included five or six double-scotches at a restaurant where the Zantzingers and another couple had dinner.

At the outset of the third day of Zantzinger's trial, Judge D. K. McLaughlin announced the court had granted a defense motion for acquittal on the first-degree murder charge in the blanket indictment against the defendant. Similar motions covering second-degree murder, manslaughter and assault counts were denied.

twice again in the afternoon and at least once Friday morning before Montini emerged with the 54 vote majority required for election.

The cardinals, locked in the 260-room conclave area since Wednesday night, emerged from the Vatican palace late Friday afternoon.

Doors Opened

The conclave officially ended at 4:52 p.m. (11:52 a.m.) when the doors facing on the St. Damascus courtyard that had been nailed shut were opened. The first cardinal to leave the Vatican palace was Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani, senior cardinal-deacon and head of the holy office.

Montini, a slim, almost ascetic churchman with deep and burning eyes, comes from a well-to-do family from near Brescia in the north of Italy.

A well-traveled linguist who visited the United States in 1960, Montini was an intimate collaborator of Pope Pius XII, the austere pontiff whose 19-year reign ended in death in 1958.

But the new Pope also worked in close collaboration with John XXIII, the peasant's son who projected a warm and progressive image in the four and a half years in which he ruled the church.

Pope John's death last June 3, after four days of agony, brought on the conclave that elected the new Pope Friday.

Boy Committed

A 16-year-old local boy was ordered committed Thursday to the Maryland Training School for boys by Juvenile Magistrate Louis A. Fatkin. The boy was brought before the court for running away from home.

Bishop Shehan Asks Prayers For New Pope

BALTIMORE (AP) — Catholic Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan asked Friday "all the good people who live" in his Baltimore jurisdiction to pray that Pope Paul VI will have a "long, happy and successful reign."

He said the election of former Cardinal Montini "is profoundly gratifying to the clergy and faithful. His election seems to insure the advancement of the policies of his two immediate predecessors," Pope John XXIII and Pope Pius XII.

Archbishop Shehan recalled that the new Pope visited the new cathedral on Charles Street June 10, 1960.

"As a memorial of his visit, he presented to the Cathedral a relic of Charles Borromeo, his sainted predecessor, a treasured gift which now takes on a special significance," Archbishop Shehan said.

St. Borromeo was Archbishop of Milan, the post held by the new Pope at the time of his election, in the 16th century.

Cardinal Montini blessed the statue of Saint Borromeo in the cathedral and said in French "This is a great monument, modern, in fine taste, which is everything American."

Baltimore Port Plans Extensive Modernization

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland Port Authority announced Friday it will spend nearly $13 million to build three additional ship berths and modernize another newly acquired terminal.

The improvement plans are especially significant coming only a month since the port of Baltimore lost in the Supreme Court its long railroad freight rate advantage over New York and New England, said John L. Kronau, authority chairman.

Baltimore had enjoyed freight rates 3 to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower than the northern coast points since 1877. A Massachusetts federal court ruled them out and the Supreme Court by a 4-4 vote May 20 failed to reverse it.

"This controversy will stimulate a vigorous drive for new cargo and improved facilities in the port of Baltimore," Kronau said.

He announced the authority had signed a 40-year lease with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad on its Locust Point Marine terminal which has 23 berths. The authority will spend $6,987,000 within five years starting next January to reconstruct and modernize several of the piers.

At the same time, the authority announced it will increase the number of berths at its Dundalk terminal from six to nine and dredge a new channel at a cost of $6 million.

The B & O railroad will continue to operate the grain elevators and have exclusive rail rights at Locust Point. The authority will pay $1 annually for leasing the terminal on which it will have an option to purchase.

Chamber Supports Hospital Expansion

The board of directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce went on record Thursday as favoring the modernization of Memorial Hospital.

Action on the Memorial Hospital support was unanimous, according to Robert C. Petersen, manager.

The board also sent a letter of appreciation to Miss Mary G. Walsh, Allegany County librarian who is retiring June 30, for her outstanding work.

Sherwin Williams Paint Company was accepted as a Chamber member.

The U. S. Mint in Philadelphia has been in continuous operation since its establishment back in 1792.

Catering Firm Sues Sponsors Of Demos $100-Plate Dinner

BALTIMORE (AP)—A catering firm filed suit Friday to collect for a Democratic campaign dinner.

The firm said in its Superior Court suit the Democrats failed to pay $12,712.50 for the food served at the April 22 dinner in the Civic Center. Tickets for the affair during the city's election campaign were priced at $100.

The list of 14 defendants included Philip Goodman, loser for the mayoralty, his two running mates for council president and comptroller, and the city's three Democratic congressmen. The caterer asked for $15,000 in damages.

Police Probe Strangling At Finksburg, Md.

Relatives Find Aged Widow Dead; Clues Destroyed

WESTMINTER, Md. (AP) — Relatives and neighbors may have inadvertently cleaned up some important clues in the strangling of Mrs. Alice Mona Long of nearby Finksburg, State Police said Friday.

The friends tidied up the house, believing the 83-year-old widow had died of natural causes. Authorities were not notified until three hours after she was found dead by a neighbor.

An autopsy is being performed in Baltimore to determine the exact cause of death. Dr. John E. Adams, assistant state medical examiner, said there were scrapes and bruises on the neck and a small bone was broken.

Harry Wisner, 67, who lives next door, found Mrs. Long's body in her bed Thursday morning. He notified relatives.

They picked up combs, earrings and other things scattered on the floor as well as broken glass from the window in the front door.

They called a funeral director. Upon his arrival, he instructed them to notify the Carroll County medical examiner to investigate.

The medical authorities estimated that Mrs. Long was killed around midnight Wednesday.

She had moved to Finksburg from Pikesville about three years ago.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. Sunday at the Haight Funeral Home, Gamber, Md. She will be buried in the Providence Cemetery.

Insanity Plea Entered In New Murder Trial

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Willard Lee Allen, 29-year-old burly ironworker from Stevens, Pa., was convicted of first degree murder Friday night at his second trial for the slaying of a Baltimore barmaid.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women deliberated for nearly two hours before bringing in the verdict.

Allen had pleaded insanity in the second trial, which started Friday morning.

Allen was convicted and sentenced to life at a one-day trial last Jan. 16. He was granted a new trail by Judge John E. Raine Jr., who heard the original.

Allen wrote Raine he was inadequately represented by court-appointed counsel and his suggestion to plead insanity was ignored.

Judge Raine and a jury sat at the second trial of Allen for the slaying of Ethel E. Johnson, 31. Her body was found in the trunk of an automobile parked on Market Street in Philadelphia July 3.

Allen walked into a Baltimore police station that morning and told them where to find the car. A medical examiner's report indicated the woman, who worked in a bar in a section known as Baltimore's Block, died of a combination of chloroform, carbon monoxide and gasoline.

Negro Elks Open 4-Day Convention

FREDERICK (AP)—Negro Elks from Maryland, Delaware and Washington will start gathering Saturday for a four-day convention.

About 400 delegates from 70 lodges and 60 auxiliary temples are expected to register. Their numbers will be increased by members of nearby lodges for a picnic and dance Saturday near Harpers Ferry.

The convention opens formally Sunday morning with a memorial service in the Asbury Methodist Church. An oratorical contest will be held in the afternoon. That night Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan is to speak.

Mrs. Gloria Richardson, head of an integrationist committee in Cambridge, is expected to be ent to receive a special award.

Business sessions and work shops are to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Boys Return Home

Three local teenager boys who were reported missing earlier this week have returned home, City Police said yesterday.

News Briefs From Maryland

BALTIMORE (AP) — Archbishop Lawrence J. Shehan announced Friday that all contractors on buildings erected for the church must agree to pay prevailing union wages and not to discriminate in hiring workers.

The Catholic archbishop said notices to that effect must be posted on all job sites.

ELKTON, Md. (AP) — State Police and volunteer firemen dragged the Bohemia River near Cecilton Friday for the body of a man who fell from a boat and apparently drowned.

The man presumed drowned, John E. McMahon, 24, of Springfield, Pa., was in a small outboard motorboat with Patricia Mea, 21, of Chester, Pa., Thursday evening when he appeared to become ill and fell overboard.

OCEAN CITY, Md. (AP) — The charge was jumping onto the roof of an all-girls motel. The defendant, Paul G O.'Brien, 17, of Arlington, Va., was fined $27.50.

The manager of the girls' motel, Russell Cullen, told the court: The Shoreham belongs exclusively to girls and he had no business being there."

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes has designated Saul L. Stern of Kensington as chairman of the State Planning Commission. He succeeds Joseph Meyerhoff, whose term expired June 1.

Stern, a Montgomery County lawyer and businessman, has been a member of the planning agency since June, 1959.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad has appointed Howard E. Johnson as director of customer service in its trailer service department.

Johnson, 42, previously was assistant to the sales manager of trailer service. He has been with the B. & O.'s freight traffic department since 1940, except for Navy service during World War II.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Twelve candidates for Maryland welfare director will be given a final interview July 2-3.

The welfare board will conduct the interviews. The candidates have been given an oral examination by three non members of the board.

The $17,600-a-year post was left vacant by the death of Thomas J. S. Waxter.

FOR NEW HOSPITAL — On behalf of Beta Sigma Phi City Council and all chapters, Mrs. Charles Drew presented a check for $600 to Sister Mary Richard Wednesday to be used toward furnishing a room in the new Sacred Heart Hospital. Mrs. Drew was president of the City Council when "it was the first organization in Cumberland to have anything with the prceeds for the building fund, before the big campaign started." Mrs. Paul Rank, left, was chairman for the Cruise Ball, held last April for the benefit of the hospital. All chapters and the City Council will resume business meetings in September.

Club Day Camp To Open Monday

The Cumberland Country Club Day Camp will open Monday with an enrollment of 60 children, Mrs. Ronald Rosher, president of the CCCDA Association, said last evening. It will be held from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Mondays through Friday. It will continue through September 2.

It will begin with dividing the group into swim classes. Alan Stockholm, will be director of the swim program. He will teach swimming, diving, scuba and lifesaving. A qualified Red Cross instructor, during the winter he is director of physical education at Allegany Community College.

Counselors for Day Camp are Miss Dorothy Minke, who has completed her junior year at Frostburg State Teachers College and had six years in camping experience, senior counselor; Miss Deborah Boden, who has completed her freshman year at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., and had eight years in Girl Scout camping; and John Porter Moffatt III, a 1963 honor graduate at Allegany High School who has six years of Boy Scout camping experience.

The annual dance sponsored by the association will be held July 20 for club members and invited guests. Proceeds are used for the day camp. Mrs. Ralph Sell Jr. is chairman.

Juanita Prine To Take Part In TPL Convention

Plans to attend the national convention of Tau Phi Lambda of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle were discussed at a meeting of members of Iota Epsilon Chapter Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary White, Furnace Acres.

The local chapter will be represented at the convention to be held at the Sherman House, Chicago, August 16 through 19, by Miss Juanita Prine, Mrs. White, Mrs. Juanita Leese, Mrs. Margaret Hartman and Miss Jacqua Day.

A national delegate from West Virginia-Maryland, Miss Prine will take part in the memorial service, anniversary service and pledge service.

She also will serve on the equipment committee with Mrs. Patricia Mingledorf of Georgia, national first vice president. They are to have all equipment for business meetings and ceremonies prepared. Miss Prine also will be in charge of decorations for the penthouse luncheon to be held Friday for all national officers and delegates.

With all other delegates Miss Prine will compete in the "Ideal Sorority Sister" contest, which is judged on interest at the convention and cooperation in addition to a questionnaire.

Miss Prine is the immediate past state president and now historian of the local chapter. She has served as first vice president of the state before being appointed state president. She also has been president, vice president, warden, historian for three years and scrapbook chairman for the past two years of Iota Epsilon. She will take the book, which won first place in the state, and enter it in the national contest at the convention. Miss Prine also represents the chapter serving as committeewoman of Girl Scout Troop 22, which the chapter has sponsored since 1958.

The theme of the convention is "The Silver Challenge," marking the 25th anniversary of the sorority. Besides the business sessions, election of officers and rituals, there will be a Saturday night tour of Chicago, a silver anniversary luncheon Sunday, and Monday a combined tour of Chicago with the Woodman Circle, opening the men's convention. The local group will return home Monday night.

Iota Epsilon plans a swimming party for July and will resume meetings in September.

Ann Landers . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read your column for almost eight years and have learned a lot from it. Because of you I no longer feel guilty about refusing to answer the doorbell when the neighborhood pest shows up at 9:30 a. m. with her 3-year-old — full of conversation which used to last through lunch.

Now I have another problem. Does a person have the right NOT to answer the telephone if she doesn't feel like talking, or if it is inconvenient?

A certain relative who is a notorious yakker telephones me at approximately the same time every morning. She has tied me up for as long as 45 minutes with petty gossip and foolish chatter. I decided to just let the phone ring. I think she is wise. Am I wrong to do this? —WILL POWER

DEAR WILL: The person who puts in the call does so at HER convenience. Just because she is willing, able and ready to gab is no sign you have to be on deck to listen.

If you don't feel like talking — or listening — just let the bloomin' thing ring.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter will be 14 late this summer and we do not allow her to date. Both my husband and I are avid readers of your column and we are standing firm on this dating business until Margo gets to high school, which is what you recommend.

The problem is this: Margo has numerous friends, both boys and girls. She receives a good many telephone calls and both boys and girls seem to be visiting here frequently.

Shall we discourage the boys from calling or coming to the house? My husband or I are always present so children are well chaperoned.

We don't want to be too strict with our daughter but we don't want to go to the other extreme either. Where is the sensible middle ground? Thank you.—PONCA CITY

DEAR PONCA: You are wise to seek the middle ground and I believe it's where you are at the moment.

Keep saying no to dating until Margo is in high school, but permit boys to telephone and come to the house to visit. She won't feel deprived, yet she won't be dating.

My hat is off to you for having sense enough to insist on remaining in the driver's seat. These days too many parents are collapsable.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is not one on which the world will rise or fall but it has caused me endless consternation and I need help.

About four months ago I began to date a very nice man who operates a small business near my place of employment. He invited me out and I accepted. He brought along a corsage of green baby orchids. My dress was electric blue. I wore the flowers although electric blue and green are hideous together, as you can imagine.

Two weeks later it happened again. He brought along a corsage of red roses. My dress was a flaming tangerine. The color combination couldn't have been more nauseating.

Last week his lodge had its summer formal. This time he went all out—a huge purple orchid.. My gown was Ming dynasty red. I couldn't bear to put that purple flower on my red gown. So I pinned it to my evening bag. I'm afraid he was hurt.

Do you have any advice for me? This man seems to have a rare talent for selecting flowers of exactly the wrong color. —ERNA

DEAR ERNA: Don't discourage his tender sentiments. Just let him know that your favorite flowers are white—roses, gardenias, orchids, peonies, lilies, mums. Anything white.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

IBEW Auxiliary Picnic Tomorrow

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Electrical Workers Local 307, IBEW, will entertain with a family picnic tomorrow. It will be at Minke's beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Plans were made for a demonstration at the fair and a tour of the Crystal Laundry.

Alpha Alpha Southwest Party Today

A "Southwestern" dinner will be given by Alpha Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, for members and their husbands tonight. It will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Rourke, Robinwood Drive, LaVale.

Beginning with a cocktail hour at 6:30, a buffet dinner will be served around a chuck wagon, with a typical menu. The southwestern theme is being carried out in the decorations of branding irons, cactus, cowboy, and checked tablecloths.

Reservations have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeVore, Mr. and Mrs. Brooke Fradiska, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines, Mr. and Mrs. James Latta, Miss Judy Matt, John Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moran, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schelble, Miss Betty Stegmaier and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. William Sumner and Hugh Malamphy will be guests.

Tentative plans have been made for a dinner at the Ali Ghan Club in August. It will be in honor of the rushees the chapter is hoping to pledge this fall.

Mu Lambda Celebrates Birthday

Mu Lambda Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle gathered at Blackwater State Park, Davis, W. Va., for the first annual birthday celebration Monday.

Dinner was served in the Blackwater Lodge Dining Room overlooking Blackwater Canyon. Following the dinner, a birthday cake was served by Mrs. Leona Wilt, assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Dailey, state manager, Parkersburg, West Virginia. Gifts were exchanged.

Guests included Mrs. Dailey, Miss Sandra Riley, prospective member; Mrs. Delores Reckart, Mrs. Delia Reckart, Mrs. Ruby Palmer and Lloyd Wilt.

Social Chart

The Ladies Auxiliary 659 to the Carpenters Union, Local 1024 will meet Monday at 7:30 at the Labor Temple.

Sponsored by the Baltimore Conference, a laboratory school will be held at Cresaptown Methodist Church, June 23-26. The first session will be at 7 p. m.

Old Potomac Lodge 283, IAM Auxiliary, will hold a dinner at 6 p. m. Monday at Moon's Dining Room. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Betty Cage, PA 4-5722.

An all-day gathering will be held tomorrow at Hare Chapel, formerly the Methodist Church at Magnolia, W. Va. It will begin at 11 a. m. with a service. Following a basket lunch at noon there will be entertainment at 2 p. m.

Projects Selected

The Women's Society of World Service of First EUB Church will buy layettes for the World Community Day, assemble several "friendship kits" and cooperate with the church in the Bible study the end of September.

Plans were made at the meeting conducted by Mrs. E. E. Miller. Acknowledgements were read from the Quincy Home and Orphanage and the "New Eyes for the Needy" for contributions. Miss Charlotte Wolford, Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt and Mrs. Milton Johnson were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. J. Whiting Linaburg led the devotions, and with Mrs. R. C. Isiminger and Mrs. J. S. Cook Sr. reported on the missions. Others on the program were Mrs. Susan Clark and Mrs. William Knotts.

Secrets Of Charm

Four Rules For Healthier Hair

Because the weather is warm, you go outdoors much of the time without a hat. Hence your hair is always in the limelight. Is there any better reason for keeping your hair healthy?

Four basic rules should be sufficient to prevent dandruff and other scalp troubles and to give health to your hair.

These four rules are:

1. Keep your hair healthy by brushing it at least ten minutes each day with a clean brush.
2. Shampoo the hair regularly at least once a week if you have normal or dry scalp, and at least twice a week if hair is oily.
3. Get adequate sleep.
4. Follow the right diet. In the summertime have a balance of hot and cold menus, making an effort to increase your liquid intake.

Learn how to keep these summertime menus colorful and appetizing looking with "Your Beauty Diet." The laboratory-tested menus given in this booklet give the homemaker some wonderful ideas that will tempt the whole family. And it's carefully worked out for each individual's needs. Write to "Secrets of Charm," in care of this newspaper, and enclose 10 cents in coin, plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Experts know that foods rich in minerals and iodine are especially beneficial to hair health. For good nutrition, then, it is wise to try and include such things as fresh fruit, fresh vegetables, and sea food in your regular diet.

Mrs. Harry Beneman, budget, and Mrs. Tolson, nurses liaison chairman with the auxiliary and training school office.

Chairmen for the nurses dance committee, volunteer service through the hospital, nurses social and the pediatric welfare, in charge of favors for trays on holidays and Christmas gifts are to be appointed later in the summer.

The hospital will entertain Mrs. Lapp and her board at a luncheon a week preceding the general membership meeting early in September. Miss Sandra Dilfer, dietician, will be in charge of arrangements. At that time one of the projects to be considered is procuring an air conditioner for the library and class rooms in the nurses' home. Mrs. Lapp reported last evening that she has ordered the Addressograph plate for each member of the auxiliary to be put into use for the fall mailing.

Travel and tourism, according to many experts, is the world's largest industry. Travel is the Number One money earner in Italy, Switzerland and France, third largest in the United States. Nearly 10 million Americans spent $23 billion seeing their own country in 1962. Close to two million spent $2.6 billion abroad.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The next time you're hospitalized, here's how to have nurses consider you a "good" patient:

— Be cooperative, unselfish, friendly, undemanding, intelligent, resourceful, courageous and possibly good looking.

If, by some chance, you can't be all these things while feeling ill, you're likely to have nurses get the impression you're a "difficult case" or a "bad patient."

The points about good and bad patients are made in a report in the current issue of "Modern Hospital," a journal for hospital administrators.

Researcher Miriam Ritvo, of the Boston University Human Relations Center based her descriptions of "good" and "bad" patients on interviews with more than 1,000 persons involved in nursing service.

"It is true that psychologists say a sick person is not really himself," Mrs. Ritvo said.

"But the facts of hospital human relations seem to point out that you as a patient may often be judged by the same criteria applied to a pleasant neighbor, a worthy member of the community or a socially successful guest at a cocktail party."

The difficult patient was characterized by survey participants as follows:

—Demanding, self-centered, unpleasant, of poor personality, unfriendly and unwilling to help himself.

"In other words," Mrs. Ritvo said, "His social behavior is bad. He seems to be expected by his nurses to subordinate his illness to the comfort of all concerned with his care."

The social scientist said survey results seem to suggest that nurses do not have training experiences which prepare them to recognize and react to all types of patient behavior in an understanding and non-judgmental fashion.

"They also showed a tendency to underestime the frustrating effect of the denial of normal independence in the hospital situation," Mrs. Ritvo added.

She noted that nurses with more human relations training tended to say that there is no such person as a good or bad patient — since when they're sick, they're sick, and when they get better, they get nicer.

FOR NEW HOSPITAL — On behalf of Beta Sigma Phi City Council and all chapters, Mrs. Charles Drew presented a check for $600 to Sister Mary Richard Wednesday to be used toward furnishing a room in the new Sacred Heart Hospital. Mrs. Drew was president of the City Council when "it was the first organization in Cumberland to have anything with the prceeds for the building fund, before the big campaign started." Mrs. Paul Rank, left, was chairman for the Cruise Ball, held last April for the benefit of the hospital. All chapters and the City Council will resume business meetings in September.

Club Day Camp To Open Monday

The Cumberland Country Club Day Camp will open Monday with an enrollment of 60 children, Mrs. Ronald Rosher, president of the CCCDA Association, said last evening. It will be held from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Mondays through Friday. It will continue through September 2.

It will begin with dividing the group into swim classes. Alan Stockholm, will be director of the swim program. He will teach swimming, diving, scuba and lifesaving. A qualified Red Cross instructor, during the winter he is director of physical education at Allegany Community College.

Counselors for Day Camp are Miss Dorothy Minke, who has completed her junior year at Frostburg State Teachers College and had six years in camping experience, senior counselor; Miss Deborah Boden, who has completed her freshman year at Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., and had eight years in Girl Scout camping; and John Porter Moffatt III, a 1963 honor graduate at Allegany High School who has six years of Boy Scout camping experience.

The annual dance sponsored by the association will be held July 20 for club members and invited guests. Proceeds are used for the day camp. Mrs. Ralph Sell Jr. is chairman.

Juanita Prine To Take Part In TPL Convention

Plans to attend the national convention of Tau Phi Lambda of the Supreme Forest Woodman Circle were discussed at a meeting of members of Iota Epsilon Chapter Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary White, Furnace Acres.

The local chapter will be represented at the convention to be held at the Sherman House, Chicago, August 16 through 19, by Miss Juanita Prine, Mrs. White, Mrs. Juanita Leese, Mrs. Margaret Hartman and Miss Jacqua Day.

A national delegate from West Virginia-Maryland, Miss Prine will take part in the memorial service, anniversary service and pledge service.

She also will serve on the equipment committee with Mrs. Patricia Mingledorf of Georgia, national first vice president. They are to have all equipment for business meetings and ceremonies prepared. Miss Prine also will be in charge of decorations for the penthouse luncheon to be held Friday for all national officers and delegates.

With all other delegates Miss Prine will compete in the "Ideal Sorority Sister" contest, which is judged on interest at the convention and cooperation in addition to a questionnaire.

Miss Prine is the immediate past state president and now historian of the local chapter. She has served as first vice president of the state before being appointed state president. She also has been president, vice president, warden, historian for three years and scrapbook chairman for the past two years of Iota Epsilon. She will take the book, which won first place in the state, and enter it in the national contest at the convention. Miss Prine also represents the chapter serving as committeewoman of Girl Scout Troop 22, which the chapter has sponsored since 1958.

The theme of the convention is "The Silver Challenge," marking the 25th anniversary of the sorority. Besides the business sessions, election of officers and rituals, there will be a Saturday night tour of Chicago, a silver anniversary luncheon Sunday, and Monday a combined tour of Chicago with the Woodman Circle, opening the men's convention. The local group will return home Monday night.

Iota Epsilon plans a swimming party for July and will resume meetings in September.

Ann Landers . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have read your column for almost eight years and have learned a lot from it. Because of you I no longer feel guilty about refusing to answer the doorbell when the neighborhood pest shows up at 9:30 a. m. with her 3-year-old — full of conversation which used to last through lunch.

Now I have another problem. Does a person have the right NOT to answer the telephone if she doesn't feel like talking, or if it is inconvenient?

A certain relative who is a notorious yakker telephones me at approximately the same time every morning. She has tied me up for as long as 45 minutes with petty gossip and foolish chatter. I decided to just let the phone ring. I think she is wise. Am I wrong to do this? —WILL POWER

DEAR WILL: The person who puts in the call does so at HER convenience. Just because she is willing, able and ready to gab is no sign you have to be on deck to listen.

If you don't feel like talking — or listening — just let the bloomin' thing ring.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter will be 14 late this summer and we do not allow her to date. Both my husband and I are avid readers of your column and we are standing firm on this dating business until Margo gets to high school, which is what you recommend.

The problem is this: Margo has numerous friends, both boys and girls. She receives a good many telephone calls and both boys and girls seem to be visiting here frequently.

Shall we discourage the boys from calling or coming to the house? My husband or I are always present so children are well chaperoned.

We don't want to be too strict with our daughter but we don't want to go to the other extreme either. Where is the sensible middle ground? Thank you.—PONCA CITY

DEAR PONCA: You are wise to seek the middle ground and I believe it's where you are at the moment.

Keep saying no to dating until Margo is in high school, but permit boys to telephone and come to the house to visit. She won't feel deprived, yet she won't be dating.

My hat is off to you for having sense enough to insist on remaining in the driver's seat. These days too many parents are collapsable.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is not one on which the world will rise or fall but it has caused me endless consternation and I need help.

About four months ago I began to date a very nice man who operates a small business near my place of employment. He invited me out and I accepted. He brought along a corsage of green baby orchids. My dress was electric blue. I wore the flowers although electric blue and green are hideous together, as you can imagine.

Two weeks later it happened again. He brought along a corsage of red roses. My dress was a flaming tangerine. The color combination couldn't have been more nauseating.

Last week his lodge had its summer formal. This time he went all out—a huge purple orchid. My gown was Ming dynasty red. I couldn't bear to put that purple flower on my red gown. So I pinned it to my evening bag. I'm afraid he was hurt.

Do you have any advice for me? This man seems to have a rare talent for selecting flowers of exactly the wrong color.
—ERNA

DEAR ERNA: Don't discourage his tender sentiments. Just let him know that your favorite flowers are white—roses, gardenias, orchids, peonies, lilies, mums. Anything white.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Alpha Alpha Southwest Party Today

A "Southwestern" dinner will be given by Alpha Alpha Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, for members and their husbands tonight. It will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Rourke, Robinwood Drive, LaVale.

Beginning with a cocktail hour at 6:30, a buffet dinner will be served around a chuck wagon, with a typical menu. The southwestern theme is being carried out in the decorations of branding irons, cactus, cowboy, and checked tablecloths.

Reservations have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry DeVore, Mr. and Mrs. Brooke Fradiska, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hines, Mr. and Mrs. James Latta, Miss Judy Matt, John Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moran, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schelble, Miss Betty Stegmaier and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. William Sumner and Hugh Malamphy will be guests.

Tentative plans have been made for a dinner at the Ali Ghan Club in August. It will be in honor of the rushees the chapter is hoping to pledge this fall.

Mu Lambda Celebrates Birthday

Mu Lambda Chapter, Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Supreme Forest Woodmen Circle gathered at Blackwater State Park, Davis, W. Va., for the first annual birthday celebration Monday.

Dinner was served in the Blackwater Lodge Dining Room overlooking Blackwater Canyon. Following the dinner, a birthday cake was served by Mrs. Leona Wilt, assisted by Mrs. Kathryn Dailey, state manager, Parkersburg, West Virginia. Gifts were exchanged.

Guests included Mrs. Dailey, Miss Sandra Riley, prospective member; Mrs. Delores Reckart, Mrs. Delia Reckart, Mrs. Ruby Palmer and Lloyd Wilt.

Social Chart

The Ladies Auxiliary 659 to the Carpenters Union, Local 1024 will meet Monday at 7:30 at the Labor Temple.

Sponsored by the Baltimore Conference, a laboratory school will be held at Cresaptown Methodist Church, June 23-26. The first session will be at 7 p. m.

Old Potomac Lodge 283, IAM Auxiliary, will hold a dinner at 6 p. m. Monday at Moon's Dining Room. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Betty Cage, PA 4-5722.

An all-day gathering will be held tomorrow at Hare Chapel, formerly the Methodist Church at Magnolia, W. Va. It will begin at 11 a. m. with a service. Following a basket lunch at noon there will be entertainment at 2 p. m.

IBEW Auxiliary Picnic Tomorrow

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Electrical Workers Local 307, IBEW, will entertain with a family picnic tomorrow. It will be at Minke's beginning at 1:30 p.m.

A program of games for all age groups has been planned. All members and their families are urged to attend.

The social committee, composed of Mrs. Mary Houser, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mary Jane Stevens and Mrs. Betty Abe, is in charge of arrangements.

Projects Selected

The Women's Society of World Service of First EUB Church will buy layettes for the World Community Day, assemble several "friendship kits" and cooperate with the church in the Bible study the end of September.

Plans were made at the meeting conducted by Mrs. E. E. Miller. Acknowledgements were read from the Quincy Home and Orphanage and the "New Eyes for the Needy" for contributions. Miss Charlotte Wolford, Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt and Mrs. Milton Johnson were named to the nominating committee.

Mrs. J. Whiting Linaburg led the devotions, and with Mrs. R. C. Isiminger and Mrs. J. S. Cook Sr. reported on the missions. Others on the program were Mrs. Susan Clark and Mrs. William Knotts.

Program Held

A food demonstration and report on care of food were given by Mrs. Edwin Shank and Mrs. Wilmer Silber at the meeting of the North Branch Homemakers Club, held at the home of Mrs. Frank Bloss. Reports on Miniature Short Course were given by Mrs. John Goeshringer and Mrs. Russell Valentine.

Plans were made for a demonstration at the fair and a tour of the Crystal Laundry.

Secrets Of Charm

Four Rules For Healthier Hair

Because the weather is warm, you go outdoors much of the time without a hat. Hence your hair is always in the limelight. Is there any better reason for keeping your hair healthy?

Four basic rules should be sufficient to prevent dandruff and other scalp troubles and to give health to your hair.

These four rules are:

1. Keep your hair healthy by brushing it at least ten minutes each day with a clean brush.
2. Shampoo the hair regularly at least once a week if you have normal or dry scalp, and at least twice a week if hair is oily.
3. Get adequate sleep.
4. Follow the right diet. In the summertime have a balance of hot and cold menus, making an effort to increase your liquid intake.

Learn how to keep these summertime menus colorful and appetizing looking with "Your Beauty Diet." The laboratory-tested menus given in this booklet give the homemaker some wonderful ideas that will tempt the whole family. And it's carefully worked out for each individual's needs. Write to "Secrets of Charm," in care of this newspaper, and enclose 10 cents in coin, plus a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Experts know that foods rich in minerals and iodine are especially beneficial to hair health. For good nutrition, then, it is wise to try and include such things as fresh fruit, fresh vegetables, and sea food in your regular diet.

Cumberland Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will confer the Chevalier degree at the regular meeting June 26 at the Masonic Temple, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Ronald Burkey and Harold Smith will receive the Chevalier degree, which is the highest award a DeMolay boy can receive.

Members of the degree team are Charles Dicks, Walter Eyler, Dr. Warren Cook, Raymond Dorn, Owen Morris, and Roscoe McElfish.

The degree is open and the public is invited to attend.

Concluding the evening Cumber-Cumberland Chapter will have its annual strawberry festival. Refreshments will be prepared by the DeMolay Mothers Club.

The next regular meeting of the chapter will be July 10 at 8 p. m. at the temple.

Memorial Auxiliary Chairmen Appointed

Mrs. Raymond Lapp Jr., president of the Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, has appointed the majority of her chairmen, including the innovation of dividing some committees into special divisions.

Other officers serving with her are Mrs. William H. Geppert, Mrs. Ralph Sell Jr., first and second vice presidents; Mrs. James B. Reinhart, secretary; Mrs. James L. Weber, financial secretary; Mrs. Wesley A. McGraw Jr., treasurer; Mrs. G. Louis Spoerl, six-year director; Mrs. George M. Young, four years; Mrs. Richard Trevaskis Jr., Mrs. Margaret Butt, Mrs. Howard L. Tolson, two years.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Carlton Brinsfield, membership, with doctor and dentist divisions, the chairmen to be named later; Mrs. Geppert, hospitality, in charge of the spring and Thanksgiving teas; Mrs. Ryan, house, assisted by Mrs. Trevaskis, in charge of redecorating the nurses home and hospital and renewing furniture; Mrs. Joseph Pellerzi, ways and means, in charge of the annual Snow Ball, with Mrs. Trevaskis, Snow Ball consultant and advisor; Mrs. George Newman, pediatric volunteer service, in charge of game cards and assisting in entertaining and feeding the children; Mrs. O. M. Marquis, sewing group making things for the hospital; Mrs. Reinhart, pediatric sewing group; Mrs. Douglas Smith, surgical dressing group; Mrs. Lester Deneen, publicity; Mrs. William Bruce, telephone; Mrs. Glen Brant, luncheon committee, with Mrs. Pellerzi co-chairman, in charge of the annual spring and fall luncheons. Mrs. Harry Beneman, budget, and Mrs. Tolson, nurses liaison chairman with the auxiliary and training school office.

Chairmen for the nurses dance committee, volunteer service through the hospital, nurses social and the pediatric welfare, in charge of favors for trays on holidays and Christmas gifts are to be appointed later in the summer.

The hospital will entertain Mrs. Lapp and her board at a luncheon a week preceding the general membership meeting early in September. Miss Sandra Dilfer, dietician, will be in charge of arrangements. At that time one of the projects to be considered is procuring an air conditioner for the library and class rooms in the nurses' home. Mrs. Lapp reported last evening that she has ordered the Addressograph plate for each member of the auxiliary to be put into use for the fall mailing.

Travel and tourism, according to many experts, is the world's largest industry. Travel is the Number One money earner in Italy, Switzerland and France, third largest in the United States. Nearly 10 million Americans spent $23 billion seeing their own country in 1962. Close to two million spent $2.6 billion abroad.

If you've ever taken a child to the seashore, you know what that first glimpse of the ocean can mean to a youngster . . . the lure of fascination . . . the foreboding of fear. Which will win the struggle?

But what a delight when hesitation ends and Jeannie finds her happy beachhead down where the waves wane, and the tide seeks its rest.

And if you've ever taken a child to Sunday School, you know what that first glimpse of strange surroundings can mean.

But, even if there are misgivings that first Sunday, Jeannie soon finds her happy beachhead. And one day she'll plunge bravely and confidently into deeper reaches of the vast spiritual ocean that surrounds life.

Anything as vital as religious education deserves an early and earnest beginning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Church Lobby" Wins Migrant Worker Battle

By LOUIS CASSELS

This could be the year when church people finally succeed in doing something for migrant farm workers.

The migrants are America's poorest people. There are about one million of them—men, women and children—who eke out a living by "following the crops." With everyone working, including very young children, a migrant family may earn about $1,000 a year. Many migrants live in squalid shack towns. They are subject to exploitation by "crew leaders" who serve as brokers of their labor. Their children get little schooling and grow up illiterate, unable to break out of the migrant way of life. They have very high disease and death rates. They are not covered by any of the federal labor laws, they are not represented by a union, and their political influence is nil.

United In Appeal

Relieving their desperate plight has been a concern of America's major religious bodies for 40 years. It is one of the few public issues on which Protestants, Catholics and Jews have consistently spoken with one voice.

In the conviction that the migrants' problems can be solved only by federal legislation, the major faiths have joined forces in what is referred to in Washington—usually with a patronizing smile—as "the church lobby."

Year after year, the church lobby has charged forth into legislative battle. Always, until now, it has gone down to ignominious defeat at the hands of the large and powerful farm lobby.

A few weeks ago, the House of Representatives took up a bill, backed by the big farm interests, to extend for two years public law 78 — the so-called "bracero law" under which Mexican farm workers are imported into this country to fill the same kind of jobs that domestic migrants seek.

Sends Congress Letters

The migrant ministry of the National Council of Churches and the National Catholic Rural Life Conference sent letters to all members of Congress urging that Public Law 78 be allowed to expire on schedule at the end of the present year. They said the importation of braceros deprived domestic migrants of jobs, and drove down their already pitiable wages.

To the utter amazement of virtually everyone in Washington, the House rejected the two-year extension bill by a roll-call vote of 174 to 158. After the surprise vote, a prominent farm lobbyist stormed out of the Capitol and muttered to reporters:

"Those damn do-gooders have put one over on us."

It was the first clean-cut victory the church lobby had ever won over the farm lobby, and it was a heady experience. But as Fr. James Vizzard of the Catholic Rural Life Conference emphasized, "that was just one battle...we haven't won the war yet by a long shot."

The farm lobby will try again before the congressional session is over—this time throwing its weight behind a one-year extension bill. The betting is that it will get through—unless the church lobby can generate a tremendous amount of public support.

If you've ever taken a child to the seashore, you know what that first glimpse of the ocean can mean to a youngster . . . the lure of fascination . . . the foreboding of fear. Which will win the struggle?

But what a delight when hesitation ends and Jeannie finds her happy beachhead down where the waves wane, and the tide seeks its rest.

And if you've ever taken a child to Sunday School, you know what that first glimpse of strange surroundings can mean.

But, even if there are misgivings that first Sunday, Jeannie soon finds her happy beachhead. And one day she'll plunge bravely and confidently into deeper reaches of the vast spiritual ocean that surrounds life.

Anything as vital as religious education deserves an early and earnest beginning.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"Church Lobby" Wins Migrant Worker Battle

By LOUIS CASSELS

This could be the year when church people finally succeed in doing something for migrant farm workers.

The migrants are America's poorest people. There are about one million of them—men, women and children—who eke out a living by "following the crops." With everyone working, including very young children, a migrant family may earn about $1,000 a year. Many migrants live in squalid shack towns. They are subject to exploitation by "crew leaders" who serve as brokers of their labor. Their children get little schooling and grow up illiterate, unable to break out of the migrant way of life. They have very high disease and death rates. They are not covered by any of the federal labor laws, they are not represented by a union, and their political influence is nil.

United In Appeal

Relieving their desperate plight has been a concern of America's major religious bodies for 40 years. It is one of the few public issues on which Protestants, Catholics and Jews have consistently spoken with one voice.

In the conviction that the migrants' problems can be solved only by federal legislation, the major faiths have joined forces in what is referred to in Washington—usually with a patronizing smile—as "the church lobby."

Year after year, the church lobby has charged forth into legislative battle. Always, until now, it has gone down to ignominious defeat at the hands of the large and powerful farm lobby.

A few weeks ago, the House of Representatives took up a bill, backed by the big farm interests, to extend for two years public law 78 — the so-called "bracero law" under which Mexican farm workers are imported into this country to fill the same kind of jobs that domestic migrants seek.

Sends Congress Letters

The migrant ministry of the National Council of Churches and the National Catholic Rural Life Conference sent letters to all members of Congress urging that Public Law 78 be allowed to expire on schedule at the end of the present year. They said the importation of braceros deprived domestic migrants of jobs, and drove down their already pitiable wages.

To the utter amazement of virtually everyone in Washington, the House rejected the two-year extension bill by a roll-call vote of 174 to 158. After the surprise vote, a prominent farm lobbyist stormed out of the Capitol and muttered to reporters:

"Those damn do-gooders have put one over on us."

It was the first clean-cut victory the church lobby had ever won over the farm lobby, and it was a heady experience. But as Fr. James Vizzard of the Catholic Rural Life Conference emphasized, "that was just one battle...we haven't won the war yet by a long shot."

The farm lobby will try again before the congressional session is over—this time throwing its weight behind a one-year extension bill. The betting is that it will get through—unless the church lobby can generate a tremendous amount of public support.

New Jersey Man Named To Succeed Miss Walsh

Rollin P. Marquis, River Edge, N. J., the successor to Miss Mary G. Walsh as director of the Allegany County Library system, will take over his duties on July 1.

Dr. Adam S. Baer, Frostburg, president of the board of trustees, made the announcement yesterday.

Marquis was introduced at the dinner Thursday night in the Shrine Country Club honoring Miss Walsh upon her retirement June 30 after many years of service as Cumberland's only librarian of the Cumberland Free Public Library, and for the past three years as head of the Allegany County Library.

Marquis is a native of Badin, N. C. He attended Bard College, Annandale-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., and received a bachelor of arts degree from Columbia University.

He spent two years at Oxford University in England from 1948 to 1950 and was graduated in romance languages from St. Catherine's Society there.

From 1950 to 1952, he was a student of painting with the Art Students League of New York. In 1952 and 1953, Marquis was catalog assistant of the medical library of the College of Physicians, Columbia University.

He was administrative assistant of the Central Department of Church World Services, National Council of Churches, in New York from 1953 to 1956.

In 1956 and 1957, Marquis was administrative assistant for the Friends Committee on National Legislation in Washington.

He was graduated from the Carnegie Library School of the University of Pittsburgh in 1958 and in 1957 and 1958 was reference assistant in the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh.

During the 1958-59 period, Marquis was director of the Citizens' Library of Washington, Pa., and since 1959 has been director of the River Edge, N. J., Free Public Library.

He is married and his wife and three children will move here next month.

Band Will March

The Ridgeley School Band will meet today at 2 p. m. for participation in the "William E. Shuck Memorial Day" parade in Ridgeley. Full dress uniforms are required.

Maryland Room Is Dedicated At Library

The new Maryland Room in the Allegany County Library here was dedicated yesterday in memory of the late Wilbur V. Wilson, who served the library as trustee for many years.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, explained that Mr. Wilson provided funds for this room that will contain all of the library's books on Maryland, Allegany County and related subjects.

In addition, books on astronomy, Mr. Wilson's favorite subject, that have been donated by his friends in his memory will be included in the collection.

The dedication ceremony shortly before noon was attended by a number of local and county officials and representatives of various bodies and organizations.

Included in the program were the Mayor and City Council, the board of Allegany County Commissioners, a number of Court House officials, and the board of trustees of the Allegany County Library headed by Dr. Adam Baer of Frostburg.

Also present was Rollin P. Marquis, of River Edge, N. J., who has been chosen by the library board as Miss Walsh's successor. He was here Thursday as a guest at the testimonial dinner given Miss Walsh.

Mr. Wilson was on the board of trustees of the Cumberland Free Public Library for 36 years and between 1943 and 1953.

He served as president of the Commercial Savings Bank for many years before that institution was merged with the Liberty Trust Company. At the time of his death, he was on the board of directors of the merged Liberty Trust.

Return From Chicago

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beneman returned yesterday from Chicago, where they attended the International Furniture Exhibition and the American Furniture Marts' semi-annual market.

APPOINTED — Leo M. Pellerzi (above), formerly of Cumberland, has been elected president of the Federal Trial Examiners Conference, the professional association of all government hearing officers who preside over the administrative hearings held by the federal government. Pellerzi, a former Fort Hill athlete, is employed as a hearing examiner by the Interstate Commerce Commission. He is married to former Betty Lou Mearkle of Cumberland and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pellerzi of 333 Dorn Avenue.

Wilson Road Is Surfaced

The light surface treatment of about one mile of the East Wilson Road, which leads to the Boy Scout Camp on Seven Springs Run has been completed, according to a report by Harry T. Skelly, roads supervisor, to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Skelly said the project, which will eliminate a dust problem as well as provide a good roadway into the area, cost $3,464.53. The work was done by county forces.

Skelly also reported on other work done as the result of requests by property owners on various roadways.

A ditch across a tract owned by the Ellerslie Volunteer Fire Company was covered by the county at a cost of $376.22.

A total of $1,429.91 was spent on the installation of a drainage pipe in the LaVale area to eliminate flooding of property. The grading and work required for a parking area at Sylvan Retreat cost $2,288.89. This was done in conjunction with an addition to the Retreat facilities.

Skelly also said that guard rails were placed along a stretch of Frog Hollow Road in the Eckhart section for $853.51.

Howard Smith, Bowman's Addition appeared before the board to request something be done about a ditch across property he owns. Smith said that it is planned to build a foundation on the property and the ditch poses a problem.

There was some question expressed on who had the ditch dug and one explanation was that it was probably done during WPA days. The matter will be investigated by the County Roads Department.

Road Project Is Discussed

Harry T. Skelly, county roads supervisor, conferred yesterday with Commissioner Russell Carder of the county board concerning the relocation of about 900 feet of the roadway between Shaft and Midlothian.

Skelly had a drawing of the proposed relocation project, which is designed to eliminate a double reverse curve.

The Methodist Church located in the area has deeded a piece of property for the new route and the Borden Mining Company has turned over the rest of the tract needed. The mining firm has also deeded a tract to the church to replace the piece of land provided by the congregation.

The old roadway will be turned over to the mining firm in an exchange of the properties.

Wilson Is Appointed To Constable Post

Ivan C. Wilson, Midland, yesterday was named constable at large for Trial Magistrate Court here by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Wilson replaces Earl Heavener, who died recently. The new constable was a Republican candidate in the primary for county commissioners.

Local Champ Places Sixth In National Marbles Event

Cumberland's marbles champ, Louis Harris, finished sixth in the national marbles finals yesterday, the finest record ever compiled by a local champion.

Harris, in the final round of eight yesterday at Wildwood By The Sea, N. J., had an 11-13 record.

James Donahue, Springfield, Mass., who led the league in which Harris competed, won the national title by defeating John Riccardi, Yonkers, N. Y., 11-10. Against the national champ, Harris had had a 2-6 record.

C. Eugene Mason, recreation director who accompanied Harris to Wildwood, said naturally Harris is "disappointed but we are very proud of him and he played like a true champion."

Harris had staged a garrison finish Thursday with a 16-2 mark to rise from 11th place to seventh and gain a spot in the semi-final shootoff.

Bowhunters To Show Two Archery Films

Cumberland Bowhunters will show two archery films June 26 at 7:30 p. m. at Allegany Community College, Frederick Street.

The films are "Art of Archery," and "Shooting Techniques With Bow and Arrow." Instructions for hunting and tournament archery are explained in the films loaned by The Bear Archery Company and Ben Pearson Archery Company.

The showing is open to the public.

Bishop Hodges Comments On Pope Paul VI

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI)— The Most Rev. Joseph H. Hodges, bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Wheeling, said Friday the selection of Giovanni Cardinal Montini as Pope was "an excellent choice."

Bishop Hodges, who met the new Pope at the Vatican Council last year, said that "from a human standpoint, he is at an age when experience and physical strength will enable him to perform at the top of his ability.

"Spiritually, he is outstanding for his piety and personality, and in his writing and preaching.

"He has both experience from the point of administration of the universal Church, for the years he spent with Pope Pius XII, and he has also proved his pastoral ability in the work he has done in the Archdiocese of Milan," Hodges said.

Westernport Water Pressure Probed

WESTERNPORT— Westernport Water Department employes continued yesterday to determine the cause of a drop in water pressure between the town's chlorinator and Savage River Dam.

The situation was brought to the attention of the Mayor and Commissioners at their meeting Monday night by Robert Kalbaugh, water commissioner.

Emphasizing the fact that a water shortage does not presently exist, Kalbaugh said town employes would blow off the intake at the dam to determine if a pile-up of debris could be responsible for the drop in pressure.

Mrs. Katherine Hartig, town clerk, reported yesterday that 458,000 gallons of water were filtered, a figure approximately 100,000 less than normal. She added, however, that the level in the reservoir is 17 feet, a near normal level.

Bishop Hodges, who met the new Pope at the Vatican Council last year, said that "from a human standpoint, he is at an age when experience and physical strength will enable him to perform at the top of his ability.

"Spiritually, he is outstanding for his piety and personality, and in his writing and preaching.

"He has both experience from the point of administration of the universal Church, for the years he spent with Pope Pius XII, and he has also proved his pastoral ability in the work he has done in the Archdiocese of Milan," Hodges said.

Westernport Water Pressure Probed

WESTERNPORT— Westernport Water Department employes continued yesterday to determine the cause of a drop in water pressure between the town's chlorinator and Savage River Dam.

The situation was brought to the attention of the Mayor and Commissioners at their meeting Monday night by Robert Kalbaugh, water commissioner.

Emphasizing the fact that a water shortage does not presently exist, Kalbaugh said town employes would blow off the intake at the dam to determine if a pile-up of debris could be responsible for the drop in pressure.

Mrs. Katherine Hartig, town clerk, reported yesterday that 458,000 gallons of water were filtered, a figure approximately 100,000 less than normal. She added, however, that the level in the reservoir is 17 feet, a near normal level.

Finding Jobs For Teenagers

One of the few areas of agreement resulting from a multitude of studies on the state of the nation's employment is that young people are contributing heavily to the ranks of the unemployed. The reasons are several, although lack of skill and training is foremost.

Teenagers are contributing heavily to their own unemployment by dropping out of school before graduation. Despite wide publicity given the demand for highly trained workers, it has been estimated that as many as 40 per cent of the youths in school next year will never graduate.

Thus it is not surprising that the unemployment rate for teenagers has reached 18 per cent, the highest level since the Labor Department began keeping statistics on teenage employment in 1949. The long-range trend for teenage unemployment — especially among the unskilled—is continually upward.

Teenage unemployment is more than an economic problem. Not only are the ranks of juvenile delinquents drawn largely from the unemployed, but the scars of frustration will be deeply imbedded in the one out of six youths who cannot find employment.

That this is a serious situation is indicated by predictions that total unemployment will increase by one million by 1967, most of them young people without a high school diploma. A record 20 million persons will enter the labor force between now and 1975, and increasing competition for available jobs will be further compounded by the rising requirements of technical training.

Only a revolutionary idea to curtail sharply voluntary school dropouts can prevent the predicted additions to teenage unemployment from becoming a reality. That key should be earnestly sought by every educator, parent and adult with the slightest concern for the future of a society which is rapidly becoming more demanding.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

The U.S. Supreme Court, with Justice Stewart as the lone dissenter, has ruled that recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools—even in classes that allow individuals to absent themselves from a devotional period—is unconstitutional.

Well, that presumably settles it, for this particular generation of Supreme Court justices at least. But, in the perhaps not so distant future, it is quite possible that the issue will be revived by parents who consider that their children are being denied the protection of the Ninth and Tenth amendments to the Constitution, which originally put determination of the content of education among the rights reserved to the separate states, or to the citizens thereof.

The issue will never die for the simple reason that the First Amendment, which says that "Congress shall pass no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," is completely silent on the subject of voluntary prayers in public schools supported by the various state and municipal governments. Moreover, there is abundant evidence that Thomas Jefferson, who was the moving spirit behind the adoption of the First Amendment, had no discernible intention of telling local communities whether they should or should not permit prayers or religious instruction in their schools.

A professor at the University of Dubuque Theological Seminary, Robert M. Healey, recently combed over the writings of Thomas Jefferson on the subject of religion in public education for his Ph.D. dissertation. He struck pay dirt in Jefferson's proposals for building a tax-supported system of grammar school and college education for the state of Virginia. Jefferson, before there was any University of Virginia in his home town of Charlottesville, hoped to bring the College of William and Mary under state control. Abhorring a doctrinaire approach to religion, he regarded the existing professorships of divinity at William and Mary as expendable, but at the same time he advocated that the college send missionaries to the Indian tribes to "instruct them in the principles of Christianity." Thus Jefferson indicated that he believed the states, and the educators in the states, should retain the power and the right to use funds to teach a broadly conceived religion as they chose to whom they chose. What he was concerned with was keeping a single sect from imposing a theology on students.

When Jefferson outlined a curriculum for the University of Virginia, he included a provision for a "professor of ethics" who would be entrusted with presenting "the proofs of the being of a God, the creator, preserver, and supreme ruler of the universe, the author of all the relations of morality, and of the laws and obligations these infer." This is further evidence that Jefferson did not interpret the First Amendment to outlaw the teaching of religion in schools supported by public funds.

Since the "Father of the Constitution," James Madison, who conferred with Jefferson frequently, was particularly concerned with getting Jefferson's views accepted when the Bill of Rights was being formulated, it is a reasonable presumption that the men who wrote the First Amendment meant only what they explicitly said when they prohibited Congress from passing a federal law to "establish" a religion. How the voluntary recitation of the Lord's Prayer in state and city schools can be equated with the establishment of an official church by Congressional act is a semantic mystery.

The truth, as Professor Healey explains it after a prolonged immersion in Jefferson's writings, is that Jefferson regarded morality and religion as inseparable. "True religion," so Jefferson wrote to John Adams in 1817, "is morality . . . the sublime doctrines of philanthropism and deism taught us by Jesus of Nazareth, in which we all agree, constitute one religion." Carrying on from such precepts, Jefferson advocated developing the moral sense in school. If he equated the moral sense with the religious sense, and if he believed that Jesus's "doctrines of philanthropism" were a matter of common acceptance, he could hardly have been against the voluntary school recitation of a prayer which refers to a non-denominational Father in a non-denominational Heaven and which asks only that we be given our daily bread while we are being forgiven our trespasses and protected from evil.

The Supreme Court has interpreted the First Amendment in the light of its own thought. It has not really tried to discover what the Founding Fathers had in mind when they wrote it.

Eyebrows Raised Over Kennedy's Choice Of Clay For German Trip

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most interesting passenger in President Kennedy's entourage as he takes off for Germany is Gen Lucius Clay, the Georgia Democrat turned Republican, who once commanded U. S. troops in Germany.

Those who have closely studied Gen. Clay's operations frankly were mystified. Gen. Clay is the man who admitted in his memoirs that he had made the initial mistake of not negotiating an agreement with Russia giving the United States access rights into Berlin. This is the reason why the Russians and East Germans have controlled the highway into West Berlin and the root cause of all the maneuvering and near war over Berlin.

Furthermore, Gen. Clay, with all his charm and personal magnetism, has the reputation of being more on-again-off-again than any other so-called "friend of the White House."

Here is the record which caused eyebrow-lifting in diplomatic circles when it was learned that Gen. Clay would accompany the President to Germany and Berlin:

1. As postwar commander in Germany, Clay stopped the dismantling of the Nazi war factories, then handed the plants back to the old Nazi cartels. This was in direct contradiction to then American policy, and a surprise to Gen. George Marshall, then chief of staff. Later it contributed to the reason why Truman abruptly accepted Clay's resignation.

2. Though two Democratic Presidents, Roosevelt and Truman, had elevated Clay to among the highest commands in the U. S. Army and the Defense Mobilization Board, he turned round to become a brain-truster and booster of Dwight D. Eisenhower, helped raise money for him, later served as "king-maker" for the selection of Ike's Cabinet.

Clay was credited with picking George Humphrey to be Secretary of the Treasury and Charles E. Wilson of General Motors to be Secretary of Defense.

By this time Clay had become head of Continental Can, thanks to his friendship with Sidney Weinberg, a director of Continental Can and head of the Goldman-Sachs investment firm. In Ike's day, he had more frequent entree to the White House than anyone, with the possible exception of Tom Dewey.

He dipped his hand into all sorts of policies, from advising that the Voice of America be divorced from the State Department to urging that foreign policy re the cold war be transferred from the State Department to the National Security Council.

3. Vice President Johnson, not aware of Clay's past fumbles, picked him for a joint trip to Berlin during the Berlin wall crisis in 1961. Kennedy later sent him back as U. S. representative, where he made more fumbles.

First he held an off-the-record press conference at which he dropped word that the USA was ready to recognize East Berlin. Next day, following the furore from the West German press, he issued a flat denial. The Kennedy administration then became frozen with that denial.

Next Gen. Clay reinstated military patrols on the Berlin highway as a show of strength. This caused the Russians to bring out a superior show of strength and shoo our patrols off the highways. We bowed. It was a humiliating retreat which no smart commander should have got us into.

Then, when U. S. diplomats refused to show their passports to East German police — though John Foster Dulles previously had OK'd this — Gen. Clay ordered up U. S. tanks.

The Russians retaliated by matching our tanks. It created one of the most dangerous situations of the cold war. The headlines were glorious, but the retreat inglorious. The East Germans are now doing what Clay brought the tanks up to protest against. They are scrutinizing U. S. diplomatic credentials.

This is the retired general whom President Kennedy is taking with him as an adviser on Germany.

Will School Pupils Understand Court Decision?

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The controversy over prayers in public schools is just beginning. The problem is how to explain the latest decision of the Supreme Court of the United States to the American people—and, for that matter, to peoples abroad.

The highest court of the State of Maryland, for instance, said it was all right to say prayers in public schools. Two professed atheists disputed this, and the Supreme Court of the United States sided with them and reversed Maryland's highest court.

In Moscow, it has been repeatedly contended that atheism is preferable to any religion, and it has been insisted that there is no God. What shall be said to the students in American schools on this point? How can it be explained to countries whose governments do not forbid unrestricted religious worship?

A prominent Senator from a Northern state was telling his friends this week that, when his children came home from school the other day, they said the teacher had "forgotten to say the Lord's prayer." The prayer, which had been a regular part of the morning exercises in the school, really had been discontinued without explanation.

But what can a teacher say to the children? Suppose the student asks whether there is a God. May the teacher answer the question? To do so might offend the believers in atheism and this, according to the Supreme Court, could violate the Constitution. How might a teacher explain the latest ruling to the students? It might be done this way:

"The Supreme Court has said that we must not pray at our morning exercises or any other time in the school room. It says this violates the Constitution, which forbids Congress to pass any law 'respecting an establishment of religion.' "

"But," then asks the student, "did Congress pass such a law?"

"No," replies the teacher. "Some of the states did, however, and the Supreme Court says no state can pass such a law either."

"Where," asks the student, "can that be found in the Constitution?"

"It isn't there," replies the teacher, "but the Supreme Court says the Fourteenth Amendment covers it just the same, even though laws about religion aren't mentioned."

"But doesn't this mean," asks the student, "that now we do what the atheists say we must do—not mention God? Isn't that a kind of religion, too?"

"All I can do," answers the teacher, "is to quote to you what the Supreme Court says in its opinion. It is as follows:

" 'It is insisted that unless these religious exercises are permitted a "religion of secularism" is established in the schools. We agree of course that the state may not establish a "religion of secularism" in the sense of affirmatively opposing or showing hostility to religion, thus "preferring those who believe in no religion over those who do believe." We do not agree, however, that this decision in any sense has that effect.' "

But who can be sure what effect there will be on the mind of the school child who has been told day after day that there is a God, and then suddenly is told that the Supreme Court has ordered the teacher not to say so any longer in the school room or to permit any prayers whatsoever in a public school?

A nationwide campaign of education is going to be necessary to explain not only what the Court forbade, but why it is convinced that a prayer in school might be offensive to those who don't believe in God or in any prayers at all.

Can the people decide this issue for themselves by a vote? Senator J. Glenn Beall of Maryland, Republican, says he took a poll in his state and found that 71 per cent of the people favor Bible reading in the schools. Several Senators have proposed that an Amendment to the Federal Constitution be adopted which would read as follows:

"Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit the authority administering any school, school system, or educational institution supported in whole or in part from any public funds from providing for the participation by the students thereof in any periods of Bible reading or non-sectarian prayer if such participation is voluntary."

The sponsors of the foregoing are Senators Williams of Delaware, Beall of Maryland, Bennett of Utah, Goldwater of Arizona, Allott of Colorado, and Carlson of Kansas.

Senator Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Democrat, also is proposing a Constitutional Amendment which not only would uphold the constitutionality of Bible reading and prayers in public schools but would "preserve references to belief in or reliance upon God and any invocation of aid from God in governmental or public document, proceeding, ceremony and upon any coinage, currency or obligation of the United States that is standing or may come in the future years."

But Amendments of this kind may or may not be adopted. Meanwhile, the issues in the controversy over prayers are growing in complexity, and the average man will wonder why his children in school can't be told by their teachers that there is a God or what the Ten Commandments say about morality.

DEBT LIMIT LAW—The drive to curb government spending was behind the recent shenanigans in Congress where reluctance to raise the debt ceiling was overcome only in the last minute. Had Congress not acted when it did, the secretary of the Treasury would have had to undertake expensive and difficult financial juggling to stay within the law.

The law setting a limit on the size of the debt the government can incur is a relic of World War I. It has had to be raised innumerable times and on each occasion the administration in power has had to face the same withering criticism from Congress, the very body that authorizes and permits the government to spend all the money it does.

It is not at all surprising to find legislators who voted for big spending making speeches against raising the debt limit every time the matter comes up. Politically, it is smart for some of them to vote spending but argue for economy.

Many legislators have made this very point, but it was surprising to hear it the other day from a member of the minority political party in Congress. Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, unburdened himself of the following observation in a discussion of the debt ceiling matter:

"It has become simply a ritual dance—our semi-annual minuet—to divert the taxpayers' attention. Congress really has no intention of staying within whatever limit we vote."

President Kennedy wishes there were a lot more Republicans like Mosher.

Suicide 11th Leading Cause Of Death In U. S.

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Most of us have made important decisions in a haphazard fashion at some time in our life. But the emotionally disturbed person may go so far as to gamble his life against the possibility that things will improve if he survives the attempt.

This type of Russian roulette is risky and foolish, but it is surprising how frequently the aim is accomplished. The depressed individual who takes an overdose of sleeping tablets, but is saved by stimulants or the artificial kidney, often gains the attention he craves.

There are other ways of gambling with life. We call it suicide when the person dies but those who survive are regarded as crazy or heroic, depending upon the motive and the emotional status of the individual. The first man to fly the Atlantic alone used a small, one motor plane but, prior to the trip, made careful plans and calculated all risks. He became a hero.

Many persons walking the streets today are committing slow suicide. Among this group are alcoholics, addicts, and persons who refuse to do anything about known medical conditions that require treatment. Their deaths are not included in the annual suicide count, which is the 11th leading cause of death in the United States. The exception is the alcoholic who takes his life in a fit of despondency.

Marital crises and family quarrels are the most common causes of suicide in the young. These origins are less prevalent in the middle aged, and least in the elderly. Physical illness, loneliness, and a low socioeconomic status play more important roles in suicides among oldsters. The rate reaches its peak in men between 60 and 69, and in women at age 55.

GLAUCOMA WARNINGS

H. I. S. writes: Does glaucoma give any warning signs?

REPLY

Yes. Pain in the eyes often develops along with foggy vision. At night haloes are noted around street lights. The chronic variety of glaucoma is more insidious. It is described as coming on like "a thief in the night." Usually it is painless or with only slight aching. Complete blindness may occur with never an acute attack. For this reason, we advocate testing the pressure within the eyeball whenever visual disorders are noted.

PERIODIC NOSEBLEEDS

J. V. writes: My grandson has had frequent nosebleeds in the last six months. Is this a sign of rheumatic fever? His mother had nosebleeds and rheumatic fever as a child.

REPLY

Rheumatic fever is one possibility but there are more common causes, varying from injury to infection. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on nosebleed.

MANHANDLING PIMPLES

E. B. writes: My 21-year-old son squeezes his pimples so hard I'm afraid he is damaging his face. Won't this practice cause tumors?

REPLY

No, but it may lead to scars, deeper infections, or to prolongation of his acne. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on acne.

OVERWEIGHT AND CONCEPTION

Mrs. B. writes: Can becoming very fat make a woman sterile? I have a 6-year-old child and have not been able to have another.

REPLY

Not unless you are the one in a million who becomes fat because of a glandular disorder. There are many families in which the children are six or more years apart.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Herb Stein tells of a Hollywood merchant whose wife fell so madly in love with Cary Grant (whom she never had met, of course) that she could talk of virtually nothing else. The merchant finally went to his barber, and pleaded for a haircut that would make him look as much like Cary Grant as possible.

"Leave it to me," said the barber confidently, and went to work with a will. Soon big clumps of hair were falling in all directions. Increasingly concerned, the merchant finally asked, "Are you quite sure you know what Cary Grant looks like?" "Of course, I'm sure," asserted the barber. "I saw him four times in "The King and I.' "

A brilliant young editor on a big national magazine received steady promotions and salary increases for years, and seemed headed inevitably for the post of editor-in-chief. Then, unaccountably, he fell out of favor with the capricious owner and was banished to a minor post abroad. In his indignant wire of resignation to the owner, he demanded, "Why did you keep me on tiptoe so long if you weren't going to kiss me?"

Jack Fuller spotted a fortune teller intently scanning the shelves of a Fourth Avenue bookshop last week. He was looking for seance fiction.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Daydreaming needs no defense. It's the most pleasant of the mental gymnastics and requires no effort. All one has to do is to unsnap the leash on the mind, and let it wander. It is good to do this. In a trice, you can go anywhere and be anyone and do anything.

Karen came home with a pretty good final report card: good enough to get her out of the 4th grade into the 5th, but there was a notation that she does not finish her assignments on time. I put on my solemn expression and asked why. The child, tall and blonde and beautiful at the age of ten, put on a pout. "I daydream too much," she said.

Well, that's as wrong as insufficient daydreaming. Karen can sit at the dining room table, listening to me, staring at me, and not hear a word I say. I explained to her that she is prone to escape the drudgery of school work by dreaming, and that this is wrong. There is a time for dreaming, and a time for work and concentration.

She promised to try. "What do you dream about?" I asked. She swallowed hard. "Different things," she said. I nodded. "It would be dull if you dreamed the same thing. What different things?" Well, she said, there is this boy in her class named Jimmy. "He is a very polite boy. He's like — well, special. You know what I mean?" I assured her that I did.

"Sometimes I dream that we live together." "Live together?" "Yes. He's my big brother and he's always ten and I'm seven." "Why the difference in age?" Another gulp. "I'm too tall. When we have square dances in school, no boy ever picks me."

"Not even Jimmy?" The lower lip began to tremble. "Not even Jimmy. Anyway, he doesn't know I like him. I always have to dance with a girl. I'm the tallest in the whole class. So I dream that he's ten and I'm seven. He's kind of big and I'm little and we play games together." "What kind of games?" "Oh, different ones."

As you can see, daydreams can dull a heartache. Karen exudes affection because she needs so much of it herself.

I daydream at a typewriter. sometimes I stare at the blank sheet of paper and I do not see it. For awhile, I am Caligula or Clark Gable or Enrico Fermi. Sometimes, I'm Columbus staring west-southwest at a flat and vacant sea murmuring: "If we don't sight land in one more day, the crew will mutiny." Sometimes I'm Caryl Chessman fighting to escape the electric chair thinking up judicial points which confound the courts.

At others, I am Bob Lawrence, the best film editor in motion pictures and I not only save the picture, but I also write the music for it. I can stare at the Shrewsbury River, twenty feet behind the typewriter, and not see it at all. Once, I retreated from Moscow with Napoleon until my legs hurt.

When I was in elementary school, I daydreamed my way through. The classrooms — at least some of them — were behind the Statue of Liberty and I watched the ocean liners go down New York Bay to the sea. I dreamed I was on every one of them, heading for distant lands, far-off deserts, and strange people. In time, I knew the name of every big liner on sight, but I couldn't define an adverb. Change that to I can't.

Once, late at night, I dreamed my way right through my railroad station and had to walk back. Today, I can leave the office for the bathroom and, enroute, cover so many pleasant subjects that, by the time I arrive, I say: "Now what am I doing in here?" That, of course, is when I have it bad.

Daydreaming, carried out far enough, is schizophrenia. The schizophrenic is (1) unhappy in the real world; (2) happy in his deep daydreaming world, and this leads to (3) he's difficult to reach because he doesn't want to trade his lovely world for our miserable one.

The difference between Daydreaming and Nightdreaming is that daydreaming is controlled. In daydreaming, you choose the subject. In nightdreaming, the subject chooses you, and sometimes chews you. Me, I'm always being chased up dead-end streets. I don't even know who is chasing me, but I can tell you that, as a dream, it's monotonous.

My big girl Ginny, who will be 26 in two weeks, is also in favor of daydreaming. She heard about Karen's little problem and advised her to continue daydreaming. It was obvious that Karen thought that daydreaming was a grave crime. Now she understands that it isn't. It is merely a matter of choosing the time and place for it.

One day not long ago, two nuns who had once taught me in school were talking. Both remembered me as The Student Most Likely to Daydream His Way Through Life. "What did he do with his life?" said Sister Helen Dolores. Sister Maria Alacoque stretched herself up to her full four feet eleven. "Became a writer," she said. "Pretty well known."

"Ah," said Sister Helen Dolores, "then there's hope for everyone.". . .

Finding Jobs For Teenagers

One of the few areas of agreement resulting from a multitude of studies on the state of the nation's employment is that young people are contributing heavily to the ranks of the unemployed. The reasons are several, although lack of skill and training is foremost.

Teenagers are contributing heavily to their own unemployment by dropping out of school before graduation. Despite wide publicity given the demand for highly trained workers, it has been estimated that as many as 40 per cent of the youths in school next year will never graduate.

Thus it is not surprising that the unemployment rate for teenagers has reached 18 per cent, the highest level since the Labor Department began keeping statistics on teenage employment in 1949. The long-range trend for teenage unemployment — especially among the unskilled—is continually upward.

Teenage unemployment is more than an economic problem. Not only are the ranks of juvenile delinquents drawn largely from the unemployed, but the scars of frustration will be deeply imbedded in the one out of six youths who cannot find employment.

That this is a serious situation is indicated by predictions that total unemployment will increase by one million by 1967, most of them young people without a high school diploma. A record 20 million persons will enter the labor force between now and 1975, and increasing competition for available jobs will be further compounded by the rising requirements of technical training.

Only a revolutionary idea to curtail sharply voluntary school dropouts can prevent the predicted additions to teenage unemployment from becoming a reality. That key should be earnestly sought by every educator, parent and adult with the slightest concern for the future of a society which is rapidly becoming more demanding.

These Days

The U.S. Supreme Court, with Justice Stewart as the lone dissenter, has ruled that recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools—even in classes that allow individuals to absent themselves from a devotional period—is unconstitutional.

Well, that presumably settles it, for this particular generation of Supreme Court justices at least. But, in the perhaps not so distant future, it is quite possible that the issue will be revived by parents who consider that their children are being denied the protection of the Ninth and Tenth amendments to the Constitution, which originally put determination of the content of education among the rights reserved to the separate states, or to the citizens thereof.

The issue will never die for the simple reason that the First Amendment, which says that "Congress shall pass no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof," is completely silent on the subject of voluntary prayers in public schools supported by the various state and municipal governments. Moreover, there is abundant evidence that Thomas Jefferson, who was the moving spirit behind the adoption of the First Amendment, had no discernible intention of telling local communities whether they should or should not permit prayers or religious instruction in their schools.

A professor at the University of Dubuque Theological Seminary, Robert M. Healey, recently combed over the writings of Thomas Jefferson on the subject of religion in public education for his Ph.D. dissertation. He struck pay dirt in Jefferson's proposals for building a tax-supported system of grammar school and college education for the state of Virginia. Jefferson, before there was any University of Virginia in his home town of Charlottesville, hoped to bring the College of William and Mary under state control. Abhorring a doctrinaire approach to religion, he regarded the existing professorships of divinity at William and Mary as expendable, but at the same time he advocated that the college send missionaries to the Indian tribes to "instruct them in the principles of Christianity." Thus Jefferson indicated that he believed the states, and the educators in the states, should retain the power and the right to use funds to teach a broadly conceived religion as they chose to whom they chose. What he was concerned with was keeping a single sect from imposing a theology on students.

When Jefferson outlined a curriculum for the University of Virginia, he included a provision for a "professor of ethics" who would be entrusted with presenting "the proofs of the being of a God, the creator, preserver, and supreme ruler of the universe, the author of all the relations of morality, and of the laws and obligations these infer." This is further evidence that Jefferson did not interpret the First Amendment to outlaw the teaching of religion in schools supported by public funds.

Since the "Father of the Constitution," James Madison, who conferred with Jefferson frequently, was particularly concerned with getting Jefferson's views accepted when the Bill of Rights was being formulated, it is a reasonable presumption that the men who wrote the First Amendment meant only what they explicitly said when they prohibited Congress from passing a federal law to "establish" a religion. How the voluntary recitation of the Lord's Prayer in state and city schools can be equated with the establishment of an official church by Congressional act is a semantic mystery.

The truth, as Professor Healey explains it after a prolonged immersion in Jefferson's writings, is that Jefferson regarded morality and religion as inseparable. "True religion," so Jefferson wrote to John Adams in 1817, "is morality . . . the sublime doctrines of philanthropism and deism taught us by Jesus of Nazareth, in which we all agree, constitute one religion." Carrying on from such precepts, Jefferson advocated developing the moral sense in school. If he equated the moral sense with the religious sense, and if he believed that Jesus's "doctrines of philanthropism" were a matter of common acceptance, he could hardly have been against the voluntary school recitation of a prayer which refers to a non-denominational Father in a non-denominational Heaven and which asks only that we be given our daily bread while we are being forgiven our trespasses and protected from evil.

The Supreme Court has interpreted the First Amendment in the light of its own thought. It has not really tried to discover what the Founding Fathers had in mind when they wrote it.

Eyebrows Raised Over Kennedy's Choice Of Clay For German Trip

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Most interesting passenger in President Kennedy's entourage as he takes off for Germany is Gen Lucius Clay, the Georgia Democrat turned Republican, who once commanded U. S. troops in Germany.

Those who have closely studied Gen. Clay's operations frankly were mystified. Gen. Clay is the man who admitted in his memoirs that he had made the initial mistake of not negotiating an agreement with Russia giving the United States access rights into Berlin. This is the reason why the Russians and East Germans have controlled the highway into West Berlin and the root cause of all the maneuvering and near war over Berlin.

Furthermore, Gen. Clay, with all his charm and personal magnetism, has the reputation of being more on-again-off-again than any other so-called "friend of the White House."

Here is the record which caused eyebrow-lifting in diplomatic circles when it was learned that Gen. Clay would accompany the President to Germany and Berlin:

1. As postwar commander in Germany, Clay stopped the dismantling of the Nazi war factories, then handed the plants back to the old Nazi cartels. This was in direct contradiction to then American policy, and a surprise to Gen. George Marshall, then chief of staff. Later it contributed to the reason why Truman abruptly accepted Clay's resignation.

2. Though two Democratic Presidents, Roosevelt and Truman, had elevated Clay to among the highest commands in the U. S. Army and the Defense Mobilization Board, he turned round to become a brain-truster and booster of Dwight D. Eisenhower, helped raise money for him, later served as "king-maker" for the selection of Ike's Cabinet.

Clay was credited with picking George Humphrey to be Secretary of the Treasury and Charles E. Wilson of General Motors to be Secretary of Defense.

By this time Clay had become head of Continental Can, thanks to his friendship with Sidney Weinberg, a director of Continental Can and head of the Goldman-Sachs investment firm. In Ike's day, he had more frequent entree to the White House than anyone, with the possible exception of Tom Dewey.

He dipped his hand into all sorts of policies, from advising that the Voice of America be divorced from the State Department to urging that foreign policy re the cold war be transferred from the State Department to the National Security Council.

3. Vice President Johnson, not aware of Clay's past fumbles, picked him for a joint trip to Berlin during the Berlin wall crisis in 1961. Kennedy later sent him back as U. S. representative, where he made more fumbles.

"Nothing contained in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit the authority administering any school, school system, or educational institution supported in whole or in part from any public funds from providing for the participation by the students thereof in any periods of Bible reading or non-sectarian prayer if such participation is voluntary."

The sponsors of the foregoing are Senators Williams of Delaware, Beall of Maryland, Bennett of Utah, Goldwater of Arizona, Allott of Colorado, and Carlson of Kansas.

Senator Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, Democrat, also is proposing a Constitutional Amendment which not only would uphold the constitutionality of Bible reading and prayers in public schools but would "preserve references to belief in or reliance upon God and any invocation of aid from God in governmental or public document, proceeding, ceremony and upon any coinage, currency or obligation of the United States that is standing or may come in the future years."

But Amendments of this kind may or may not be adopted. Meanwhile, the issues in the controversy over prayers are growing in complexity, and the average man will wonder why his children in school can't be told by their teachers that there is a God or what the Ten Commandments say about morality.

DEBT LIMIT LAW—The drive to curb government spending was behind the recent shenanigans in Congress where reluctance to raise the debt ceiling was overcome only in the last minute. Had Congress not acted when it did, the secretary of the Treasury would have had to undertake expensive and difficult financial juggling to stay within the law.

The law setting a limit on the size of the debt the government can incur is a relic of World War I. It has had to be raised innumerable times and on each occasion the administration in power has had to face the same withering criticism from Congress, the very body that authorizes and permits the government to spend all the money it does.

It is not at all surprising to find legislators who voted for big spending making speeches against raising the debt limit every time the matter comes up. Politically, it is smart for some of them to vote spending but argue for economy.

Many legislators have made this very point, but it was surprising to hear it the other day from a member of the minority political party in Congress. Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, unburdened himself of the following observation in a discussion of the debt ceiling matter:

"It has become simply a ritual dance—our semi-annual minuet—to divert the taxpayers' attention. Congress really has no intention of staying within whatever limit we vote."

President Kennedy wishes there were a lot more Republicans like Mosher.

Suicide 11th Leading Cause Of Death In U. S.

By Theodore R. Van Dellen

Most of us have made important decisions in a haphazard fashion at some time in our life. But the emotionally disturbed person may go so far as to gamble his life against the possibility that things will improve if he survives the attempt.

This type of Russian roulette is risky and foolish, but it is surprising how frequently the aim is accomplished. The depressed individual who takes an overdose of sleeping tablets, but is saved by stimulants or the artificial kidney, often gains the attention he craves.

There are other ways of gambling with life. We call it suicide when the person dies but those who survive are regarded as crazy or heroic, depending upon the motive and the emotional status of the individual. The first man to fly the Atlantic alone used a small, one motor plane but, prior to the trip, made careful plans and calculated all risks. He became a hero.

Many persons walking the streets today are committing slow suicide. Among this group are alcoholics, addicts, and persons who refuse to do anything about known medical conditions that require treatment. Their deaths are not included in the annual suicide count, which is the 11th leading cause of death in the United States. The exception is the alcoholic who takes his life in a fit of despondency.

Marital crises and family quarrels are the most common causes of suicide in the young. These origins are less prevalent in the middle aged, and least in the elderly. Physical illness, loneliness, and a low socioeconomic status play more important roles in suicides among oldsters. The rate reaches its peak in men between 60 and 69, and in women at age 55.

GLAUCOMA WARNINGS

H. I. S. writes: Does glaucoma give any warning signs?

REPLY

Yes. Pain in the eyes often develops along with foggy vision. At night haloes are noted around street lights. The chronic variety of glaucoma is more insidious. It is described as coming on like "a thief in the night." Usually it is painless or with only slight aching. Complete blindness may occur with never an acute attack. For this reason, we advocate testing the pressure within the eyeball whenever visual disorders are noted.

PERIODIC NOSEBLEEDS

J. V. writes: My grandson has had frequent nosebleeds in the last six months. Is this a sign of rheumatic fever? His mother had nosebleeds and rheumatic fever as a child.

REPLY

Rheumatic fever is one possibility but there are more common causes, varying from injury to infection. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on nosebleed.

MANHANDLING PIMPLES

E. B. writes: My 21-year-old son squeezes his pimples so hard I'm afraid he is damaging his face. Won't this practice cause tumors?

REPLY

No, but it may lead to scars, deeper infections, or to prolongation of his acne. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on acne.

OVERWEIGHT AND CONCEPTION

Mrs. B. writes: Can becoming very fat make a woman sterile? I have a 6-year-old child and have not been able to have another.

REPLY

Not unless you are the one in a million who becomes fat because of a glandular disorder. There are many families in which the children are six or more years apart.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of diseases will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Herb Stein tells of a Hollywood merchant whose wife fell so madly in love with Cary Grant (whom she never had met, of course) that she could talk of virtually nothing else. The merchant finally went to his barber, and pleaded for a haircut that would make him look as much like Cary Grant as possible.

"Leave it to me," said the barber confidently, and went to work with a will. Soon big clumps of hair were falling in all directions. Increasingly concerned, the merchant finally asked, "Are you quite sure you know what Cary Grant looks like?" "Of course, I'm sure," asserted the barber. "I saw him four times in "The King and I.' "

A brilliant young editor on a big national magazine received steady promotions and salary increases for years, and seemed headed inevitably for the post of editor-in-chief. Then, unaccountably, he fell out of favor with the capricious owner and was banished to a minor post abroad. In his indignant wire of resignation to the owner, he demanded, "Why did you keep me on tiptoe so long if you weren't going to kiss me?"

Jack Fuller spotted a fortune teller intently scanning the shelves of a Fourth Avenue bookshop last week. He was looking for seance fiction.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

Daydreaming needs no defense. It's the most pleasant of the mental gymnastics and requires no effort. All one has to do is to unsnap the leash on the mind, and let it wander. It is good to do this. In a trice, you can go anywhere and be anyone and do anything.

Karen came home with a pretty good final report card: good enough to get her out of the 4th grade into the 5th, but there was a notation that she does not finish her assignments on time. I put on my solemn expression and asked why. The child, tall and blonde and beautiful at the age of ten, put on a pout. "I daydream too much," she said.

Well, that's as wrong as insufficient daydreaming. Karen can sit at the dining room table, listening to me, staring at me, and not hear a word I say. I explained to her that she is prone to escape the drudgery of school work by dreaming, and that this is wrong. There is a time for dreaming, and a time for work and concentration.

She promised to try. "What do you dream about?" I asked. She swallowed hard. "Different things," she said. I nodded. "It would be dull if you dreamed the same thing. What different things?" Well, she said, there is this boy in her class named Jimmy. "He is a very polite boy. He's like — well, special. You know what I mean?" I assured her that I did.

"Sometimes I dream that we live together." "Live together?" "Yes. He's my big brother and he's always ten and I'm seven." "Why the difference in age?" Another gulp. "I'm too tall. When we have square dances in school, no boy ever picks me."

"Not even Jimmy?" The lower lip began to tremble. "Not even Jimmy. Anyway, he doesn't know I like him. I always have to dance with a girl. I'm the tallest in the whole class. So I dream that he's ten and I'm seven. He's kind of big and I'm little and we play games together." "What kind of games?" "Oh, different ones."

As you can see, daydreams can dull a heartache. Karen exudes affection because she needs so much of it herself.

I daydream at a typewriter. sometimes I stare at the blank sheet of paper and I do not see it. For awhile, I am Caligula or Clark Gable or Enrico Fermi. Sometimes, I'm Columbus staring west-southwest at a flat and vacant sea murmuring: "If we don't sight land in one more day, the crew will mutiny." Sometimes I'm Caryl Chessman fighting to escape the electric chair thinking up judicial points which confound the courts.

At others, I am Bob Lawrence, the best film editor in motion pictures and I not only save the picture, but I also write the music for it. I can stare at the Shrewsbury River, twenty feet behind the typewriter, and not see it at all. Once, I retreated from Moscow with Napoleon until my legs hurt.

When I was in elementary school, I daydreamed my way through. The classrooms — at least some of them — were behind the Statue of Liberty and I watched the ocean liners go down New York Bay to the sea. I dreamed I was on every one of them, heading for distant lands, far-off deserts, and strange people. In time, I knew the name of every big liner on sight, but I couldn't define an adverb. Change that to I can't.

Once, late at night, I dreamed my way right through my railroad station and had to walk back. Today, I can leave the office for the bathroom and, enroute, cover so many pleasant subjects that, by the time I arrive, I say: "Now what am I doing in here?" That, of course, is when I have it bad.

Daydreaming, carried out far enough, is schizophrenia. The schizophrenic is (1) unhappy in the real world; (2) happy in his deep daydreaming world, and this leads to (3) he's difficult to reach because he doesn't want to trade his lovely world for our miserable one.

The difference between Daydreaming and Nightdreaming is that daydreaming is controlled. In daydreaming, you choose the subject. In nightdreaming, the subject chooses you, and sometimes chews you. Me, I'm always being chased up dead-end streets. I don't even know who is chasing me, but I can tell you that, as a dream, it's monotonous.

My big girl Ginny, who will be 26 in two weeks, is also in favor of daydreaming. She heard about Karen's little problem and advised her to continue daydreaming. It was obvious that Karen thought that daydreaming was a grave crime. Now she understands that it isn't. It is merely a matter of choosing the time and place for it.

One day not long ago, two nuns who had once taught me in school were talking. Both remembered me as The Student Most Likely to Daydream His Way Through Life. "What did he do with his life?" said Sister Helen Dolores. Sister Maria Alacoque stretched herself up to her full four feet eleven. "Became a writer," she said. "Pretty well known."

"Ah," said Sister Helen Dolores, "then there's hope for everyone.". . .

Dave Bruce Is First Freshman To Win County League Batting Title

Allegany High Shortstop Tops Loop With .533

Cutter Runner-Up With 441; Howard Reynolds Is Third

Dave Bruce, Allegany High School shortstop, is the 1963 batting champion of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League with an average of .533 and is the first freshman to annex the title in the 25-year history of the circuit.

Bruce appeared in all eleven games played by Coach Chester G. Payne's Campers and collected 16 hits in 30 official times at bat.

Cutter Is Runner-Up

Roger Cutter, of Beall High School, finished in the runner-up spot with an average of .441, Howard Reynolds, of Fort Hill was third with .436, Bobby Richardson, Mt. Savage fourth with .425 and Ralph Wilson, Mt. Savage, fifth with .421.

Bruce was the pitching ace of the Kiwanis Club, champions of the Hot Stove League in 1962, and posted a record of 12-2 for Bert Lawler's pennant and playoff winners.

Dave becomes the sixth Allegany player to capture the league batting crown. Other Camper players who paced the league in past years were: 1939 — Franklin See .436; 1943 — Bobby Williams .568; 1945 — Tommy Powers .480; 1949 — Roy Perrell .467; 1961 — Joe Ranker .600.

Fort Hill also has had six batting champions, namely, Charles "Butch" Cross, Gary Wolford, Ronnie Cage, Jim Manges, Elmer Freeland and Paul Whitford.

Often's .621 Is High

Fay Often, of Mt. Savage, is the league's only two-time winner. He set the pace in 1958 with an average of .453 and hung up an all-time high of .621 in 1960.

Mt. Savage's Robertson and Fort Hill's Reynolds obtained the most hits this season — 17 each. Mt. Savage players finished 1-2 in runs scored, Ralph Wilson having 16 and Eddie Garlitz 14.

A total of 137 players participated with the seven teams in the league this season. Beall used 24, Bruce 22, Allegany 21, Fort Hill's champions 19, LaSalle and Valley 18 each and Mt. Savage 15.

Twins Beat Birds, 5-2

Cop First Game On Homer Barrage

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) —Minnesota rode a homer barrage and the sharp relief pitching of Bill Dailey to a 5-2 victory over slumping Baltimore in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader Friday.

The Twins won the opener on the strength of Harmon Killebrew's solo homer, and two-run homers by Bob Allison and Jimmy Hall.

The power display came at the expense of veteran Ike Delock, who lost his second straight since the Orioles picked him up.

Dailey came on in the ninth inning for starter Lee Stange with one run in and the bases loaded. Stange had allowed only four hits when singles by Jim Gentile, Boog Powell, Jackie Brandt and Dick Brown brought in a run and brought on Dailey.

Dailey, making his 24th appearance, struck out Al Smith and John Orsino grounded into the final out.

Marilynn Smith Leads By Stroke

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Marilynn Smith withstood the surging challenge of pro golf queen Mickey Wright and clung to a one-stroke lead Friday with a 147 total at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Women's Western Open.

Miss Smith, the only member of the field of more than 100 to beat par in the opening round, went one over regulation figures with a 75 on the second day of the 34th annual tournament at the Maple Bluff Country Club.

Kathy Whitworth added a brilliant 72 to her initial 79 for a 151 total and third place.

PACES SCHOOL LEAGUE — Shortstop Dave Bruce became the first freshman to capture the batting championship of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League when he belted the ball at a .533 clip for the Allegany High Campers during the 1963 season. He collected 16 hits in 30 trips to the plate. Dave is the sixth Allegany player to win the title in the 25-year history of the county circuit.

Trinity Methodist Defeats Emmanuel In 12 Innings, 7-4

Trinity Methodist came through with three runs in the top of the 12th inning yesterday to defeat league-leading Emmanuel Methodist, 7-4, in an Inter-Church Softball League overtime thriller at Rolling Mill Field. It was only the second loss in ten games for Emmanuel.

Living Stone Church of the Brethren romped to a 12-2 triumph over First Christian at Triple Lakes, and Memorial Heights Baptist won by forfeit over LaVale Methodist.

Emmanuel pitcher Gary Crabtree, who struck out 15, pitched hitless ball from the fourth inning on before Trinity exploded in the 12th. Harold Corrigan went all the way on the mound for the Trinity team, which was led by Bob Robertson's home run.

Westernport defeated the Frostburg Little Moes yesterday in the Mountain City by the score of 5-1 and maintained its one-game lead in the Bi-State Pony League.

It was the fourth straight victory for the league leaders.

The game was highlighted by the hurling of Leo Mazzone, who struck out 11 of the first 12 batsmen he faced and wound up with a total of 17 whiffs as he limited the home team to two hits, including a two-bagger by Jim Chaney.

Westernport sewed up the game in the 5th by grouping two walks and four errors with a hit for five runs.

Phil Colosimo, Little Moes' pitcher, upped to total strikeouts for the season to 44 in 23 innings by whiffing an even dozen.

Jim Williams fired a 5-hitter in hurling Mt. Savage to a 4-0 decision over the LaVale Pirates at Shehan Field.

Gary Robinette, losing pitcher, yielded only six hits and struck out 12.

Ed Barth had two hits and Arthur "Pooch" Femi blasted a homer for the winners.

LaVale's Cubs scored a 6-4 triumph over Lonaconing on the latter's field. Jeff Williams, who pitched until the sixth, was the winner while Jim Love took the loss.

Bill Poorbaugh homered for LaVale. Lonaconing outhit the visitors, 9-5. Tom Shockey belted a homer and triple, Keith Kiddy had a three-bagger and single and Bill Marley collected a pair of singles for the losers.

Red Sox End Yankee Streak At Seven, 7-4

Geiger, Malzone Homer For Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — The Red Sox snapped league - leading New York's win streak at seven games Friday night when Bill Monbouquette and Dick Radatz stopped the Yankees on seven hits for a 7-4 Boston victory.

The largest Fenway Park crowd of the season, 31,120, saw Roger Maris drive in all four Yankee runs with his 13th homer afer a Tom Tresh single in the first, and a two-run single in the eighth. Monbouquette gained his tenth victory with a ninth inning assist from ace reliefer Radatz.

Gary Geiger hit his sixth home run and Frank Malzone belted his 11th to pace the 10-hit Boston attack on Yankee loser Ralph Terry and two reliefers. All seven Boston runs were scored before Terry was lifted in the fifth inning.

Mets Decision Phillies, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Mets, held hitless by Cal McLish for five innings, broke loose for two runs in the sixth and went on to trim the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1 Friday night.

The victory snapped a five-game losing string for the Mets while the loss was the Phils' fourth tsraight.

Met left - hander Al Jackson cracked McLish's hitless streak with a leadoff single in the sixth, then after a walk and an error loaded the bases, Frank Thomas doubled in the game's first two runs.

Jackson also singled in the seventh, following a walk to Al Moran, and the third New York run scored on Jim Piersall's bunt single.

VFW Rolls Over Toy Shop, 10-3

VFW, striking early with five runs in the second, bounced Toy Shop 10-3 yesterday in the Rec High School Baseball League contest at Municiapl Field.

Howard Reynolds, who supplanted starter Jim Diamond in the second inning, went the rest of the distance for the Vets, who chalked up their second straight win.

Allen Foley homered for VFW, and Bob Barth clubbed a pair of two-baggers and a single.

The Toy Shop, in dropping its first loss against an opening win, collected only four hits. Wayne Jewell was the losing hurler.

Wynn's Return Is Spoiled By Ninth Inning HR

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Portly, perspiring Early Wynn met heart aching frustration again Friday night in a comeback bid for his 300th Major League victory when Ron Hansen's two-run homer in the ninth inning gave the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

It was the fourth time that the 43-year-old Wynn had failed to notch his elusive 300th triumph and it hurt all the more because he had prepped for his chance for four months.

Wynn duelled through eight scoreless innings with fastballer Juan Pizarro before going down to defeat in his first start since the Indians brought him out of hibernation three weeks ago.

The veteran right-hander, trimmed down to nearly his normal playing weight even though he sat out the first eight weeks of the season, limited his former White Sox teammates to six hits until Floyd Robinson led off the ninth with his third single of the game.

Robinson moved to second on Jose Azcue's passed ball, then to third on Tom McCraw's sacrifice. Wynn then fanned Dave Nicholson for the second out but Hansen followed with a homer over the left field fence.

A pair of sterling mound performances featured yesterday's Hot Stove League doubleheader at Penn Avenue Field. Jimmy Decker twirled a four-hitter as unbeaten Salvation Army whipped the Elks, 7-0, and Ed Hollen fired a one-hitter in Rotary's 10-1 trouncing of B'nai B'rith.

Decker walked only one batter and fanned four in pitching Salvation Army to its fifth victory without a defeat. Terry Deremer supplied the batting punch with a triple, double and one-bagger, good for three RBIs. Rusty Kunis tripled, and Mo Rosenbaum excelled defensively in centerfield for Salvation Army.

Two of the four hits obtained by the Elks were for extra bases. Danny Kerr blasted a three-bagger and Gary Long hit a double. Kyle Geatz had the losers' other two bingles.

Hollen, a husky righthander, gave up a lone single to Ray Everly. He struck out ten, but walked four batters and hit two with pitched balls.

Gary Neus banged a triple and single, and Ernie Elliott collected two singles for the Rotarians, who notched their second victory in six games and knocked B'nai B'rith into the .500 class at 3-3.

Dave Bruce Is First Freshman To Win County League Batting Title

Allegany High Shortstop Tops Loop With .533

Cutter Runner-Up With 441; Howard Reynolds Is Third

Dave Bruce, Allegany High School shortstop, is the 1963 batting champion of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League with an average of .533 and is the first freshman to annex the title in the 25-year history of the circuit.

Bruce appeared in all eleven games played by Coach Chester G. Payne's Campers and collected 16 hits in 30 official times at bat.

Cutter Is Runner-Up

Roger Cutter, of Beall High School, finished in the runner-up spot with an average of .441, Howard Reynolds, of Fort Hill was third with .436, Bobby Richardson, Mt. Savage fourth with .425 and Ralph Wilson, Mt. Savage, fifth with .421.

Bruce was the pitching ace of the Kiwanis Club, champions of the Hot Stove League in 1962, and posted a record of 12-2 for Bert Lawler's pennant and playoff winners.

Dave becomes the sixth Allegany player to capture the league batting crown. Other Camper players who paced the league in past years were: 1939 — Franklin See .436; 1943 — Bobby Williams .568; 1945 — Tommy Powers .480; 1949 — Roy Perrell .467; 1961 — Joe Ranker .600.

Fort Hill also has had six batting champions, namely, Charles "Butch" Cross, Gary Wolford, Ronnie Cage, Jim Manges, Elmer Freeland and Paul Whitford.

Often's .621 Is High

Fay Often, of Mt. Savage, is the league's only two-time winner. He set the pace in 1958 with an average of .453 and hung up an all-time high of .621 in 1960.

Mt. Savage's Robertson and Fort Hill's Reynolds obtained the most hits this season — 17 each. Mt. Savage players finished 1-2 in runs scored, Ralph Wilson having 16 and Eddie Garlitz 14.

A total of 137 players participated with the seven teams in the league this season. Beall used 24, Bruce 22, Allegany 21, Fort Hill's champions 19, LaSalle and Valley 18 each and Mt. Savage 15.

PACES SCHOOL LEAGUE — Shortstop Dave Bruce became the first freshman to capture the batting championship of the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League when he belted the ball at a .533 clip for the Allegany High Campers during the 1963 season. He collected 16 hits in 30 trips to the plate. Dave is the sixth Allegany player to win the title in the 25-year history of the county circuit.

Twins Beat Birds, 5-2

Cop First Game On Homer Barrage

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minnesota rode a homer barrage and the sharp relief pitching of Bill Dailey to a 5-2 victory over slumping Baltimore in the first game of a twi-night doubleheader Friday.

The Twins won the opener on the strength of Harmon Killebrew's solo homer, and two-run homers by Bob Allison and Jimmy Hall.

The power display came at the expense of veteran Ike Delock, who lost his second straight since the Orioles picked him up.

Dailey came on in the ninth inning for starter Lee Stange with one run in and the bases loaded. Stange had allowed only four hits when singles by Jim Gentile, Boog Powell, Jackie Brandt and Dick Brown brought in a run and brought on Dailey.

Dailey, making his 24th appearance, struck out Al Smith and John Orsino grounded into the final out.

Marilynn Smith Leads By Stroke

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Marilynn Smith withstood the surging challenge of pro golf queen Mickey Wright and clung to a one-stroke lead Friday with a 147 total at the halfway mark of the 72-hole Women's Western Open.

Miss Smith, the only member of the field of more than 100 to beat par in the opening round, went one over regulation figures with a 75 on the second day of the 34th annual tournament at the Maple Bluff Country Club.

Kathy Whitworth added a brilliant 72 to her initial 79 for a 151 total and third place.

Trinity Methodist Defeats Emmanuel In 12 Innings, 7-4

Trinity Methodist came through with three runs in the top of the 12th inning yesterday to defeat league-leading Emmanuel Methodist, 7-4, in an Inter-Church Softball League overtime thriller at Rolling Mill Field. It was only the second loss in ten games for Emmanuel.

Living Stone Church of the Brethren romped to a 12-2 triumph over First Christian at Triple Lakes, and Memorial Heights Baptist won by forfeit over LaVale Methodist.

Emmanuel pitcher Gary Crabtree, who struck out 15, pitched hitless ball from the fourth inning on before Trinity exploded in the 12th. Harold Corrigan went all the way on the mound for the Trinity team, which was led by Bob Robertson's home run.

Westernport defeated the Frostburg Little Moes yesterday in the Mountain City by the score of 5-1 and maintained its one-game lead in the Bi-State Pony League.

It was the fourth straight victory for the league leaders.

The game was highlighted by the hurling of Leo Mazzone, who struck out 11 of the first 12 batsmen he faced and wound up with a total of 17 whiffs as he limited the home team to two hits, including a two-bagger by Jim Chaney.

Westernport sewed up the game in the 5th by grouping two walks and four errors with a hit for five runs.

Phil Colosimo, Little Moes' pitcher, upped to total strikeouts for the season to 44 in 23 innings by whiffing an even dozen.

Jim Williams fired a 5-hitter in hurling Mt. Savage to a 4-0 decision over the LaVale Pirates at Shehan Field.

Gary Robinette, losing pitcher, yielded only six hits and struck out 12.

Ed Barth had two hits and Arthur "Pooch" Femi blasted a homer for the winners.

LaVale's Cubs scored a 6-4 triumph over Lonaconing on the latter's field. Jeff Williams, who pitched until the sixth, was the winner while Jim Love took the loss.

Bill Poorbaugh homered for LaVale. Lonaconing outhit the visitors, 9-5. Tom Shockey belted a homer and triple, Keith Kiddy had a three-bagger and single and Bill Marley collected a pair of singles for the losers.

Red Sox End Yankee Streak At Seven, 7-4

Geiger, Malzone Homer For Boston

BOSTON (UPI) — The Red Sox snapped league - leading New York's win streak at seven games Friday night when Bill Monbouquette and Dick Radatz stopped the Yankees on seven hits for a 7-4 Boston victory.

The largest Fenway Park crowd of the season, 31,120, saw Roger Maris drive in all four Yankee runs with his 13th homer afer a Tom Tresh single in the first, and a two-run single in the eighth. Monbouquette gained his tenth victory with a ninth inning assist from ace reliefer Radatz.

Gary Geiger hit his sixth home run and Frank Malzone belted his 11th to pace the 10-hit Boston attack on Yankee loser Ralph Terry and two relievers. All seven Boston runs were scored before Terry was lifted in the fifth inning.

Wynn's Return Is Spoiled By Ninth Inning HR

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Portly, perspiring Early Wynn met heart aching frustration again Friday night in a comeback bid for his 300th Major League victory when Ron Hansen's two-run homer in the ninth inning gave the Chicago White Sox a 2-0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

It was the fourth time that the 43-year-old Wynn had failed to notch his elusive 300th triumph and it hurt all the more because he had prepped for his chance for four months.

Wynn duelled through eight scoreless innings with fastballer Juan Pizarro before going down to defeat in his first start since the Indians brought him out of hibernation three weeks ago.

The veteran right-hander, trimmed down to nearly his normal playing weight even though he sat out the first eight weeks of the season, limited his former White Sox teammates to six hits until Floyd Robinson led off the ninth with his third single of the game.

Robinson moved to second on Jose Azcue's passed ball, then to third on Tom McCraw's sacrifice. Wynn then fanned Dave Nicholson for the second out but Hansen followed with a homer over the left field fence.

A pair of sterling mound performances featured yesterday's Hot Stove League doubleheader at Penn Avenue Field. Jimmy Decker twirled a four-hitter as unbeaten Salvation Army whipped the Elks, 7-0, and Ed Hollen fired a one-hitter in Rotary's 10-1 trouncing of B'nai B'rith.

Decker walked only one batter and fanned four in pitching Salvation Army to its fifth victory without a defeat. Terry Deremer supplied the batting punch with a triple, double and one-bagger, good for three RBIs. Rusty Kunis tripled, and Mo Rosenbaum excelled defensively in centerfield for Salvation Army.

Two of the four hits obtained by the Elks were for extra bases. Danny Kerr blasted a three-bagger and Gary Long hit a double. Kyle Geatz had the losers' other two bingles.

Hollen, a husky righthander, gave up a lone single to Ray Everly. He struck out ten, but walked four batters and hit two with pitched balls.

Gary Neus banged a triple and single, and Ernie Elliott collected two singles for the Rotarians, who notched their second victory in six games and knocked B'nai B'rith into the .500 class at 3-3.

Palmer, Finsterwald And Cupit Lead National Open Golf With 142s

Jack Nicklaus Is Blown Out Of Tournament

Defending Champ's Score Soars To 153; Final Round Today

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

BROOKLINE (UPI) — Arnold Palmer fired a two under par 35-34-69 for a 142 total Friday to forge into a three-way tie for the second round lead in the U.S. Open golf championship while "76 trombones" blew Jack Nicklaus right out of action.

Big Jack took 76 blows—which wailing players call "trombones" —for a bitter 153 total that knocked him out of the lists by one slender shot in a frustrated defense of his title as the field was narrowed to the low 50 and ties.

But roaring along at the top with Palmer—and two rounds deciding it Saturday over the rough - matted country club of Brookline — were slender Dow Finsterwald and Texan Jacky Cupit.

Finsterwald "caught lightning in a bottle" with a 34-35—69 that matched the charging Palmer's pace while Cupit, one of five golf pro brothers from Midland, Tex., skidded a bit with a 34-38—72 but hung right up there with the leaders.

One Shot Off Pace

It was a gang rush toward the head end for just one slender shot off the pace at 143 this chilly, windy day came two others —Wally Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., and unknown Dean Refram of Boca Raton, Fla. Burkemo, a deadly match player, battled par to a standstill with a 34 - 37 — 71 while Refram, who plays out of Boca Raton, Fla., carded the same plits.

There was a two shot gap to 145 and there stood poker-faced Julius ((Moose) Boros with a 74; Davis Love of Charlotte, N.C. with a similar score, and champagne Tony Lema, who came home with a 35-39—74 and the analysis that "Anybody who shoots better than 284 on this course is cheating."

Australian Bruce Crampton with a 72, little Billy Maxwell with a 73 and Don January with a 74 were at 146; Gardner Dickinson at 147 with a 71; Paul Harney and Jimmy Clark at 148.

Bob Gajda, the Detroit veteran who led the first round with a two under par 69, skyrocketed to an 80 to stand at 149 along with such as Bobby Nichols, Jay Hebert, little Gary Player and Sammy Snead. The Slammer shot a 37-38—75 as he continued doggedly in search of the big one in which he has finished second four times but never has been able to win.

The Next Group

Lionel Hebert, George Bayer and Art Wall were at 150; such as Jackie Burke, Phil Rodgers and Al Baldina at 151, and, at 152 — the final place for a berth in the last two rounds—such as former champion Gene Littler and Big Mike Souchak.

Nicklaus was the prime target on day of deep despair for many of the mighty as they labored through high winds and battled wiry rough and handkerchief sized greens.

Those who failed to survive the cut along with Big Jack—first defender since Jack Fleck in 1956 who couldn't make the cut — included former champions Cary Middlecoff, Dick Mayer, Tommy Bolt and Fleck.

Going to the sidelines, too, were such stars as former amateur champion Deane Beman — as no amateur survived the cut — Vic Ghezzi, Chick Harbert, Johnny Pott, Bob Rosburg and Bob Goalby.

"More than anything," Nicklaus said as he walked dejectedly from the scene, "it hurts my price."

Hayes Breaks Century Mark

Florida Collegian Runs 100 In :09.1

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bob Hayes, of Florida A&M, shattered the worlds record for the 100-yard dash with a blistering :09.1 in the semi-finals of 75th annual National AAU track and field championships Friday night.

Hayes, winner last year in :09.3, a time he matched in the trial heats this morning, was caught in the new time by two of the three official watches. The other had him in :09.2 and the alternate watch also caught him in :09.1..

There was only a wind of 2.2 miles, well below the allowable 4.5.

Hayes' clocking breaks the old world mark of :09.2 which was set by Frank Budd of Villanova in 1961 and matched last year by Harry Jerome of Canada. Earlier this year Hayes turned in :09.3 in scoring victories in three of the major relay carnivals in California, Compton, Modesto and Mt. San Antonio.

Bill Hartack's Father Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Crashes His Pickup Truck Into Pole, Woman Is Wounded

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —William Hartack, father of jockey Bill Hartack, was shot at his home Friday and died after crashing a pickup truck into a pole while apparently seeking help, State Police reported.

Police said Cpl. G. G. Holdman found Hartack on a road leading from his one-story stucco farm home to West Virginia Route 51, about three miles west of Charles Town. He had been shot above the heart.

Holdman said a small caliber weapon was found in the house, but an immediate description of the weapon was not released.

A woman, not immediately identified, was found lying on the living room floor with a gunshot wound of one forearm and a small cut near the temple. She was taken to Charles Town General Hospital.

Police said all six bullets in the gun had been fired and the house was in general disarray, indicating a scuffle had taken place.

Bernie Tharpe, radio operator at the Jefferson County Community Center, said he received a telephone call about 3 p.m. from a crying woman who reported the shooting before the line went dead.

Tharpe said he thought the woman had hung up, but police said they found the telephone off its cradle in the Hartack home.

The crash of the pickup truck carrying Hartack knocked down a telephone pole and disrupted service in the area. It was possible the accident had caused the woman's call to be disconnected.

Hartack was believed to be in his late 50s.

His jockey son, who has been riding in the Chicago area, was scheduled to ride Chieftain in the Christiana Stakes for 2-year-olds at Delaware Park Saturday.

Jane Schiller To Defend Title In CCC Invitation Next Week

Set Record In 1962, 13th Golf Tourney To Open Thursday

Jane Schiller, of Salisbury, Md., is coming here next week to defend the title she won a year ago in the Women's Invitational Golf Tournament at the Cumberland Country Club.

Jane Schiller

Miss Schiller won the 36-hole event last June with a record 150. The Green Hills Country Club star had finished in the runner-up spot in 1961, 1960 and 1958. Jane won the first leg on the Old Export Bowl, the third donated by the Cumberland Brewing Company. The first two trophies were retired by Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore and Mrs. Robert Hughes, of Richmond, Va., who was Miss Barbara Diggs of Washington, D. C. A player must win three tournaments, not necessarily in succession, to gain permanent possession of the Old Export Bowl.

Next week's tourney is the 13th sponsored by the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club.

Practice rounds are set for Wednesday and will be followed by the first 18 holes Thursday and the final 18 on Friday.

Approximately 60 players from Pennslvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia are expected to participate in the three-division test. Players will be divided into three groups, according to their handicaps. Approximately 12 members of the host organization will compete.

Mrs. G. William Bibby, member of the tournament steering committee, also announced yesterday that Mrs. Wilson Howard, of the Argyle Country Club, Washington, D. C., is among the early entries. Mrs. Wilson is a seven handicap player. Other members of the local committee are Mrs. Gordon L. Bowie, Mrs. Somerville Nicholson and Mrs. W. Royce Hodges.

Palmer, Finsterwald And Cupit Lead National Open Golf With 142s

Jack Nicklaus Is Blown Out Of Tournament

Defending Champ's Score Soars To 153; Final Round Today

By OSCAR FRALEY
UPI Sports Writer

BROOKLINE (UPI) — Arnold Palmer fired a two under par 35-34—69 for a 142 total Friday to forge into a three-way tie for the second round lead in the U.S. Open golf championship while "76 trombones" blew Jack Nicklaus right out of action.

Big Jack took 76 blows—which wailing players call "trombones"—for a bitter 153 total that knocked him out of the lists by one slender shot in a frustrated defense of his title as the field was narrowed to the low 50 and ties.

But roaring along at the top with Palmer—and two rounds deciding it Saturday over the rough - matted country club of Brookline — were slender Dow Finsterwald and Texan Jacky Cupit.

Finsterwald "caught lightning in a bottle" with a 34-35—69 that matched the charging Palmer's pace while Cupit, one of five golf pro brothers from Midland, Tex., skidded a bit with a 34-38—72 but hung right up there with the leaders.

One Shot Off Pace

It was a gang rush toward the head end for just one slender shot off the pace at 143 this chilly, windy day came two others —Wally Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., and unknown Dean Refram of Boca Raton, Fla. Burkemo, a deadly match player, battled par to a standstill with a 34 - 37 — 71 while Refram, who plays out of Boca Raton, Fla., carded the same plits.

There was a two shot gap to 145 and there stood poker-faced Julius ((Moose) Boros with a 74; Davis Love of Charlotte, N.C. with a similar score, and champagne Tony Lema, who came home with a 35-39—74 and the analysis that "Anybody who shoots better than 284 on this course is cheating."

Australian Bruce Crampton with a 72, little Billy Maxwell with a 73 and Don January with a 74 were at 146; Gardner Dickinson at 147 with a 71; Paul Harney and Jimmy Clark at 148.

Bob Gajda, the Detroit veteran who led the first round with a two under par 69, skyrocketed to an 80 to stand at 149 along with such as Bobby Nichols, Jay Hebert, little Gary Player and Sammy Snead. The Slammer shot a 37-38—75 as he continued doggedly in search of the big one in which he has finished second four times but never has been able to win.

The Next Group

Lionel Hebert, George Bayer and Art Wall were at 150; such as Jackie Burke, Phil Rodgers and Al Baldina at 151, and, at 152 — the final place for a berth in the last two rounds—such as former champion Gene Littler and Big Mike Souchak.

Nicklaus was the prime target on day of deep despair for many of the mighty as they labored through high winds and battled wiry rough and handkerchief sized greens.

Those who failed to survive the cut along with Big Jack—first defender since Jack Fleck in 1956 who couldn't make the cut — included former champions Cary Middlecoff, Dick Mayer, Tommy Bolt and Fleck.

Going to the sidelines, too, were such stars as former amateur champion Deane Beman — as no amateur survived the cut — Vic Ghezzi, Chick Harbert, Johnny Pott, Bob Rosburg and Bob Goalby.

"More than anything," Nicklaus said as he walked dejectedly from the scene, "it hurts my price."

Braves Tie Tigers For Dan Loop Lead, Edge Dodgers, 8-7

DAN DIVISION

	W.	L.	Pct.
Braves	3	0	1.000
Tigers	3	0	1.000

Athletics	2	1	.667
Senators	1	2	.333
Dodgers	1	2	.333
Twins	0	3	.000
Indians	0	3	.000

Spotting the Dodgers six runs in the first three innings, the Braves rallied in the late frames to register a come-from-behind 8-7 victory yesterday at Dapper Dan Field and tied the Tigers for first place in the Dan Division of the Little League.

Kurt Muller's two-run double in the 6th frame put the Braves ahead to stay.

Kevin Friend, who was relieved by Joe Simpson in the 6th, received credit for the win. Friend fanned 12 in five innings, including a two-bagger by the latter. Simpson collected two safeties. Fields had two of the losers' five hits, Jimmie Daum rapped a triple and Sandy Miller banged a two-bagger.

Hayes Breaks Century Mark

Florida Collegian Runs 100 In :09.1

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Bob Hayes, of Florida A&M, shattered the worlds record for the 100-yard dash with a blistering :09.1 in the semi-finals of 75th annual National AAU track and field championships Friday night.

Hayes, winner last year in :09.3, a time he matched in the trial heats this morning, was caught in the new time by two of the three official watches. The other had him in :09.2 and the alternate watch also caught him in :09.1..

There was only a wind of 2.2 miles, well below the allowable 4.5.

Hayes' clocking breaks the old world mark of :09.2 which was set by Frank Budd of Villanova in 1961 and matched last year by Harry Jerome of Canada. Earlier this year Hayes turned in :09.3 in scoring victories in three of the major relay carnivals in California, Compton, Modesto and Mt. San Antonio.

Bill Hartack's Father Dies Of Gunshot Wound

Crashes His Pickup Truck Into Pole, Woman Is Wounded

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) —William Hartack, father of jockey Bill Hartack, was shot at his home Friday and died after crashing a pickup truck into a pole while apparently seeking help, State Police reported.

Police said Cpl. G. G. Holdman found Hartack on a road leading from his one-story stucco farm home to West Virginia Route 51, about three miles west of Charles Town. He had been shot above the heart.

Holdman said a small caliber weapon was found in the house, but an immediate description of the weapon was not released.

A woman, not immediately identified, was found lying on the living room floor with a gunshot wound of one forearm and a small cut near the temple. She was taken to Charles Town General Hospital.

Police said all six bullets in the gun had been fired and the house was in general disarray, indicating a scuffle had taken place.

Bernie Tharpe, radio operator at the Jefferson County Community Center, said he received a telephone call about 3 p.m. from a crying woman who reported the shooting before the line went dead.

Tharpe said he thought the woman had hung up, but police said they found the telephone off its cradle in the Hartack home.

The crash of the pickup truck carrying Hartack knocked down a telephone pole and disrupted service in the area. It was possible the accident had caused the woman's call to be disconnected.

Hartack was believed to be in his late 50s.

His jockey son, who has been riding in the Chicago area, was scheduled to ride Chieftain in the Christiana Stakes for 2-year-olds at Delaware Park Saturday.

Mt. Savage Seeks 8th Straight Win In Pen-Mar Today

Loop Leaders Will Play Host To Lonaconing

Old G's To Battle Frostburg Sunday, Hyndman Is Here

Mt. Savage's front-running Old Germans will be shooting for their eighth consecutive victory today when they oppose Lonaconing in a Pen-Mar Baseball League game at 3:30 p.m. in Mt. Savage.

Manager Kenny Johnson's defending champions and 'Coney will be tangling for the third time this season. Lonaconing won the first game and the league leaders copped the second tilt, 11-5.

Umpires for today's game are John Boyle and Eddie Eyler.

Three games are on tap for Sunday with the Frostburg at Mt. Savage battle heading the program.

These teams have split even in games played to date, the Merchants bagging the opener, 9-5, and dropping the second battle, 13-8. The teams met seven times last season and Mt. Savage won the series, which included a playoff game for the pennant and the playoffs, four games to three.

Won Eight In Row

Lefty Wayne Johnson, the winningest pitcher in the six-club circuit, is slated to work on the firing line for Mt. Savage in one of the two contests. He lost his first start of the season to Lonaconing, 5-2, and then reeled off eight victories in a row, his victims being Barrelville, 6-0, Hyndman 4-1, Frostburg 13-8, Hyndman 8-2, Barrelville 8-7, Cumberland 2-0, Lonaconing 11-5 and Cumberland 4-3.

Lefty Bob Johnson, Salem College freshmen, is expected to join Frostburg and may pitch tomorrow's game. Ralph Peace (3-2) also is available for mound duty.

Mt. Savage's record is 10-2 and Frostburg and Cumberland's Hermans trail the leaders with 7-5 marks.

Hermans Home Sunday

The Hermans, now managed by Ronnie Cage and Ed Parsons, are home tomorrow for a shot at last place Hyndman which hasn't crashed the win column since June 2 and is 2-8 for the season. The first game of this series was a 10-10 tie while Cumberland copped the second contest, 12-6.

Scene of tomorrow's action is Municipal Baseball Park and game time is 2:30 p.m.

Barrelville will host Lonaconing in the third league game on tap for tomorrow. Lonaconing (6-5) holds 8-0 and 3-1 decisions over the Old Exports who have won only three of 13 games this season.

Howard L. Northcraft, league secretary, announced yesterday that the Hyndman at Cumberland 10-10 tie of May 22 is rescheduled for Saturday, June 29.

Changes In Rosters

Roster changes made by the teams are as follows:

Lonaconing signed John Wilson and James Powelson. Frostburg signed Paul Thompson and Robert Johnson and released Dave Kerch, Paul Wilson and Bobby Dawson. Mt. Savage released "Pooch" Taylor, George Bishields, Alfred Meyers, Tom Deffinbaugh, Larry Birmingham and Bobby Uhl and signed Raymond Winner, Thomas Hotchkiss and Bobby Dawson. Gary Mangus and Tom Keyser have been signed by Cumberland.

Bill To Outlaw Boxing Defeated

MADISON (UPI)—A bill that would have banned boxing in Wisconsin was defeated by the state assembly Thursday 54-19.

Assemblyman Albert Tadych, D-Milwaukee, who introduced the bill and said he boxed in college, called the sport "a throwback to our barbaric past."

A similar bill was killed 28-4 in the state Senate earlier this year.

Cubs Edge Pirates, 6-5, For Fourth Straight Win

Chicago Breaks Tenth Inning Tie On Rodgers' Hit

CHICAGO (UPI)—Andre Rodgers' bases-loaded single with one out in the 10th inning Friday scored Ellis Burton and gave the Chicago Cubs their fourth straight win, 6-5, over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The hit, second of the inning for the Cubs, to wind up their 13-hit attack, gave Don Elston, the third Cubs' pitcher, his third win of the season and saddled Joe Gibbon, the fifth of six Pittsburgh hurlers, with his fifth loss.

Burton opened the game-winning rally with a single and reached second on Dick Bertell's sacrifice. Ken Aspromonte, batting for Elston, was walked intentionally.

Then head coach Bob Kennedy of the Cubs and manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates went into a strategical fencing match. Kennedy chose Nelson Matthews to bat for Don Landrum and Murtaugh lifted Gibbon in favor of Tommy Sisk.

Kennedy then switched to Lou Brock, who drew a walk to fill the bases and set up Rodgers' blow.

Ernie Banks, who earlier this week passed a milestone by driving in his 1,000th run, contributed a double to run his career total bases over 3,000. He had 2,999 before Friday's game and became the fourth Cubs player to exceed 3,000.

Every Cubs' starter, including pitcher Bob Buhl, had at least one hit with Burton and Rodgers each getting three.

Burton had a home run, his third in the major leagues, and a double.

The Pirates overcame a three-run Cub lead in the seventh when Smoky Burgess got a pinch double to drive in three runs.

Earlier Bill Mazeroski had a triple to drive in one run and scored himself on an infield out.

It was the Cubs' fifth win in their last six games and gave them a 5-1 season's record over the Pirates.

Deremer Pitches No-Hit Game For Dapper Red Sox

DAPPER DIVISION

	W.	L.	Pct.
Cardinals	3	0	1.000
Giants	3	0	1.000
Cubs	2	1	.667
Red Sox	2	1	.667
Pirates	1	2	.333
Orioles	1	2	.333
Yankees	0	3	.000
Phillies	0	3	.000

Righthander Terry Deremer pitched the first no-hit game of the season in the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday as the Red Sox breezed to a 10-0 triumph over the winless Yankees in a Dapper Division contest at East Side Field.

The Cardinals, behind the two-hit pitching of Herb Roby, moved into a tie for first place with a 10-0 conquest of the Cubs at Post Field, and the Orioles downed the Pirates 7-2 at Constitution Park. The Cards and the Giants share the Dapper Division lead with a 3-0 record.

Deremer, a 12-year-year-old, allowed only four Yankees to get on base and sent 14 of them down on strikeouts. He issued two walks, and two batters reached on errors. Deremer also made a lot of noise with his bat, collecting a home run, triple and single. Jack Chaney had a double and single for the Sox.

Roby struck out ten and surrendered only two singles as the Cardinals handed the Cubs their first loss of the campaign. Pat Adams rapped out three base hits, and Walt Orndorff and Greg Hare came through with two apiece for the winners.

A bases-loaded triple by Billy Senns highlighted a five-run outburst by the Orioles in the bottom of the fifth. Terry Largent belted a two-run three-bagger, and Timmy Squires doubled for the Orioles.

Losing pitcher Ron Golden, with a double and single, and Jim Stafford and Graham with two singles apiece accounted for all but one of the Pirates' safeties.

National Jet	0	14	.000

Red-hot Kennell's Mill racked up its sixth straight win in the County Softball League yesterday, downing Stringtown 10-3 at Kennell's Mill.

Barrelville's first place Old Germans gave up two first inning runs, but then went on to rout Hyndman, 13-2, and second place Corriganville dumped National Jet, 9-2, at Narrows Park.

Bill Kenney, Barrelville's "meal ticket," upped his and the team's record to 11-3, pitching scoreless ball after the first inning.

Kenney was backed by a 13-hit attack that included home runs by John Witt, Bob Cessna and Ronnie Neubeiser. Kenny Neubeiser rapped a pair of doubles for the Old Germans. Hyndman was limited to three singles.

Corriganville cut loose for seven tallies in the opening frame and coasted the rest of the way behind Art Raygor. Wayne Duckworth and Jack Lowery collected two singles apiece, and Leo Lease tripled for the Corks.

Ray Troutman upped his pitching log to 5-1 as Kennell's Mill evened its record at 7-7. Bill Bryant sparked Kennell's Mill with a triple, double and single. Dave Cook, Bob Gomer and Rich Troutman obtained two hits each for the winners, while Dick Close doubled and singled for Stringtown.

Mount Storm Puts 11-Game Win Streak On The Line Sunday

Mount Storm will be angling for its 12th and 13th straight wins in the Town and Country Softball League Sunday when it plays a twin bill at Swallow Falls at 2 p.m.

The league leaders (12-2) hold a one game edge over runner-up Loch Lynn (11-3).

Mount Storm has reeled off 11 straight wins since its last loss to Loch Lynn on May 12. During the winning streak Rich Smith, of Cumberland, has bagged nine of the wins, including four doubleheaders, and Bob Foster has scored two victories. Smith owns a 10-2 record and Foster is 2-0.

In other action tomorrow, Loch Lynn hosts Kitzmiller, Friendsville visits Acident, Petersburg entertains Markleysburg and the National Guard meets Oakland at Southern High Field in Oakland.

Drs. W. A. Van Ormer And Cawley Victors

Dr. W. A. Van Ormer and Dr Frank T. Cawley defeated Dr. Donald Grove and Dr. W. Royce Hodges, 2 and 1, yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club to win the annual Memorial Hospital Trophy match.

A good sized gallery witnessed the match in which Dr. Van Ormer excelled for the winning twosome.

Old G's To Battle Frostburg Sunday, Hyndman Is Here

Mt. Savage's front-running Old Germans will be shooting for their eighth consecutive victory today when they oppose Lonaconing in a Pen-Mar Baseball League game at 3:30 p.m. in Mt. Savage.

Manager Kenny Johnson's defending champions and 'Coney will be tangling for the third time this season. Lonaconing won the first game and the league leaders copped the second tilt, 11-5.

Umpires for today's game are John Boyle and Eddie Eyler.

Three games are on tap for Sunday with the Frostburg at Mt. Savage battle heading the program.

These teams have split even in games played to date, the Merchants bagging the opener, 9-5, and dropping the second battle, 13-8. The teams met seven times last season and Mt. Savage won the series, which included a playoff game for the pennant and the playoffs, four games to three.

Won Eight In Row

Lefty Wayne Johnson, the winningest pitcher in the six-club circuit, is slated to work on the firing line for Mt. Savage in one of the two contests. He lost his first start of the season to Lonaconing, 5-2, and then reeled off eight victories in a row, his victims being Barrelville, 6-0, Hyndman 4-1, Frostburg 13-8, Hyndman 8-2, Barrelville 8-7, Cumberland 2-0, Lonaconing 11-5 and Cumberland 4-3.

Lefty Bob Johnson, Salem College freshmen, is expected to join Frostburg and may pitch tomorrow's game. Ralph Peace (3-2) also is available for mound duty.

Mt. Savage's record is 10-2 and Frostburg and Cumberland's Hermans trail the leaders with 7-5 marks.

Hermans Home Sunday

The Hermans, now managed by Ronnie Cage and Ed Parsons, are home tomorrow for a shot at last place Hyndman which hasn't crashed the win column since June 2 and is 2-8 for the season. The first game of this series was a 10-10 tie while Cumberland copped the second contest, 12-6.

Scene of tomorrow's action is Municipal Baseball Park and game time is 2:30 p.m.

Barrelville will host Lonaconing in the third league game on tap for tomorrow. Lonaconing (6-5) holds 8-0 and 3-1 decisions over the Old Exports who have won only three of 13 games this season.

Howard L. Northcraft, league secretary, announced yesterday that the Hyndman at Cumberland 10-10 tie of May 22 is rescheduled for Saturday, June 29.

Changes In Rosters

Roster changes made by the teams are as follows:

Lonaconing signed John Wilson and James Powelson. Frostburg signed Paul Thompson and Robert Johnson and released Dave Kerch, Paul Wilson and Bobby Dawson. Mt. Savage released "Pooch" Taylor, George Bishields, Alfred Meyers, Tom Deffinbaugh, Larry Birmingham and Bobby Uhl and signed Raymond Winner, Thomas Hotchkiss and Bobby Dawson. Gary Mangus and Tom Keyser have been signed by Cumberland.

Bill To Outlaw Boxing Defeated

MADISON (UPI)—A bill that would have banned boxing in Wisconsin was defeated by the state assembly Thursday 54-19.

Assemblyman Albert Tadych, D-Milwaukee, who introduced the bill and said he boxed in college, called the sport "a throwback to our barbaric past."

A similar bill was killed 28-4 in the state Senate earlier this year.

Cubs Edge Pirates, 6-5, For Fourth Straight Win

Chicago Breaks Tenth Inning Tie On Rodgers' Hit

CHICAGO (UPI)—Andre Rodgers' bases-loaded single with one out in the 10th inning Friday scored Ellis Burton and gave the Chicago Cubs their fourth straight win, 6-5, over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The hit, second of the inning for the Cubs, to wind up their 13-hit attack, gave Don Elston, the third Cubs' pitcher, his third win of the season and saddled Joe Gibbon, the fifth of six Pittsburgh hurlers, with his fifth loss.

Burton opened the game-winning rally with a single and reached second on Dick Bertell's sacrifice. Ken Aspromonte, batting for Elston, was walked intentionally.

Then head coach Bob Kennedy of the Cubs and manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates went into a strategical fencing match. Kennedy chose Nelson Matthews to bat for Don Landrum and Murtaugh lifted Gibbon in favor of Tommy Sisk.

Kennedy then switched to Lou Brock, who drew a walk to fill the bases and set up Rodgers' blow.

Ernie Banks, who earlier this week passed a milestone by driving in his 1,000th run, contributed a double to run his career total bases over 3,000. He had 2,999 before Friday's game and became the fourth Cubs player to exceed 3,000.

Every Cubs' starter, including pitcher Bob Buhl, had at least one hit with Burton and Rodgers each getting three.

Burton had a home run, his third in the major leagues, and a double.

The Pirates overcame a three-run Cub lead in the seventh when Smoky Burgess got a pinch double to drive in three runs.

Earlier Bill Mazeroski had a triple to drive in one run and scored himself on an infield out.

It was the Cubs' fifth win in their last six games and gave them a 5-1 season's record over the Pirates.

Deremer Pitches No-Hit Game For Dapper Red Sox

DAPPER DIVISION

Giants	3	0	1.000
Cubs	2	1	.667
Red Sox	2	1	.667
Pirates	1	2	.333
Orioles	1	2	.333
Yankees	0	3	.000
Phillies	0	3	.000

Righthander Terry Deremer pitched the first no-hit game of the season in the Dapper Dan Little League yesterday as the Red Sox breezed to a 10-0 triumph over the winless Yankees in a Dapper Division contest at East Side Field.

The Cardinals, behind the two-hit pitching of Herb Roby, moved into a tie for first place with a 10-0 conquest of the Cubs at Post Field, and the Orioles downed the Pirates 7-2 at Constitution Park. The Cards and the Giants share the Dapper Division lead with a 3-0 record.

Deremer, a 12-year-year-old, allowed only four Yankees to get on base and sent 14 of them down on strikeouts. He issued two walks, and two batters reached on errors. Deremer also made a lot of noise with his bat, collecting a home run, triple and single. Jack Chaney had a double and single for the Sox.

Roby struck out ten and surrendered only two singles as the Cardinals handed the Cubs their first loss of the campaign. Pat Adams rapped out three base hits, and Walt Orndorff and Greg Hare came through with two apiece for the winners.

A bases-loaded triple by Billy Senns highlighted a five-run outburst by the Orioles in the bottom of the fifth. Terry Largent belted a two-run three-bagger, and Timmy Squires doubled for the Orioles.

Losing pitcher Ron Golden, with a double and single, and Jim Stafford and Graham with two singles apiece accounted for all but one of the Pirates' safeties.

National Jet	0	14	.000

Red-hot Kennell's Mill racked up its sixth straight win in the County Softball League yesterday, downing Stringtown 10-3 at Kennell's Mill.

Barrelville's first place Old Germans gave up two first inning runs, but then went on to rout Hyndman, 13-2, and second place Corriganville dumped National Jet, 9-2, at Narrows Park.

Bill Kenney, Barrelville's "meal ticket," upped his and the team's record to 11-3, pitching scoreless ball after the first inning.

Kenney was backed by a 13-hit attack that included home runs by John Witt, Bob Cessna and Ronnie Neubeiser. Kenny Neubeiser rapped a pair of doubles for the Old Germans. Hyndman was limited to three singles.

Corriganville cut loose for seven tallies in the opening frame and coasted the rest of the way behind Art Raygor. Wayne Duckworth and Jack Lowery collected two singles apiece, and Leo Lease tripled for the Corks.

Ray Troutman upped his pitching log to 5-1 as Kennell's Mill evened its record at 7-7. Bill Bryant sparked Kennell's Mill with a triple, double and single. Dave Cook, Bob Gomer and Rich Troutman obtained two hits each for the winners, while Dick Close doubled and singled for Stringtown.

Mount Storm Puts 11-Game Win Streak On The Line Sunday

Mount Storm will be angling for its 12th and 13th straight wins in the Town and Country Softball League Sunday when it plays a twin bill at Swallow Falls at 2 p.m.

The league leaders (12-2) hold a one game edge over runner-up Loch Lynn (11-3).

Mount Storm has reeled off 11 straight wins since its last loss to Loch Lynn on May 12. During the winning streak Rich Smith, of Cumberland, has bagged nine of the wins, including four doubleheaders, and Bob Foster has scored two victories. Smith owns a 10-2 record and Foster is 2-0.

In other action tomorrow, Loch Lynn hosts Kitzmiller, Friendsville visits Acident, Petersburg entertains Markleysburg and the National Guard meets Oakland at Southern High Field in Oakland.

Drs. W. A. Van Ormer And Cawley Victors

Dr. W. A. Van Ormer and Dr Frank T. Cawley defeated Dr. Donald Grove and Dr. W. Royce Hodges, 2 and 1, yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club to win the annual Memorial Hospital Trophy match.

A good sized gallery witnessed the match in which Dr. Van Ormer excelled for the winning twosome.

Rails Lead Way As Stocks Continue Upward March

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rails outperformed a firm and moderately active stock market Friday. The Dow-Jones rail average rose 2.20 to 174.00, its highest level since Oct. 17, 1929—12 days before the stock market crash.

Good gains in nearly a half-dozen rail issues helped support the jump in the average. Chicago & North Western and CanadianPacific were up a point apiece, Louisville & Nashville rose 1⅝, New York Central tacked on 1¼ and Nickel Plate added 1½.

Strength in the rail group reflects news that President Kennedy has arranged an extension of the rail strike deadline and that Congress would be asked to intercede if no accord is worked out between management and union.

Dow-Jones industrials rose 1.93 to 720.78 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.24. Trading totaled 4,190,000 shares compared with 4,970,000 in the previous session.

Steels also improved on news that a general contract agreement has been reached between the steelworkers union and 11 big steel producers. Nearly a half-dozen steels moved higher including Bethlehem and U.S. Steel, both up ½, Republic up ⅛ and Continental up 2.

Motors firmed despite news that output this week is scheduled to drop 2 per cent from last week. Du Pont dropped 1½ in an irregularly lower chemical section. Among the blue chips, Alcoa tacked on 1⅞ and Texaco 1½. Texaco has reached an agreement with the Justice Department prohibiting it from new joint world marketing arrangements with other big petroleum firms.

Of the 1,305 issues traded, 683 advanced and 343 declined—60 to new 1963 highs and 7 to new lows.

Both American and Eastern improved in the airlines despite news that their plan to merge had been rejected by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

U.S. Steel topped the most active list on a turnover of 69,100 shares. This was followed by American Radiator up 1⅛, Penn Railroad up ¾, U.S. Smelting and American Airlines.

Prices on the American Exchange were irregularly higher on a turnover of 1,390,000 shares compared with 1,500,000 in the previous session. Featured on the "Amex" were Syntex off 2¼ and Pyle National up 1⅜.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures took a sharp cut Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off 1¾ to 2⅛; corn off ½ to 1⅛; oats off ½ to up ¼; rye off ½ to 1½; and soybeans off ⅞ to 3⅛.

Wheat was down more than 2 cents a bushel on general selling and scattered hedge sales. A private crop report that indicated larger soft wheat production than last year was an influence. Traders were apparently not phased by reports that bad weather delayed harvest in the southwest.

Corn weakened in heavy selling by longs and commission houses. Crop news was good. Some dealers expect the Commodity Credit Corp. to dump its 16.5 million bushels of corn held in Chicago elevators on the market when the new crop wheat arrives in volume.

Local longs were extensive sellers of soybeans, especially November. The market ran into stop-loss orders and prices dropped more than 2 cents. A private survey was optimistic about the new bean crop.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

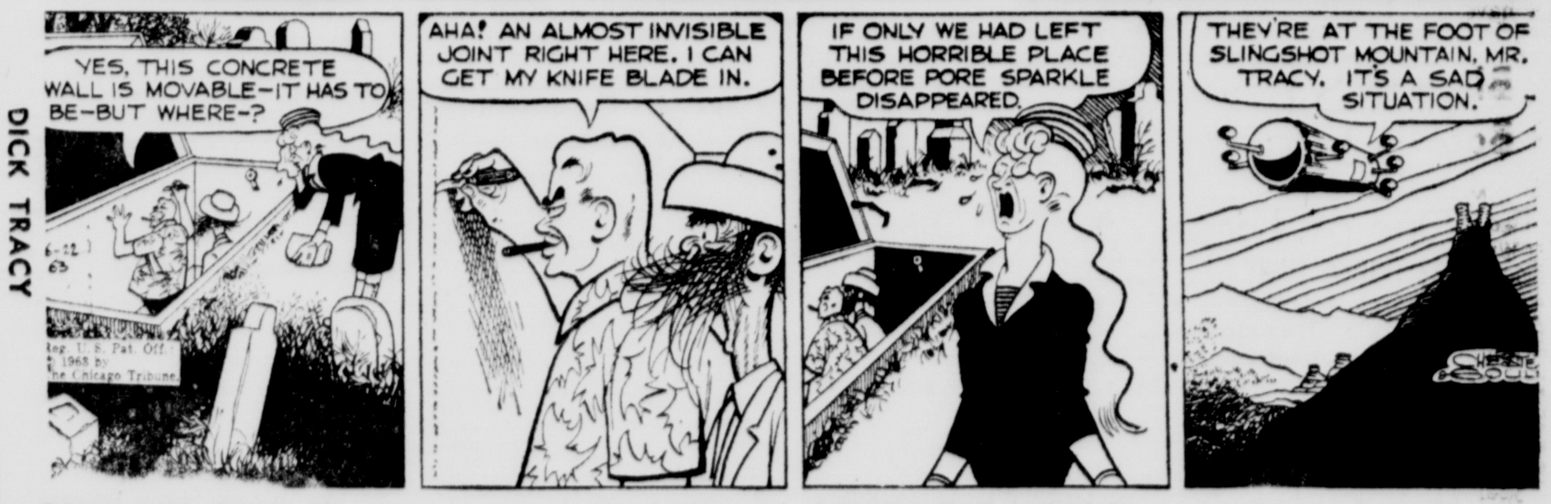
PAPPY THROWED ME OUT TO ROOT FER MYSELF

DICK TRACY

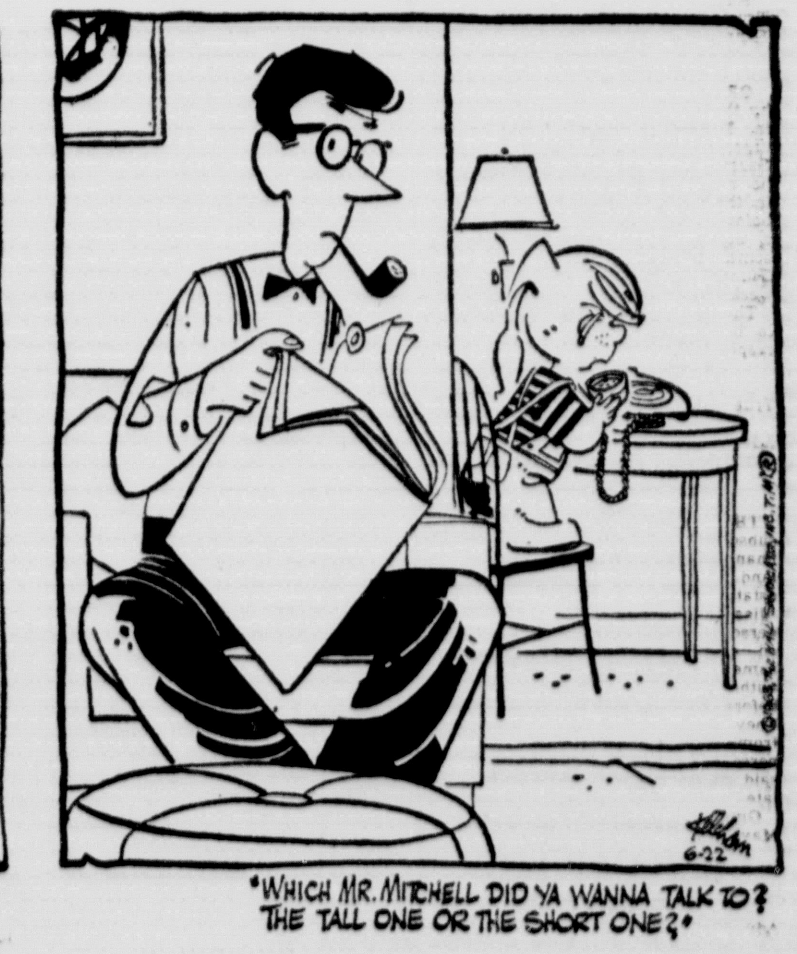


YES, THIS CONCRETE WALL IS MOVABLE—IT HAS TO BE—BUT WHERE—?
6-22 63
AHA! AN ALMOST INVISIBLE JOINT RIGHT HERE. I CAN GET MY KNIFE BLADE IN.
IF ONLY WE HAD LEFT THIS HORRIBLE PLACE BEFORE PORE SPARKLE DISAPPEARED.
THEY'RE AT THE FOOT OF SLINGSHOT MOUNTAIN, MR. TRACY. IT'S A SAD SITUATION.
CHESTER GOULD

GRIN AND BEAR IT By Lichty

"Your mother doesn't seem to be having any fun, Otis . . . Does she have trouble integrating with groups?"

DENNIS THE MENACE By Hank Ketcham



"WHICH MR. MITCHELL DID YA WANNA TALK TO? THE TALL ONE OR THE SHORT ONE?"

Rails Lead Way As Stocks Continue Upward March

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rails outperformed a firm and moderately active stock market Friday. The Dow-Jones rail average rose 2.20 to 174.00, its highest level since Oct. 17, 1929—12 days before the stock market crash.

Good gains in nearly a half-dozen rail issues helped support the jump in the average. Chicago & North Western and CanadianPacific were up a point apiece, Louisville & Nashville rose 1⅝, New York Central tacked on 1¼ and Nickel Plate added 1½.

Strength in the rail group reflects news that President Kennedy has arranged an extension of the rail strike deadline and that Congress would be asked to intercede if no accord is worked out between management and union.

Dow-Jones industrials rose 1.93 to 720.78 and Standard & Poor's 500 stock index showed a gain of 0.24. Trading totaled 4,190,000 shares compared with 4,970,000 in the previous session.

Steels also improved on news that a general contract agreement has been reached between the steelworkers union and 11 big steel producers. Nearly a half-dozen steels moved higher including Bethlehem and U.S. Steel, both up ½, Republic up ⅛ and Continental up 2.

Motors firmed despite news that output this week is scheduled to drop 2 per cent from last week. Du Pont dropped 1½ in an irregularly lower chemical section. Among the blue chips, Alcoa tacked on 1⅞ and Texaco 1½. Texaco has reached an agreement with the Justice Department prohibiting it from new joint world marketing arrangements with other big petroleum firms.

Of the 1,305 issues traded, 683 advanced and 343 declined—60 to new 1963 highs and 7 to new lows.

Both American and Eastern improved in the airlines despite news that their plan to merge had been rejected by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

U.S. Steel topped the most active list on a turnover of 69,100 shares. This was followed by American Radiator up 1⅛, Penn Railroad up ¾, U.S. Smelting and American Airlines.

Prices on the American Exchange were irregularly higher on a turnover of 1,390,000 shares compared with 1,500,000 in the previous session. Featured on the "Amex" were Syntex off 2¼ and Pyle National up 1⅜.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grain futures took a sharp cut Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

At the close, wheat was off 1¾ to 2⅛; corn off ½ to 1⅛; oats off ½ to up ¼; rye off ½ to 1½; and soybeans off ⅞ to 3⅛.

Wheat was down more than 2 cents a bushel on general selling and scattered hedge sales. A private crop report that indicated larger soft wheat production than last year was an influence. Traders were apparently not phased by reports that bad weather delayed harvest in the southwest.

Corn weakened in heavy selling by longs and commission houses. Crop news was good. Some dealers expect the Commodity Credit Corp. to dump its 16.5 million bushels of corn held in Chicago elevators on the market when the new crop wheat arrives in volume.

Local longs were extensive sellers of soybeans, especially November. The market ran into stop-loss orders and prices dropped more than 2 cents. A private survey was optimistic about the new bean crop.

Oats declined under heavy commission house selling, but ended mostly steady. Rye was lower with other grains.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

FORECLOSURE SALE OF VALUABLE DWELLING SITUATED ON WARN'S LANE ELECTION DISTRICT NO. 12, FROSTBURG, MARYLAND.

Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage dated May 11, 1962, and recorded in Liber 379, Folio 195, one of the Mortgage Records of Allegany County, Maryland, which mortgage is now in default in the covenants and conditions thereof, the undersigned as Attorney Named in Mortgage, will sell at the Allegany County Court House door, Washington Street, Cumberland, Maryland, on Tuesday, July 16, 1963, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., the following described property, to wit:

ALL that piece or parcel of ground situated on the northeast side of Warn's Lane in the City of Frostburg, in Election District No. 12 in Allegany County, Maryland, and more particularly described as follows: (Magnetic Meridian of the Original (1888) and horizontal distances used throughout).

BEGINNING at a stake 100.5 feet east of the third line of the lot conveyed by David E. Thomas Jr. et ux to Marvin G. Evans et ux by deed dated September 15, 1959, and recorded in Liber 325, Folio 381, of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, said stake being also South 56 degrees 00 minutes East 482.5 feet from the intersection of the southeast side of Spring Street with the northeast side of Warn's Lane, then leaving Warn's Lane and running North 41 degrees 00 minutes East 157.5 feet, more or less, to a stake, then with said Lane, South 56 degrees 00 minutes East 100 feet to a stake, then leaving said stake, South 32 degrees 47 minutes West 152.5 feet, more or less, to a stake on the northeast side of Warn's Lane, and with it, North 57 degrees 40 minutes West 100 feet to the place of BEGINNING.

BEING the same property which was conveyed unto Ervin W. Eisle and JoAnne Eisle, his wife, by deed by David E. Thomas Jr. et ux, dated April 10, 1962, which is recorded in Liber 346, Folio 513, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

This property is improved by a one story, ranch type, frame house with aluminum siding, containing six rooms with bath; hot water, gas furnace heat, with city water, gas and electricity; composition roof and full finished basement; all in an excellent state of repair.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third cash on day of sale and balance on delivery of good and sufficient deed to the purchaser thereof.

All state and county taxes will be adjusted to the date of sale.

HARRY I. STEGMAIER
Attorney Named in Mortgage
Adv. N—June 22-29—July 6-13.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland, Maryland, to be held in the City Hall at 10:00 o'clock A. M., DST, July 1, 1963, an ordinance will be introduced providing for the closing of:

UNNAMED ALLEY—A 12 foot alley running parallel with First Street and perpendicular to Seymour Street (now Race Street) in the City of Cumberland, Maryland, between Lots No. 1 and No. 2 of Highland Addition of Cumberland, Maryland, which face on Oldtown Road, and Lot No. 3 of said Addition facing on Seymour Street (now Race Street).

The ordinance will also provide for the appointment of Commissioners to award compensation and to assess benefits to any person, persons or corporation owning property on said alley which may be closed and who may be affected thereby.

Clothing Firm Boosts Force To 110 Mark

1,200 Dresses Made Here Daily

The Cumberland Blouse Company, located in the old National Guard Armory on South Centre Street, has expanded its working force to about 110 employes.

And the firm, which contracts dresses for the Country Miss line, expects gradually to expand its working force to about 140 during coming months if it can find space in the building.

The business was opened about three years ago by Nathan Melnick and Anthony Eppolite, partners in the clothing manufacturing firm, with about 30 workers.

Employment rose to 80 by the end of the first year's operations and has increased gradually to the present figure.

The cutting table, formerly located on the main floor, was moved recently to the basement to allow more room for sewing machines.

Another cutting table was installed in the process. Five workers are employed in the cutting room, where up to 100 plies of cloth are cut at a time.

The firm is at present making about 1,200 dresses a day, storing the garments in just about all the available extra space in the building.

A training program for sewing machine operators financed under the Area Redevelopment Act, has been held in the shop and will be completed this week. Mr. Eppolite said the training program for the some 25 women selected for the course has been very successful.

He said the firm expects to be able to use graduates of the school as it is able to expand production.

Directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce toured the plant Thursday afternoon following a luncheon meeting.

County Accepts Rights-Of-Way

Rights-of-way on Oliver Beltz Road, which soon will be surfaced, were accepted by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

County Roads Supervisor Harry T. Skelly informed the county commissioners Tuesday that the State Roads Commission will ask for bids for surfacing of about 1.3 miles of the road which runs off William Road in the eastern end of the county.

Rights-of-way were deeded by Curtis F. Middleton, James R. Twigg, Mabel B. Twigg and Roy M. Twigg.

Mr. Skelly yesterday submitted a report to the county commissioners concerning a complaint from John P. Fatkin about Braddock Avenue in LaVale. The supervisor said his crews will clear the ditch and seal the edge of the road surface in front of Mr. Fatkin's house in about 30 days.

The commissioners also received notification from Robert D. Peebles that the County Commission on the Problems of the Aging will meet at the Court House at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Court Probates Wills Of Three

Wills of three persons who died recently were probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

One was the last testament of Mrs. Rose L. Dezen, who was a 57-year-old resident of 739 Fayette Street at the time of her death June 6. Her son, Robert I. Dezen, LaVale, qualified as executor under a $1,000 bond. She left her estate equally to two sons, Robert and Harvey Dezen, both of LaVale. The will was dated August 18, 1962.

Also probated yesterday was the will of Miss Lorena M. Bowers, who was a 70-year-old Lonaconing resident at the time of her death June 13. A friend, Burton Smith, 8 Union Street, Lonaconing, qualified as executor under a $500 bond. He was left her real estate. The rest of her estate is to be divided among her closest personal friends. This will was dated May 18, less than a month before she died.

The third will probated was that of Mrs. Mollie Bannatyne, who was an 87-year-old Eckhart resident when she died May 28. Her son-in-law, John R. Watson, with whom she resided, qualified as executor.

Mrs. Bannatyne left $300 each to the Eckhart Baptist Church of which she was a member and to the trustees of Eckhart Cemetery. The rest of her money was bequeathed to two granddaughters, Mrs. Eileen Watson Jamison and Mrs. Catherine Watson Eichhorn. All the rest of the estate was left to her son-in-law, Mr. Watson. This will was dated August 15, 1962.

Walsh Gets Award

William A. Walsh III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Walsh Jr., 316 Mountain View Drive, has received a matriculation award at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass. He is one of 59 members of his class entering the college in September who will share in $42,575 in scholarships and grants.

Garment Nears Completion

51 Register At College For Summer

Fifty-one persons registered yesterday and last night for summer classes at Allegany Community College thereby assuring the first summer session for the college at 340 Frederick Street which has just completed its second year of operations.

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, college president, said last night that two day and two evening classes are assured as a result of yesterday's registration. There was registration from 9 until 3 p.m. and again from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m.

Instructor for the classes which start Monday and continue through Friday, August 16, will include Paul Malie, John W. Bailey Jr. and Donald Loughrie.

There will be late registration Monday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Dr. Zimmer said he was gratified by the response. During the second semester of the year just ended the college had 208 full-time and part-time students.

Those enrolled for the summer session are from three groups. They include some recent graduates of high school who want a refresher course before going away to college, some who have been attending college away from home and want to continue their work this summer and some who already were enrolled at Allegany Community College during the regular school year.

Niagara Falls Woman To Wed In This County

For years Niagara Falls, N.Y., has gained fame as the destination for honeymooners.

Yesterday, Mrs. Gusteen H. Linaburg, marriage license clerk in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, issued a license for a couple from New York state who came here to be married.

This license was issued to James Frazier Monroe, RFD 1, Westfield, N. Y., and Barbara Rae Wolfe, 8312 Kroll Parkway, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Deaths

HAINES—Mrs. Richard, 68, formerly of Springfield, W. Va.

Lutheran Church Will Be Organized

Christ Lutheran Church will be formally organized at a service at 11 a. m. Sunday at the LaVale Fire Hall, according to Rev. Albert R. Burkhardt, who has been mission developer in LaVale since March 1.

Rev. J. Frank Fife, D.D., president of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, will preach the sermon. This will be the newest church in the Maryland Synod.

Rev. Dr. J. Sheldon Moose, regional secretary, will extend greetings from the Board of American Missions of the Lutheran Church. C. Fred Eichner, a pre-ministerial student who helped get the new church started last summer, also will participate.

The congregation has 80 adults and 44 children.

Will Be Completed

The resurfacing of Windsor Road in the Dingle was nearly completed by the Cumberland Contracting Company yesterday. Remaining work is scheduled Monday.

Military Hero To Be Honored In Full Parade

Marine Sgt. William E. Shuck, a Medal of Honor winner who was a native of Ridgeley, will be honored in a four-division memorial parade through that community today at 3 p. m.

Heading the list of notables who will participate in the parade and the dedication of the Little League baseball field to Sgt. Shuck, are U. S. Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Chester M. Matney, of Welch, commander of the Department of West Virginia American Legion.

Sgt. Shuck, who died in action July 3, 1952, in Korea, was wounded and helping to evacuate casualties when he was killed. He was awarded the nation's highest military honor posthumously.

The parade's first division will be led by a Cumberland 40 & 8 contingent and cannon. The color guard of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley will be next in line, followed by members of Sgt. Shuck's family, town officials, Sen. Byrd, Rep. Harley O. Staggers of the Congressional District, the commander of the Legion's state department and a float of Knobley Mountain Unit 136, American Legion Auxiliary.

The drill team from the Bainbridge Naval Training Center, the Ridgeley Schools Band, the local Marine Corps Reserve Company and several members of Sgt. Shuck's fighting unit will be among the second division.

The third division will be led by the color guard of the Keyser 40 & 8, and will also include the Keyser Fire Department's marching unit, area VFW units, a Ridgeley Teen Club float, the Ridgeley Lions Club marching unit, members of the Cumberland Naval Reserve unit, and the Cumberland Continentals, a Civil War group.

The junior band of Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, will head the fourth division. Among others in the division will be the Elk Garden High School Band, color guard of Washington-Smith Legion Post 152 of Keyser and a procession of antique automobiles.

Sen. Byrd will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies, with other talks scheduled by Rep. Staggers, State Sen. Charles Millar of Mineral County, and Col. Russell, Sgt. Shuck's commanding officer.

Equity Suit Filed

Claire Mae Gehart has filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Raymond Robert Gephart.

Man Given 90 Days In County Jail

A local man who broke away and ran as was being arrested by a city policeman late Thursday night was given 90 days in Allegany County Jail on separate charges yesterday by Police Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

George R. Keller of 209 Spring Street was given 30 days each on a charge of being drunk and resisting arrest and in default of $100 fine.

A companion, Jack Long, of Pulaski Street, was given 30 days in the County Jail for interfering with an officer and resisting arrest, although he gave himself up later at Police headquarters, said police.

Officer James A. Brown, knowing that a pickup had been issued for Keller's arrest, was in a police cruiser on West Side when he noticed Keller near a tavern.

When he went to arrest Keller, Long came between the two men. Keller broke away from the policeman and ran down Paca Street about two blocks, where he was arrested by Officer Brown, who had chased him on foot.

Officers Wallace Keller and Richard Maires came to Officer Brown's assistance and took the man to Police Headquarters. Long later gave himself up.

48 Enroll In Y Day Camp

Some 48 boys and girls are enrolled in the first session of "Camp Echo" at Central YMCA, according to Pamela Davis and Ronnie Riggs, senior leaders.

During the first week of the two-week session day, campers received rifle and Trampoline instruction and participated in soccer and kickball. Craft projects included wooden bookshelves, tile trays, name pearls and raffia baskets.

Outings at New Germany and Shawnee Park recreation areas featured Tuesday and Thursday activities.

Girl campers held a doll show on Friday and all children participated in "The Price Is Right," games, concluding the first week's activities.

Apprentices Get Certificates

Trout Stamp Is Required In Maryland

Necessary On Certain Streams

A 43-year-old member of the House of Delegates with a Tri-State area background is responsible for the legislation in Annapolis which has required since June 1 that fishermen seeking trout is certain designated trout streams in Maryland must obtain a $1 trout stamp.

This measure was introduced by Delegate William M. Houck, a Frederick County Democrat who now resides in Thurmont. He was born in Keyser March 14, 1920, attended Garrett County public schools and Frostburg State Teachers College. He is now in his second four-year term in the lower house in Annapolis.

Regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke said yesterday that Delegate Houck's bill was not sponsored by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission. This bill did not require that the clerk of Circuit Court in each county obtain a supply of the stamps.

None To Clerk

Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, said none of them have been sent to his office.

They are available at Storer Brothers' store, 138 Virginia Avenue, and at most stores in Allegany County which have been designated as agencies for the sale of state hunting and fishing licenses.

The game warden said Delegate Houck introduced his bill because he thought it would help the state to determine the number of trout fishermen in Maryland.

There are eight designated trout streams in Allegany County. They are Evitts Creek watershed between U.S. Route 40 and the Mason-Dixon Line, Flintstone Creek watershed, the watersheds of Winebrenner Run, Staub Run and Mathew Run, all in the George's Creek area; Mill Run watershed at Oldtown, Jennings Branch watershed above State Route 36 at Barrelville and Laurel Run watershed at Moscow.

No Throwback

Mr. Minke said that this new law does not require that fishermen throw back trout caught on other streams. For instance a fisherman may catch a trout illegally at the Battie Nixon fishing hole at Oldtown or at Deep Creek Lake in Garrett County without having a stamp. However, a fisherman using the waters of any of the designated trout streams must have a trout stamp.

In Garrett County the designated trout streams include Savage River watershed, Salt Block watershed, Little Youghiogheny River only, Big Youghiogheny River only above State Route 39, Bear Creek watershed, Mill Run watershed, Muddy Creek watershed, Puzzley Run watershed, Potomac River from mouth of Kempton, Laurel Run to West Virginia state line, Buffalo Run watershed, Piney Run watershed and Wolf Den watershed.

The regional game warden said that most trout are caught here in the spring months of April and May so that there has been comparatively little trout fishing since the new law became effective.

The closed season for all species of trout is from March 15 to April 14.

Civil Service Tests Scheduled

Three examinations will be given by the Allegany County Civil Service Commission at 7:30 p. m. Monday at Fort Hill High School, according to Mrs. Joan S. Burke, secretary to the commission.

These tests include one for chief clerk of Trial Magistrate's Court in Cumberland, a promotional examination for clerk of Juvenile Court and for the position of orderly at the county institutions.

Many Drivers Referred To Rehabilitation Clinic

A number of drivers who have been convicted of motor vehicle violations recently in Trial Magistrate Court have been referred to the Driver Rehabilitation Clinic sponsored by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The purpose of the clinic is to help improve the attitude of certain drivers and to correct the attitude of those drivers who apparently are indifferent to the motor vehicle laws. Chronic violators also are asked to attend the clinic.

The clinic is held at Fort Hill High School on Mondays from 7 to 9 p. m. and each course consists of four two-hour sessions.

Magistrates can only recommend that certain drivers take the course, and those who do must do so on a voluntary basis. Once an individual signs the necessary form, the DMV notifies the person when the next clinic will begin.

Persons who have had their licenses suspended or revoked also are requested to attend the clinic, and if they successfully complete the course this is taken into consideration when they reapply for a license.

Those who are in danger of losing their licenses through an accumulation of points also are notified by the DMV that they should apply to attend the course.

The first clinic started several weeks ago and the first group recently finished the course. Magistrates from all over the county are sending drivers to the clinic to help them become better drivers and to cut down on the number of accidents.

Mower, Bike Accidents Come With Summer

A local youth underwent surgery yesterday afternoon for a foot injury he received in a lawn mower accident.

The youth, Franklin Parsons, 16, of RD 1, city, received a severe laceration on one of his toes and was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital. He was reported in "satisfactory" condition.

The dispensaries at both hospitals report there have been many accidents so far this summer where persons have been injured by power lawn mowers.

The hospitals also said there have been an unusual number of boys and girls who have been hurt this summer while riding bicycles.

Aviation Firm Installs Link Trainer

A Link trainer is being installed at Municipal Airport by Cumberland Aviation Service. The ground instrument is used for teaching pilots to land under instrument conditions in bad weather.

Ted Whalen, manager and president of the firm, said the Link trainer was purchased primarily for use of the company's air taxi pilots and to complement the firm's ground school which is held on Wednesday evenings.

However, the instrument can be rented, along with two qualified instructors, by interested pilots, Mr. Whalen said.

The Link trainer, which can simulate every kind of weather condition and even crash landings, will be used to determine and correct pilot errors.

WILLIAM J. TUBBS III

Local Man Gets Graduate Degree From Princeton

William J. Tubbs III, son of Mrs. William J. Tubbs, Jr., 712½ Brookfield Avenue, graduated from Princeton Seminary, Princeton, N. J., earlier this month.

He graduated from Fort Hill High School in 1956, attended Potomac State College and received his bachelor of arts degree from Davis and Elkins College in 1960. While at Davis and Elkins he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, the college choir, the Student Christian Association and Westminster Fellowship.

He married the former Gail Thayer Lewis of Durham, Conn., and plans to begin work toward the M. A. degree at Wesleyan University in Connecticut in September.

Tennis Classes To Be Offered By Rec. Dept.

Free tennis lessons again will be offered local teen-agers by the Cumberland Recreation Department beginning July 1 and continuing through August.

Jim "Rocky" Klosterman will instruct the classes which will be held at North End and Fort Hill High School courts from 10 a.m. until noon on scheduled days.

All equipment is furnished by the Rec Department for the free classes for boys and girls 13 to 19. Classes will be scheduled by playground areas for West Side, North End, East Side and South End teenagers. Interested youths will register at the court on the day the nearest playground is scheduled for classes.

A tournament is planned in August to determine the best boy and girl player in each of the city's four sections. Finals will be staged for the girl and boy championships.

West Side teenagers from West Side, Mount Royal, Ridgedale and Centre Street playgrounds will play on Mondays at North End courts. In case of postponement, makeup classes will be held Fridays at 10 a.m. at North End.

Teenagers from North End, Columbia Street and Gephart playgrounds also will play at North End courts on Tuesdays. Makeup in case of postponement will be Fridays at 10 a.m. at North End.

East Side teenagers from Pine Avenue, East Side, Johnson Heights and Fort Cumberland Homes lots are scheduled for classes on Wednesdays at Fort Hill courts. Postponement date is Fridays at 1 p.m. at Fort Hill.

Thursday classes have been scheduled for South End teenagers from Post, Virginia Avenue, Penn Avenue, Mapleside and Jane Frazier playgrounds, at Fort Hill courts. Makeup day in event of postponement is also 1 p.m. Fridays at Fort Hill.

Traffic Study Of City Will Be Updated

To Be Repeat Of 1949-1950 Survey

Plans for updating the 1949-1950 traffic study of the City of Cumberland were made at a meeting in City Hall yesterday.

The proposal was explained by Ernest W. Bunting, traffic analyst for the State Roads Commission's Traffic division, to William F. DeMare, director of the Cumberland Urban Renewal Agency, and C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

Also attending the conference were Marvin Ytkin, of the Washington office of the Bureau of Public Roads, and David Schoppert, Washington, a representative of Alan Voorhes and Associates, the firm which will do traffic work for the local Urban Renewal unit.

The State Roads Commission, Mr. Bunting said, has agreed to update the 1949-1950 traffic study.

Will Be Repeat

He said the survey will be similar to the 1949-1950 traffic study and that the same procedure will be used in getting traffic counts.

Costs of the survey, he said, will be shared by the SRC and the Bureau of Public Roads.

The chief purpose of the re-survey, he said, is to provide the Urban Renewal unit with accurate information on traffic movement and desire so it can proceed with its proposed general neighborhood renewal project in Cumberland's downtown section.

The SRC staffer said the survey here has tentatively been set up for July and will require about 24 days to complete.

He said the same 13 internal and 10 external points used in the 1949-1950 traffic study will be used for the upcoming study.

Changes Are Made

The results of the traffic study were used by the State Roads Commission in planning the Cumberland Thruway project, and many of the recommendations made in the traffic study have since been adopted by the Mayor and Council.

One of the major steps taken was the improvement of Frederick Street and conversion of Frederick Street to Route 220 northbound and Bedford Street to US Route 220 southbound.

Another recommendation adopted was that South Mechanic Street, from Baltimore to Williams streets, be reconverted to one-way southbound traffic.

The adoption of automatic signals to provide a progressive flow of traffic on Henderson Avenue also has been accomplished.

It is possible that the updating of the traffic study could affect the Thoroughfare Plan recently adopted by the City of Cumberland upon the recommendation of the Municipal Planning and Zoning Commission.

The plan includes a system of major and minor streets to serve the city, and sets up priorities for placing the plan into effect.

One of the major recommendations was for a loop street to provide access to and around the central business section.

Up-to-date information on traffic flow will be needed by the Urban Renewal agency if it should adopt the loop route as part of the program of renewal of the downtown area.

Radio Club Picnic Sunday

The Queen City CB Radio Club will hold a basket picnic tomorrow at Constitution Park near the pavilion.

The event will begin at 9 a.m., and members of 40 out-of-town clubs have been invited along with members of other local radio clubs.

Drinks, snacks and prizes will be furnished by the local club, and all guests are asked to register at the pavilion.

The picnic will feature a display of a two-way radio and there will be a card exchange table. Various contests and games will begin at noon.

Persons interested in citizens' band radio are invited to visit the park tomorrow to obtain information about the club.

Salvation Army Board Will Meet

The monthly meeting of the Salvation Army Advisory Board will be held at noon Monday at the Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street, according to Major Ben Jones, commanding officer.

The 1964 budget request from the County United Fund will be discussed. This will be the last meeting until September.

Mayor Is Home

Mayor Earl D. Chaney, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital for tests and observation last week, returned to his home, 832 Windsor Road, yesterday.

Clothing Firm Boosts Force To 110 Mark

1,200 Dresses Made Here Daily

The Cumberland Blouse Company, located in the old National Guard Armory on South Centre Street, has expanded its working force to about 110 employes.

And the firm, which contracts dresses for the Country Miss line, expects gradually to expand its working force to about 140 during coming months if it can find space in the building.

The business was opened about three years ago by Nathan Melnick and Anthony Eppolite, partners in the clothing manufacturing firm, with about 30 workers.

Employment rose to 80 by the end of the first year's operations and has increased gradually to the present figure.

The cutting table, formerly located on the main floor, was moved recently to the basement to allow more room for sewing machines.

Another cutting table was installed in the process. Five workers are employed in the cutting room, where up to 100 plies of cloth are cut at a time.

The firm is at present making about 1,200 dresses a day, storing the garments in just about all the available extra space in the building.

A training program for sewing machine operators financed under the Area Redevelopment Act, has been held in the shop and will be completed this week. Mr. Eppolite said the training program for the some 25 women selected for the course has been very successful.

He said the firm expects to be able to use graduates of the school as it is able to expand production.

Directors of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce toured the plant Thursday afternoon following a luncheon meeting.

County Accepts Rights-Of-Way

Rights-of-way on Oliver Beltz Road, which soon will be surfaced, were accepted by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday.

County Roads Supervisor Harry T. Skelly informed the county commissioners Tuesday that the State Roads Commission will ask for bids for surfacing of about 1.3 miles of the road which runs off William Road in the eastern end of the county.

Rights-of-way were deeded by Curtis F. Middleton, James R. Twigg, Mabel B. Twigg and Roy M. Twigg.

Mr. Skelly yesterday submitted a report to the county commissioners concerning a complaint from John P. Fatkin about Braddock Avenue in LaVale. The supervisor said his crews will clear the ditch and seal the edge of the road surface in front of Mr. Fatkin's house in about 30 days.

The commissioners also received notification from Robert D. Peebles that the County Commission on the Problems of the Aging will meet at the Court House at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Court Probates Wills Of Three

Wills of three persons who died recently were probated yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

One was the last testament of Mrs. Rose L. Dezen, who was a 57-year-old resident of 739 Fayette Street at the time of her death June 6. Her son, Robert I. Dezen, LaVale, qualified as executor under a $1,000 bond. She left her estate equally to two sons, Robert and Harvey Dezen, both of LaVale. The will was dated August 18, 1962.

Also probated yesterday was the will of Miss Lorena M. Bowers, who was a 70-year-old Lonaconing resident at the time of her death June 13. A friend, Burton Smith, 8 Union Street, Lonaconing, qualified as executor under a $500 bond. He was left her real estate. The rest of her estate is to be divided among her closest personal friends. This will was dated May 18, less than a month before she died.

The third will probated was that of Mrs. Mollie Bannatyne, who was an 87-year-old Eckhart resident when she died May 28. Her son-in-law, John R. Watson, with whom she resided, qualified as executor.

Mrs. Bannatyne left $300 each to the Eckhart Baptist Church of which she was a member and to the trustees of Eckhart Cemetery. The rest of her money was bequeathed to two granddaughters, Mrs. Eileen Watson Jamison and Mrs. Catherine Watson Eichhorn. All the rest of the estate was left to her son-in-law, Mr. Watson. This will was dated August 15, 1962.

Walsh Gets Award

William A. Walsh III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Walsh Jr., 316 Mountain View Drive, has received a matriculation award at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass. He is one of 59 members of his class entering the college in September who will share in $42,575 in scholarships and grants.

Garment Nears Completion

51 Register At College For Summer

Fifty-one persons registered yesterday and last night for summer classes at Allegany Community College thereby assuring the first summer session for the college at 340 Frederick Street which has just completed its second year of operations.

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, college president, said last night that two day and two evening classes are assured as a result of yesterday's registration. There was registration from 9 until 3 p.m. and again from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m.

Instructor for the classes which start Monday and continue through Friday, August 16, will include Paul Malie, John W. Bailey Jr. and Donald Loughrie.

There will be late registration Monday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Dr. Zimmer said he was gratified by the response. During the second semester of the year just ended the college had 208 full-time and part-time students.

Those enrolled for the summer session are from three groups. They include some recent graduates of high school who want a refresher course before going away to college, some who have been attending college away from home and want to continue their work this summer and some who already were enrolled at Allegany Community College during the regular school year.

Lutheran Church Will Be Organized

Christ Lutheran Church will be formally organized at a service at 11 a. m. Sunday at the LaVale Fire Hall, according to Rev. Albert R. Burkhardt, who has been mission developer in LaVale since March 1.

Rev. J. Frank Fife, D.D., president of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, will preach the sermon. This will be the newest church in the Maryland Synod.

Rev. Dr. J. Sheldon Moose, regional secretary, will extend greetings from the Board of American Missions of the Lutheran Church. C. Fred Eichner, a pre-ministerial student who helped get the new church started last summer, also will participate.

The congregation has 80 adults and 44 children.

Will Be Completed

The resurfacing of Windsor Road in the Dingle was nearly completed by the Cumberland Contracting Company yesterday. Remaining work is scheduled Monday.

Military Hero To Be Honored In Full Parade

Marine Sgt. William E. Shuck, a Medal of Honor winner who was a native of Ridgeley, will be honored in a four-division memorial parade through that community today at 3 p. m.

Heading the list of notables who will participate in the parade and the dedication of the Little League baseball field to Sgt. Shuck, are U. S. Senator Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia and Chester M. Matney, of Welch, commander of the Department of West Virginia American Legion.

Sgt. Shuck, who died in action July 3, 1952, in Korea, was wounded and helping to evacuate casualties when he was killed. He was awarded the nation's highest military honor posthumously.

The parade's first division will be led by a Cumberland 40 & 8 contingent and cannon. The color guard of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley will be next in line, followed by members of Sgt. Shuck's family, town officials, Sen. Byrd, Rep. Harley O. Staggers of the Congressional District, the commander of the Legion's state department and a float of Knobley Mountain Unit 136, American Legion Auxiliary.

The drill team from the Bainbridge Naval Training Center, the Ridgeley Schools Band, the local Marine Corps Reserve Company and several members of Sgt. Shuck's fighting unit will be among the second division.

The third division will be led by the color guard of the Keyser 40 & 8, and will also include the Keyser Fire Department's marching unit, area VFW units, a Ridgeley Teen Club float, the Ridgeley Lions Club marching unit, members of the Cumberland Naval Reserve unit, and the Cumberland Continentals, a Civil War group.

The junior band of Fulton Myers Post, American Legion, will head the fourth division. Among others in the division will be the Elk Garden High School Band, color guard of Washington-Smith Legion Post 152 of Keyser and a procession of antique automobiles.

Sen. Byrd will be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies, with other talks scheduled by Rep. Staggers, State Sen. Charles Millar of Mineral County, and Col. Russell, Sgt. Shuck's commanding officer.

Equity Suit Filed

Claire Mae Gehart has filed an equity suit in Allegany County Circuit Court against Raymond Robert Gephart.

Man Given 90 Days In County Jail

A local man who broke away and ran as was being arrested by a city policeman late Thursday night was given 90 days in Allegany County Jail on separate charges yesterday by Police Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

George R. Keller of 209 Spring Street was given 30 days each on a charge of being drunk and resisting arrest and in default of $100 fine.

A companion, Jack Long, of Pulaski Street, was given 30 days in the County Jail for interfering with an officer and resisting arrest, although he gave himself up later at Police headquarters, said police.

Officer James A. Brown, knowing that a pickup had been issued for Keller's arrest, was in a police cruiser on West Side when he noticed Keller near a tavern.

When he went to arrest Keller, Long came between the two men. Keller broke away from the policeman and ran down Paca Street about two blocks, where he was arrested by Officer Brown, who had chased him on foot.

Officers Wallace Keller and Richard Maires came to Officer Brown's assistance and took the man to Police Headquarters. Long later gave himself up.

48 Enroll In Y Day Camp

Some 48 boys and girls are enrolled in the first session of "Camp Echo" at Central YMCA, according to Pamela Davis and Ronnie Riggs, senior leaders.

During the first week of the two-week session day, campers received rifle and Trampoline instruction and participated in soccer and kickball. Craft projects included wooden bookshelves, tile trays, name pearls and raffia baskets.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday swimming instruction was given by Lynn Patchin, aquatic director, and James Valentine senior lifesaver.

Outings at New Germany and Shawnee Park recreation areas featured Tuesday and Thursday activities.

Girl campers held a doll show on Friday and all children participated in "The Price Is Right," games, concluding the first week's activities.

Trout Stamp Is Required In Maryland

Necessary On Certain Streams

A 43-year-old member of the House of Delegates with a Tri-State area background is responsible for the legislation in Annapolis which has required since June 1 that fishermen seeking trout is certain designated trout streams in Maryland must obtain a $1 trout stamp.

This measure was introduced by Delegate William M. Houck, a Frederick County Democrat who now resides in Thurmont. He was born in Keyser March 14, 1920, attended Garrett County public schools and Frostburg State Teachers College. He is now in his second four-year term in the lower house in Annapolis.

Regional Game Warden Joseph A. Minke said yesterday that Delegate Houck's bill was not sponsored by the State Game and Inland Fish Commission. This bill did not require that the clerk of Circuit Court in each county obtain a supply of the stamps.

None To Clerk

Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court, said none of them have been sent to his office.

They are available at Storer Brothers' store, 138 Virginia Avenue, and at most stores in Allegany County which have been designated as agencies for the sale of state hunting and fishing licenses.

The game warden said Delegate Houck introduced his bill because he thought it would help the state to determine the number of trout fishermen in Maryland.

There are eight designated trout streams in Allegany County. They are Evitts Creek watershed between U.S. Route 40 and the Mason-Dixon Line, Flintstone Creek watershed, the watersheds of Winebrenner Run, Staub Run and Mathew Run, all in the George's Creek area; Mill Run watershed at Oldtown, Jennings Branch watershed above State Route 36 at Barrelville and Laurel Run watershed at Moscow.

No Throwback

Mr. Minke said that this new law does not require that fishermen throw back trout caught on other streams. For instance a fisherman may catch a trout illegally at the Battie Nixon fishing hole at Oldtown or at Deep Creek Lake in Garrett County without having a stamp. However, a fisherman using the waters of any of the designated trout streams must have a trout stamp.

In Garrett County the designated trout streams include Savage River watershed, Salt Block watershed, Little Youghiogheny River only, Big Youghiogheny River only above State Route 39, Bear Creek watershed, Mill Run watershed, Muddy Creek watershed, Puzzley Run watershed, Potomac River from mouth of Kempton, Laurel Run to West Virginia state line, Buffalo Run watershed, Piney Run watershed and Wolf Den watershed.

The regional game warden said that most trout are caught here in the spring months of April and May so that there has been comparatively little trout fishing since the new law became effective.

The closed season for all species of trout is from March 15 to April 14.

Civil Service Tests Scheduled

Three examinations will be given by the Allegany County Civil Service Commission at 7:30 p. m. Monday at Fort Hill High School, according to Mrs. Joan S. Burke, secretary to the commission.

These tests include one for chief clerk of Trial Magistrate's Court in Cumberland, a promotional examination for clerk of Juvenile Court and for the position of orderly at the county institutions.

Many Drivers Referred To Rehabilitation Clinic

A number of drivers who have been convicted of motor vehicle violations recently in Trial Magistrate Court have been referred to the Driver Rehabilitation Clinic sponsored by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

The purpose of the clinic is to help improve the attitude of certain drivers and to correct the attitude of those drivers who apparently are indifferent to the motor vehicle laws. Chronic violators also are asked to attend the clinic.

The clinic is held at Fort Hill High School on Mondays from 7 to 9 p. m. and each course consists of four two-hour sessions.

Magistrates can only recommend that certain drivers take the course, and those who do must do so on a voluntary basis. Once an individual signs the necessary form, the DMV notifies the person when the next clinic will begin.

Persons who have had their licenses suspended or revoked also are requested to attend the clinic, and if they successfully complete the course this is taken into consideration when they reapply for a license.

Those who are in danger of losing their licenses through an accumulation of points also are notified by the DMV that they should apply to attend the course.

The first clinic started several weeks ago and the first group recently finished the course. Magistrates from all over the county are sending drivers to the clinic to help them become better drivers and to cut down on the number of accidents.

Drinks, snacks and prizes will be furnished by the local club, and all guests are asked to register at the pavilion.

The picnic will feature a display of a two-way radio and there will be a card exchange table. Various contests and games will begin at noon.

Persons interested in citizens' band radio are invited to visit the park tomorrow to obtain information about the club.

Minister To Attend Rutgers Study

Rev. T. Clifford Johnson, pastor of First Baptist Church, is among 10 Marylanders who were awarded scholarships to the Rutgers Summer School of Alcoholic Studies. The scholarship is sponsored by the Maryland State Department of Health.

Rev. Mr. Johnson will attend classes at the summer school in New Brunswick, N.J., from June 30 through July 25.

Salvation Army Board Will Meet

The monthly meeting of the Salvation Army Advisory Board will be held at noon Monday at the Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street, according to Major Ben Jones, commanding officer.

The 1964 budget request from the County United Fund will be discussed. This will be the last meeting until September.

Mayor Is Home

Mayor Earl D. Chaney, who was admitted to Memorial Hospital for tests and observation last week, returned to his home, 832 Windsor Road, yesterday.

Good Enough

Controversial Robert Moses, now busy with the 1964 World's Fair, expressed his personal feeling about "do-gooders" on CBS's "The Man Who Built New York." Said the peppery 74-year-old master-builder, "I started with the do-gooders, I spent my early life with them. I am a reformed reformer."

Sunday 'Shew' To Salute Sullivan 10 Years And $20 Million Later

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

If you're 15 years of age or anything younger, the "Ed Sullivan Show"—as of Sunday, June 23—will have been running like forever. But if you were 15 or anything plus back in 1948 you may find it hard to believe that 775 shows with a total of 20,000 performers, who've cost more than $20,000,000, in talent fees, have flashed across the home screen until the record now stands as "oldest variety show on television"; and still presented "live," still at the same network, on the same night, in the same time slot.

"The big show" will be even bigger for the anniversary blowout. CBS has stretched its usual hour to 90 minutes to permit flashbacks of some of video's greatest moments. Even AGVA has given its blessing (not easy to come by since they have a rule that portions of old shows can't be used in new shows). Of all those asked (and I wonder if they'll include the incredible moment of Dr. Albert Schweitzer playing the organ?) only Princess Grace of Monaco has declined. At press time, though, Sullivan and producer Bob Precht were still hoping she'd change her mind.

"Ed will be on live admist the filmed album shots . . . and so will the studio audience," explained Precht because "Ed works much better with an audience." He also added a warning, "don't think this is just a look at the archives. With the Ed Sullivan Show entertainment always comes first. We're working now on a surprise opening." He also mentioned a sort of medley of comics, each of them captured just at the moment hysteria breaks loose. Should be side-splitting.

People both inside and outside of show business never seem to tire of asking what keeps the show on top and how come Ed Sullivan remains number one host? How did a newspaperman overnight turn into an emcee? Well he may have turned into one overnight, but it wasn't in 1948. It was in 1930.

Newspaperman though he's always been, he started to come into prominence as a toastmaster for benefits in said year 1930. Then he got to lining up the talent himself, toured around the country with benefit shows and later took his own stage show into such major showcases as New York's Loew's State and Chicago's Palace.

Ed Sullivan: Doesn't Smile Unless He Means It

Then there's the matter of radio. It was Ed Sullivan who, in 1932, introduced Jack Benny to the airwaves . . . also Florenz Ziegfeld, George M. Cohan, Jimmy Durante, fellows like that.

So when CBS idea men sought out Ed Sullivan in 1948 they were not looking for a toastmaster to preside over a show they were dreaming up. Rather they asked him to build for video the kind of show he was already doing so well elsewhere.

From the very first it was full grown and big time. Guests that opening night included Rodgers and Hammerstein and Martin and Lewis (their TV debut). And the calibre has been like that ever since.

What's it like for performers to work on the Sullivan Show? Well, it's to their prestige what the old Palace was a generation ago (of course how many hundreds of years the Palace would have to stay in business to get the audience Sullivan reaches in one year is something for the statisticians to ponder). Bill "Jose Jimenez" Dana told me a few weeks ago, "comedians love to work for Ed, because he's not trying to be a comedian, too."

Precht says, "performers who are choosy about television will come with us because they know they'll be presented properly and lighted properly. Then, too, with all the hazards of a live show, Ed will always edit himself down if time is running short rather than cut into an act."

Nothing has added more lustre than Sullivan himself who has made it a weekly habit to present in addition to circus acts and dog acts such great stars as Victor Borge, Reuata Tebaldi, Maria Callas, Maurice Chevalier, Lena Horne, Dame Margot Fonteyn, Elvis Presley, Noel Coward; scenes from scores of plays, the works.

Sullivan who plays golf seems to have aged not a minute in fifteen years. And after operations first fo ran ulcer, then a gall bladder, he's reported never to have felt better.

And how to account for that enduring popularity of his? Said Leland Hayward: "He has good taste." Says Bob Precht, "He's an honest man, it may be as easy as that. When he says he saw a new act and liked it and thinks the folks watching will also, they believe him. His smile? Well, they can trust that too. He does not smile unless he means it."

Jo Stafford Show Slated August 18

In mid-August (the 18th) a special "Jo Stafford Show" will preempt "The Real McCoys" and "True," 9:00-10:00 p. m. on CBS for the one night only. Appearing with the celebrated songstress will be Bob Hope and James Darren.

Bob Hope also has a "Special" coming up early in his new fall NBC series. It's "Ivan Denisovich," a very serious story of Russian prisoners fighting for survival in the desolation of Siberia. Hope will introduce, but not appear, in this dramatic offering.

And finally, looking well ahead, December 9 has been set by CBS as the date for presenting a 90-minute version of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" with some of the major stars of films and theatre taking part. Ingrid Bergman plays the title role. Sir Michael Redgrave will appear in the role of George Tesman, Sir Ralph Richardson will portray Judge Brack and Trevor Howard (Emmy winner for his 1963 "Disraeli" interpretation) will appear as Ejlert Lovborg.

King (Alan, That Is) To Appear Before Queen

Alan King will be bowing low to the Queen on July 3 . . . and there's nothing funny about it. For the second time he has been chosen to appear for a Royal Command Performance before Queen Elizabeth II in Glasgow.

The all-American comedian, through his frequent appearances on the BBC, has become a great favorite with English audiences.

Ann-Margaret Voice Dubbed For 'Flintstones'

The animated stone-age "Flintstones" will present Ann-Margaret as "guest star voice" for the opening show of the ABC-TV fall season. Ann-Margaret, currently starring in the motion picture, "Bye, Bye, Birdie," will portray a not too dis-similar type "a leading entertainer in the stone age" by the name of Ann-Markrock.

Swimming Around The Channels

And away we go . . . this time it's all the way to Australia for "The Jackie Gleason Show: The American Scene Magazine." It's not an in-person visitation, though, at least not yet. What the Down Under viewers will be seeing is a recap of the 30 shows presented to U. S. viewers for the 1962-63 season.

CBS's international vice president made it clear that this was an expensive proposition, it's experimental and "no profit is foreseen at the moment."

Andy Williams is really getting around on club dates while his Thursday night NBC Emmy winner is running repeats. He wound up his Cherry Hill-Philadelphia engagement June 22, opens in Del Mar, California, June 28.

Jonathan Harris, who's fictionally been roaming the world as Michael Rennie's sidekick in the perapetietic "Third Man" series, will be taking on a more stable identity next fall when he'll be more or less desk-bound on "The Bill Dana" NBC show. Harris will portray a hotel manager. Dana is recreating his beloved "Jose Jimenez" character . . . and Jose will work as a bellhop.

"It's love," says the "Beverly Hillbillies" granny, Irene Ryan, "when she'll listen to him describe a baseball game and he'll listen to her describe a new dress."

One of the busiest actors in Hollywood these days is James Franciscus. He's currently working on the film, "Youngblood Hawke" for Warners, will start shooting shortly for "Mr. Novak", forthcoming NBC series in which he plays the title role.

Show 10 Yrs. Old, Still 'Experiment'

"Camera Three"—still described as an "experimental series" is celebrating its tenth anniversary on the CBS Television Network (Sundays 11:00 a. m.).

Reason for the four-week long observance is that the series, in the decade of existence, has had four producers . . . will feature one program by each of the four: Robert Herridge, Lewis F[illegible]man, John McGiffert and Clair Roskam (the present producer).

Ambition of the star of "The Red Skelton Hour" when he was in his teens was to train wild animals; he became a clown instead.

Jo Stafford Show Slated August 18

In mid-August (the 18th) a special "Jo Stafford Show" will preempt "The Real McCoys" and "True," 9:00-10:00 p. m. on CBS for the one night only. Appearing with the celebrated songstress will be Bob Hope and James Darren.

Bob Hope also has a "Special" coming up early in his new fall NBC series. It's "Ivan Denisovich," a very serious story of Russian prisoners fighting for survival in the desolation of Siberia. Hope will introduce, but not appear, in this dramatic offering.

And finally, looking well ahead, December 9 has been set by CBS as the date for presenting a 90-minute version of Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler" with some of the major stars of films and theatre taking part. Ingrid Bergman plays the title role. Sir Michael Redgrave will appear in the role of George Tesman, Sir Ralph Richardson will portray Judge Brack and Trevor Howard (Emmy winner for his 1963 "Disraeli" interpretation) will appear as Ejlert Lovborg.

King (Alan, That Is) To Appear Before Queen

Alan King will be bowing low to the Queen on July 3 . . . and there's nothing funny about it. For the second time he has been chosen to appear for a Royal Command Performance before Queen Elizabeth II in Glasgow.

The all-American comedian, through his frequent appearances on the BBC, has become a great favorite with English audiences.

Swimming Around The Channels

And away we go . . . this time it's all the way to Australia for "The Jackie Gleason Show: The American Scene Magazine." It's not an in-person visitation, though, at least not yet. What the Down Under viewers will be seeing is a recap of the 30 shows presented to U. S. viewers for the 1962-63 season.

CBS's international vice president made it clear that this was an expensive proposition, it's experimental and "no profit is foreseen at the moment."

Andy Williams is really getting around on club dates while his Thursday night NBC Emmy winner is running repeats. He wound up his Cherry Hill-Philadelphia engagement June 22, opens in Del Mar, California, June 28.

Jonathan Harris, who's fictionally been roaming the world as Michael Rennie's sidekick in the perapetietic "Third Man" series, will be taking on a more stable identity next fall when he'll be more or less desk-bound on "The Bill Dana" NBC show. Harris will portray a hotel manager. Dana is recreating his beloved "Jose Jimenez" character . . . and Jose will work as a bellhop.

"It's love," says the "Beverly Hillbillies" granny, Irene Ryan, "when she'll listen to him describe a baseball game and he'll listen to her describe a new dress."

One of the busiest actors in Hollywood these days is James Franciscus. He's currently working on the film, "Youngblood Hawke" for Warners, will start shooting shortly for "Mr. Novak", forthcoming NBC series in which he plays the title role.

Show 10 Yrs. Old, Still 'Experiment'

"Camera Three"—still described as an "experimental series" is celebrating its tenth anniversary on the CBS Television Network (Sundays 11:00 a. m.).

Reason for the four-week long observance is that the series, in the decade of existence, has had four producers . . . will feature one program by each of the four: Robert Herridge, Lewis Freedman, John McGiffert and Clair Roskam (the present producer).

Ambition of the star of "The Red Skelton Hour" when he was in his teens was to train wild animals; he became a clown instead.
